ATTACKS IRISH HOME RULE BILL

Tells of Anti-English Feeling in U. S. and Loyalty of Irish-Americans

DUBLIN, March 4.—Sharp criticism of the new Irish home rule bill was expressed by Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Dublin convention at a welcome home dinner given in his honor here tonight by the Irish Dominion League. During his address Sir

IRISH BOND CAMPAIGN WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

The 500 collectors who have been working for the past two weeks to raise Lowell's quota of $50,000 in the Irish bond campaign have but one day more in which to complete their work because the executive committee in charge of the drive has set Sunday as the date for the official close of the campaign.

The workers still have several thousand dollars to go before the quota will be reached but present indications point to a heavy over-subscription by the time final reports are received. Today and tomorrow are being devoted to "clean-up" work on the part of the campaigners who are making a second trip through territory previously covered but not thoroughly combed of all possible subscriptions.

By closing its campaign Sunday Lowell will have established a record among the cities of the state as being the first to put across its quota. A number of cities, notably Haverhill, are just beginning to open the bond drives in their communities.

To Close Drive Sunday

It was at a meeting of the executive committee in charge of the drive held last evening at the campaign headquarters in the Howe building that the decision to close the drive on Sunday was reached. Chairman Stephen Flynn presided and the various officials connected with the campaign were present.

Whatever sum is realized by that time will be considered Lowell's total and next week will be devoted to the suburban towns. There is every reason to believe that the total will be well beyond the $50,000 quota mark by that time. If this proves true, Lowell will have established the enviable record of having secured her quota a week before her allotted time had expired, because the state campaign officials have given until St. Patrick's day to finish the work.

The parish teams are still maintaining a close rivalry for first place honors in the amount of bond sales. St. Patrick's, St. Peter's and the immaculate Conception parish are in the

LABORERS GET INCREASE

$4.50 a Day For Men of the Street and Health Departments

Laborers in the street and health departments will receive an increase in wages to $4.50 per day, according to authoritative information coming from city hall today. The wages will be retroactive to March 1.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy was to have told the Municipal Employees' union today what decision he had reached on the petition of street laborers for a $5 per day wage, but Mr. Murphy went to Boston this forenoon and could not be reached. However, it is understood that an increase from $4.02 to $4.50 per day is to be granted the men in this department and immediately as Mayor Perry D. Thompson said that he would grant the men in the health department whatever the others got, it is assumed they will also come in on the $4.50 increase.

The mayor and Commissioner Murphy have been studying out their finances during the past few days in an endeavor to see just what increase they could give their men. It was learned at the mayor's office today that he had practically decided on $4.50 per day and from this information it may be justifiably concluded that Commissioner Murphy has reached the same decision.

Police and firemen have already been assured of a $5 wage while Commissioner Marchand has not yet announced his decision relative to the 15 per cent. increase request of the carpenters in his department.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICE IN LOCAL MILL

Standing and sitting around their weaving machines, but with the flying shuttles stilled, upwards of 200 operatives of the Massachusetts mills this noon were present at a brief service conducted by Evangelist George T. Stephens and a number of his party in Room 12 at 12.30 o'clock. The meeting was unique among religious services in Lowell, although the evangelist made no attempt to preach and gave over most of the half-hour to music.

Cornet solos by Henry James, piano selections by Mr. Young and songs by Mr. Bittkofer featured the meeting. In one or two of the song numbers, however, the men and women were asked to join and they did with a will. Dr. Stephens expressed his appreciation of the opportunity offered him to come to the mill by Agent William A. Mitchell and hoped he would have other chances to spend a cheerful hour with them. A show of hands gave sure proof that the evangelist will be welcome at any time.

There was no meeting at the tabernacle this afternoon, but the building will be open for service at 7.30 o'clock tonight as usual.

Payment of Lump Sum Urged Before House Ways and Means Committee

Sperry Opposes Proposals For Adjusted Compensation For War Heroes

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Payment of a lump sum of $500 to each person who served in the military or naval forces of the United States, was urged before the house ways and means committee today by Marvin Gates Sperry, national president of the Private Soldiers and Sailors' Legion.

He opposed proposals of representatives of other soldier organizations for adjusted compensation varying from $30 to $50, for every month of service, and said the services of four million young Americans never could be paid for by "the skimping, miserly additional compensation bills pending before congress."

"The $500 grant," he told the committee, "would not be paid for time."

CANADIAN SILVER EXCHANGE AT PAR

A number of local merchants and storekeepers are having considerable difficulty in getting rid of Canadian silver given them by customers owing to the impression which has gained credence that this money is worth less than the value it is supposed to represent.

It is true that Canadian paper money or notes are worth less than par at the present time but this does not apply to Canadian silver, according to officials of the Union National bank. All silver is being exchanged at par at the bank at the present time although the notes have depreciated 14 cents on the dollar.

Many storekeepers explain that they take in considerable Canadian money during the day but when they attempt to put it into circulation again their customers object on the theory that they will lose a few cents on each coin they take. Especial difficulty has been experienced in attempting to put Canadian half dollars into circulation. Customers complain that they are receiving only 10 odd cents instead of 50 when they are given such coins as part of their change, but this is not so. The bank officials are willing to exchange the silver at par.

ALLIES GET WILSON'S NOTE

Reply to Latest Communication of Allied Premiers Arrives "Over There"

Will Be Delivered to Earl Curzon by Ambassador, Davis

LONDON, March 5.—President Wilson's note in reply to the latest communication of the allied premiers on the Adriatic question, reached the American embassy here today. It will be delivered to Earl Curzon, the foreign secretary, this afternoon.

Ambassador Davis probably will hand the note in person to Lord Curzon. The instructions sent with the note from Washington contains no mention of arrangements for its publication.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The rejoinder of President Wilson at the last note of the French and British premiers on the Adriatic situation was placed on the cables last night, and today was in the hands of American diplomatic agents in Europe. The message probably will be decoded today and laid before the premiers.

The state department declined to make public the contents of the note or intimate the position the president had taken on the proposal contained in the recent Anglo-French communication.

FAMILY OF FIVE NEEDS $35 A WEEK TO LIVE

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 5.—A family of man, wife and three children cannot live on less than $35 a week and the minimum probably should be $40, according to a statement by John J. Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, here today.

Few mill workers have anything left after their bills are paid under the present rates, he declared.

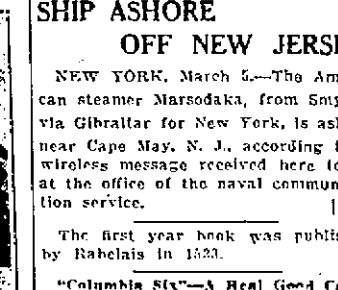

He looks forward to a busy season for workers and mills, with no letup during the summer months.

Following his conference with the heads of the textile locals here last night, Mr. Golden met Agent H. F. Straw of the American, this morning to discuss technical grievances of the workers, relating to hours of labor and pay on special work. He said the results of the conference were satisfactory. This afternoon he leaves for Portland, Me.

Strikers Seek To Eliminate System of Individual Contracts

BEVERLY, March 5.—A strike of employees of the United Shoe Machinery Co. began today. Apparently on a time signal, operatives left their benches and machines at 9 a. m. and within a few minutes the shops which employ 6200 persons had lost many workers. The union, which seeks to eliminate a system of individual contracts, claims a membership of 4200.

The walkout was effected without disturbance. The plant continued in operation, and company officials said there was no indication that a suspension of work

TRAVEL ON RUNNERS IS PRECARIOUS VENTURE

Snow and ice have melted away and have been chopped up so fast on downtown streets during the past 48 hours that travel on runners has been reduced to a minimum. In fact, in many places nothing but the bare pavement remains to catch and hold fast any driver who attempts to continue the use of puns or sleds.

Such a condition is precarious for persons traveling in from suburban towns, where runners still have the call, for the chances are excellent that they will become stalled on the pavements if carrying any sort of load.

These are but minor incidents, however, of the thaw which continued last night during comparatively high temperatures. Snow in all parts of the city is steadily decreasing in height and the ice on the streets and sidewalks has become softened enough to allow for cutting and removal.

The Merrimack river shows no signs yet of breaking up, although the ice above the Pawtucket dam is wearing away on the under side. In some places on the basin above the falls, where the Cape Co. harvested two months ago, the ice has been measured to a depth of 25 inches within a week or two. This will withstand a lot of continuous melting before getting to the breaking-up stage.

No official reports have been received from Manchester and Concord by the Locks and Canals, although it is rumored that New Hampshire people are viewing an impending freshet with grave concern.

RAPID COAL DELIVERY

B. & M. Placed 38 Cars of Soft Fuel Yesterday—Tracks Well Thawed Out

The Boston & Maine did its best day's work in placing cars of soft coal to consignees yesterday that has been accomplished locally for several weeks. Thirty-eight cars were set, leaving only approximately 25 standing on side tracks. Most of these will be placed before nightfall today and for the first time in many days the road will be abreast of the demands as far as coal delivery is concerned.

Very little coal is coming into the city, however, either soft or hard. Eight cars of soft coal rolled in last night, but none of anthracite.

The local office of the American Railway Express is beginning to see the bottom of the huge pile of packages which has completely filled the express sheds at the depot and overflowed onto the station platform during the recent weeks. Embargoes continue to appear, however, and this morning one was put on all New Haven shipments consigned to any office in Connecticut or Rhode Island. The New Haven road is still in a congested freight and express condition over its southern New England lines and the embargo will remain in force until some relief is felt.

Local city express deliveries are being made more expeditiously today than for some time and the company feels that the peak of the congestion has passed. The railroad feels the same way and officials expect a return to normal conditions within another week.

JAP TROOPS QUIT SIBERIA

Japan Decides To Abandon Siberian Expedition in Line With American Policy

First Detachment To Leave Vladivostok on March 20, Says Report

HONOLULU, March 4.—The Japanese government has decided to abandon the Siberian expedition in line with the American policy, according to a cable message from Tokyo received today by Shinnpo, a Japanese language newspaper here.

The first detachment of Japanese troops will leave Vladivostok March 20, simultaneously with the departure of the last Czech-Slovak troops, the message said.

The Soviet government's peace offer to Japan, according to the cablegram, asks recognition of Lenin's de facto government and resumption of full diplomatic relations, promises to end terrorism simultaneously with allied acquiescence with the offer and to recognize Japan's special rights in Siberia.

A cablegram from Tokyo January 20, said all Japanese troops in Siberia would be withdrawn "upon the accomplishment of the main purpose for which they were despatched to Russia," according to a "fundamental Siberian policy" promulgated by the Japanese imperial diplomatic council.

RECORD BALL OF TWINE MADE OF WASTE

CINCINNATI—Oscar Fisher, letter carrier, saved all the little pieces of twine which he came across in his work about the postoffice, and in two years he had rolled up the ball shown in the above picture. His present combined piece would stretch many miles.

VARNUM AVE. MUST WAIT

Home Rule Committee Learns Zone Extension Not Feasible at Present

The amount of traffic on the Varnum avenue line of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. is not sufficient to warrant the extension of the central fare zone from the Lowell General hospital to the end of the line, according to Manager Thomas Lees of the Lowell district of the company, who told members of the railway "home rule" committee at their meeting in the mayor's reception room at city hall late yesterday afternoon that the company could not afford to make any zone extensions at the present time owing to the large amount of revenue it must raise to cope with the cost of removing snow this winter.

Residents of Lawrenceville last week had approached the home rule committee on the matter, pointing out that patrons of the Varnum avenue line were obliged under the present system to pay an extra fare to ride from the hospital to the end of the line whereas other lines, much longer in length, cost but one fare. The matter was brought up at yesterday's meeting, but met with little enthusiasm from Manager Lees.

Otherwise, yesterday's meeting was purely routine. It was called at 4.20. Chairman John J. O'Rourke was absent and John E. Sullivan was appointed temporary chairman.

Manager Lees submitted a communication from Homer Loring, chairman of the trustees of the railway company, relative to the suggestion made at the last meeting of the committee that fare tickets costing 50 cents and allowing eight rides be put into effect as well as the present 15 rides for a dollar system. The trustees believed that the matter should be taken under advisement until the summer cars are put in operation in this city. It is believed that tickets of this nature would lead to confusion on the new style cars.

On motion of Mr. Richard the letter was accepted and placed on file. Manager Lees then presented a table showing the distances from Merrimack square to the ends of the various zones on the city lines for future reference by the committee.

Mr. Sullivan asked Mr. Lees if any action had been taken relative to the restoration of the waiting room in Merrimack square. Mr. Lees said that he had talked to Mr. McCord of Carter & Sherburne's, but without success. He said that the company couldn't afford to hire a store for a waiting room, but would probably be willing to bear part of the expense if some concern could be induced to use part of the space for commercial purposes.

Secretary Curtin moved that a subcommittee be appointed to look into the matter and Messrs. O'Rourke, Carney and Curtin were appointed on motion of Mr. Sullivan.

Mr. Curtin then brought up the Varnum avenue matter and it was discussed at length, but Mr. Lees said that he was sure that the trustees would not be willing to grant any extensions of zones on any line until some of the half million dollars lost by the storms of the present winter had been recovered. He said that the Varnum avenue line was one of the "lightest" in the city. The extension of the zone limit, he said, would decrease the company's revenue.

Secretary Curtin said that he believed the committee should decide on some regular meeting days so that members wouldn't be notified only a few hours in advance of each meeting. It was finally voted that hereafter the committee meet the second and fourth Thursday of every month at 4 p. m. Mr. Richard suggested that the secretary send a postal card to each of the members on the preceding Monday to "jog" their memories and it was so voted. Manager Lees said the company would "pay for the postals."

Mrs. Burke wanted to know if it was the business of the conductor in a car to tell people to move up forward when the car is crowded.

Manager Lees said it was, most decidedly, and that it was part of the rules and regulations which each conductor is given when he enters the service. Mrs. Burke said she felt some of the men had been lax about the matter during the heavy traffic this winter and the result had caused considerable inconvenience to patrons.

Mr. Sullivan asked if anything had been done relative to later car service on Sunday nights and Mr. Lees said that a schedule maker from Boston had been called to Lowell and will take up the matter at once.

Toward the end of the meeting, Manager Lees said that in accordance with the promise made by the trustees to the city council that when the jitney ordinance went into effect fares would be reduced on the Chelmsford Centre and North Chelmsford lines, beginning next Sunday the fare on these lines will be 12½ cents with tickets instead of the 15-cent fare previously in vogue. The new fare will not allow transfer privileges, however.

The Tyngsboro line will be re-opened just as soon as the snow and ice there are cleared away. Mr. Lees said he understood that the residents of that town were to have a "dig-out" day next Saturday and that the line would probably be restored soon after.

Adjourned at 5.20 until March 25.

"MADE IN AMERICA"

Our Dyes Used by Medical Research Libraries

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Medical research libraries in this country in their search for a tuberculosis specific or cure for any other disease, are no longer dependent upon German made dyes. "Made in America" dyes are now being used. They give as good results as did imported dyes used before the war.

This announcement was made at the Henry Phipps Institute, where laboratory experiments developed that certain dyes localized themselves in tuberculosis tissue. Efforts are being made to modify these dyes with other chemical agents that will kill the tuberculosis germs.

Trypan red dyes have been found to give the best results. As many as 75 modifications of this dye have been used in experimentation. Other reds and some blues have also been used. The staining qualities act as guide to the localization.

WOMEN PREPARE WAR AGAINST PRICE PIRATES

BY MAX STERN,

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The H. U. of A.—Here is a combination of letters to make food tyrants tremble. It stands for "Housewives Union of America," and is looked upon here as the logical, certain and rapid outgrowth of the present Housewives' league.

Over 5000 militant mothers and wives have quit talking and are using their one big weapon—organized buying power. Controlling the household budget, these women have been swinging the boycott with such telling effect that the movement has spread all over California. There are now over a score of "unions" in as many cities and towns. A statewide federation is under way, and at the present momentum the Housewives' league promises soon to become national.

Although they are adopting a legislative program and will not hesitate to wield their political power if necessary, the California movement is largely economic. If after a thorough investigation by experts, a firm, or a food combine is found to be profiteering a boycott is promptly slipped on the article and the patronage of the "union" goes to the concern that sells at a fair profit.

So far this method has been unflinching in bringing the gougers to surrender. On the constructive side the women are prepared, if feasible, to go into business direct with the farmers and they are looking into the co-operative movement with open minds.

The league idea started six months ago in Berkeley, where the State university is located, among a group of mothers a number of whom were professors' wives. So successful were these women in fighting the "milk trust" and breaking a "bakers' combine" that the movement spread quickly to Oakland and then to San Francisco. Here they are organizing district clubs in churches. Their central "union" meets fortnightly under the very dome of the city hall and the "city mothers' placid, but determined, swing their economic weapons from chairs that on other days are occupied by the "city dais" when they make the laws.

So far the mothers and wives have been more successful in curbing high prices than either the city administration or the federal authorities. There are some of the things they have already done in four months:

Made war upon the "milk combine" resulting in the grocers of the city

Have adopted Herbert Hoover's creed, and are pledged to "save, save, save."

Boycott on Bread

A year ago the San Francisco dairymen's organization was locked in loving embrace with the distributors' ring and the people paid whatever these two combines decreed. Today, largely as the result of the fight the women have made, the two are at odds, and the dairymen are furnishing the grocers with cheap milk to break the distributors' ring.

In Berkeley and Oakland the bakers' combine announced a rise in bread prices from 15 to 17 cents a loaf. At once the phones got busy and into a thousand homes flashed the order "Don't buy 17 cent bread." In a week the bakers noticed that they were selling little bread, but that a number of the "small fellows" who were still selling at 15 cents were loaded down with business. In two weeks they were on their knees, and the 17 cent order was rescinded.

To Cut Milk Price

In the same way the mothers prevented milk going from 15 cents to 16 cents a quart.

In Berkeley they have an investigation committee upon which are a number of university scientists who gave their time gratis to help get at the facts. For instance when the "milk trust" was discovered throwing skim milk down the sewer to keep up the price, the Berkeley mothers put out a report that skim milk is too valuable food for humans to be even fed to hogs.

But California women are only started. They are now circulating a petition to the governor to include in a proposed special call of the legislature the matter of anti-profiteering laws.

They are planning to storm the supervisors again for a measure aimed at rent profiteers.

They plan a "rent bureau" to help housewives to pick the most economical dwelling place.

Co-operate With Officials

The housewives keep in close touch with the federal district attorney and complain to her, for in California that official is Mrs. Annette Adams, of any flagrant individual cases of profiteering. In general, however, the movement does not rely so much upon the courts as upon the economic power vested in the women's control of the household budget.

A committee of the women is also looking into the co-operative store movement that has gained in the west to a considerable extent.

Last year he won the junior national rifle shoot, which is held annually under the auspices of the Winchester Junior Rifle corps, a boys' service organization. Here he threw a tin can on the ground and kept it rolling with bullets from his splitting automatic.

DENOUNCES SOCIALISTS

Lawyer Conboy Demands
Expulsion on Grounds
That They Are "Traitors"

ALBANY, N. Y., March 5.—Expulsion of the five suspended socialist members of the New York state assembly, who have been under investigation by the judiciary committee, on the ground that they are "traitors," was demanded by Martin Conboy, summing up the case against the legislators yesterday. Mr. Conboy insisted that the charges against the five men have been proved. "I feel confident of the determination which you gentlemen shall reach, because I believe that with me instead of the cry 'Long live the international council of the proletarians' you will say, 'Long live the United States of America,'" was Mr. Conboy's closing paragraph of a six-hour address. Spectators in the assembly chamber applauded loudly as Mr. Conboy completed his remarks. Seymour Steadman will sum up for the socialist assemblymen today, while former Senator Elton R. Brown is expected to say the last word for the prosecution next Tuesday.

That the socialist party "is composed of perpetual traitors," that its members, sworn to uphold its policies, must take the oath of office in the legislature "with a lie on their lips and in their hearts," and that the party "is trying to bring about a revolution in this country" were among charges made by Mr. Conboy.

Challenging remarks by Morris Hillquit, chief counsel for the defense, early in the investigation that the socialists "would walk out of the chamber in humiliation if it were proven that the party had advocated and urged its members to refrain from taking part in the war in any shape or manner," Mr. Conboy asserted that this charge has been proven and that the "socialists have not left the chamber."

Mr. Conboy directed the committee's attention to what occurred during remarks by Mr. Hillquit in summing up for the defense yesterday as "one of the most complete, frank, unblushing threats of the use of industrial mass action."

"Under the veil of a smile a threat was employed that if you gentlemen conclude that these five socialist assemblymen should not sit in this chamber as members of this assembly, a general strike might be called," Mr. Conboy declared. "The threat carries itself further. You must not only admit them but you must take their legislative program and enact it into law; otherwise the general strike will again be employed. It can be utilized in like fashion to impose upon the people of the United States the form of government that the adherents to and expounders of the general strike desire the people to have."

Mr. Conboy quoted from the socialist constitution to bear out his statement that "these five assemblymen present themselves at the door of this chamber, not as representatives of the thousands of voters who cast their ballots for their election, but as proxies for a small group of dues-paying members, in no case exceeding 600 in number, many of whom are aliens, some of whom are minors, all of whom are disloyal."

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.—Adv.

BUY and SAVE

Here is the best reason why you should buy clothing here, now, while our low prices prevail

At the conclusion of a conference at the Department of Justice in Washington, presided over by Assistant Attorney General Figg and participated in by manufacturers, retailers and labor interests of the men's clothing industry, it was stated there was no hope for cheaper clothes for men.

(From the Daily Trade Record)
WASHINGTON SERVICE

Justice Officials Give Up Hope of
Prices.

Department of Justice officials in charge of the government campaign to reduce the cost of necessities have apparently become reconciled to the fact that the public will have to pay yet higher prices for their wearing apparel, and are turning their attention toward the task of making the further increases the public still is to experience, the peak. The investigation made by the department has convinced officials that fall prices are to be much higher than present prices, that they cannot expect to reduce these prices below or even to present price levels.

OPPOSES "MONEY HAND OUT" TO EX-SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Flat opposition to financial relief legislation for former service men, the first to be expressed by a former soldier, was asserted yesterday before the house ways and means committee by Walter W. Burns of Green Point, N. Y., a former artillery captain.

A "money hand-out" to the former service men, he said, "would simply be money thrown away."

Practically no former soldiers or sailors are without employment, Burns said, adding that most of them do not know the effect the payment of a bonus would have. Outstanding government obligations would depreciate if a bond issue were authorized, Burns said.

All soldiers would take a money grant if congress authorized it, he told the committee. Representative Rainey, democrat, Illinois, replied that this was true even to members of congress "who talk and vote against salaries and mileage allotments but always take the money."

Burns contended that the satisfaction of having fought to defend the country was sufficient reward.

"If the war had continued two weeks more every American soldier would have been so tickled, they would not want any bonus," he added.

Representative Gardner, democrat, Texas, said not a former service man in his district had written in favor of the proposed financial relief.

"They don't know you are in congress, then," a representative of a soldier organization seated in the committee room interjected.

Even the American Legion is divided on the question, Burns said, adding that he was a member of that organization and had talked with many others opposed to the legion's plans. Those who need a bonus would squander it and those who don't need it would put it in the bank, he argued.

Attacks Irish Home Rule Bill

Horace, who has just returned from the United States gave his impressions of the American attitude toward Ireland. A large number of persons prominent in Irish affairs attended the dinner.

"Long before the war broke out," he said, "I was convinced the peace of the world and the orderly progress, if not the survival of western civilization depended more than on any other one thing, on mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of free nations—a term I prefer to the British empire—and the great republic of the west. How far Germany flattered Armageddon with an eye on Ulster let historians say. But it is a matter of personal knowledge that from 1911 the Prussian government was organizing a German-Irish alliance in American politics with a view to the coming attack upon the world's freedom."

Loyalty of Irish-Americans

"I have not the least doubt that, supposing the Irish trouble had nothing to do with the beginning of the war, it was an important factor in delaying America's decisive participation in the struggle. To the same cause was due a great deal of the political embarrassment to the war administration in Washington. I remember the question being actually raised whether the American navy could wisely utilize Ireland as its base of operations. Though, happily, strategic considerations overruled political objections, only the splendid loyalty to America of Irish-Americans counteracted the deep resentment caused by contrasts all too easily drawn between the treatment of the northeast corner and the rest of our country in conflicts with the British government."

War Alms Hypocrites

"Notwithstanding governmental control of news which was unprecedented in the history of the British people, which to their honor let it be said they have hitherto set a shining example to the world respecting freedom of opinion, Ireland has become increasingly during the last decade, the final proof to every enemy of England and America that British aims in war and peace are mere hypocrites, where they profess to have any regard whatsoever for the liberty of small nationalities."

"The British people, the British parliament and all the British government know this. Now and again some prominent politician wins cheers by telling America to mind her own business, and talking about her negro question. If we had as many negroes in this country as the Americans have Irish in theirs, and if these colored people possessed the franchise here, we should be no more silent about that problem than the Americans are about Ireland."

Milder Anti-English Feeling in U. S.

"I agree that it is undesirable for any alien legislative body or official representatives of an alien government to indulge in official utterances or actions of such nature, but what these people or bodies rightly or wrongly may say or do, is of infinitely small importance compared with what the people in the mass think."

"In America I found more bitter anti-English feeling than in all my 10 years of observation. As usual, although due to many other causes, it was tangled up with the Irish trouble, and was generally expressed in what I may call Irish terms. Americans do not bother themselves with details. They want Ireland to have as large a measure of self-government as is consistent with the safety of the British empire, for which they in calmer moments recognize they are almost as much concerned as are the British. They wish to give the minority, particularly Ulster, ample security from any possible even if improbable, oppression by the majority of the Irish people, who differ from Ulster in economic outlook."

Veto Power to Ulster

"In my judgment America does not want Ireland to be an independent republic, but until the British government ceases to break its promises to Ireland, the sentiment of America will be that the Irish people are justified in asking anything they like."

Sir Horace criticized the home rule bill because it gave Ulster and a minority of not more than one-fifth of the Irish people, a "virtual mandatory over Ireland—a mandatory without responsibility."

"If the southern parliament took the trouble to be born," he concluded, "it would probably christen itself a republic, and be immediately carried out by its indignant nurse. Ireland would then present, as a monument to British statesmanship, the spectacle of martial law over the greater part of a country that demands home rule, and home rule in the northeast corner, which never asked for it."

GOV. COOLIDGE SOUNDS WARNING TO LABOR

BOSTON, March 5.—Governor Coolidge sounded a warning to labor last evening when he declared to the members of Williams Alumni association of Boston at their 53d annual dinner in the Exchange club, that any attempt at domination by leaders in labor organizations will be outlawed by the people of the country.

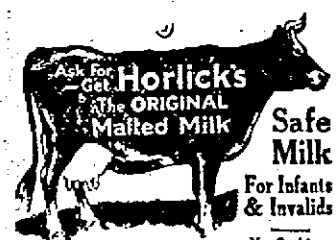

Business, he said, which had been hampered for the past 20 years, should be aware of the significance in the recent decision of the United States supreme court which declared by a vote of 4 to 3 that the steel trust was not an organization in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Among other observations of importance regarding the industrial situation the governor said: "For the past few years we have had an example of the other end of the scale, and instead of looking at business our attention was turned to employees."

"We had there an organization which has brought about great benefits to the country. They have been able to get increases in salaries, shorter hours, better working and living conditions for the great mass of American people, and they are entitled to a great deal of credit. And I do not believe there is a man here who does not hope to see them continue."

"But," he continued, "I think they need to take a lesson from big business." If a few men gain disrepute the result, he inferred, would be the same as that occurring to business interests some years ago. "We do not want to see organizations of employees brought into disfavor by the actions of their leaders, we want to see them go on and bring benefits and prosperity to the nation, he said."

STABBED FOUR TIMES BY HER ESCORT

BOSTON, March 5.—Because she refused to accompany her escort to a moving picture show and told him he was too intoxicated to escort her, Agnes Logan, a domestic employed at the home of Captain H. G. Armstrong, British consul-general at Boston, 259 Beacon street, was stabbed four times by the man and is in a serious condition at the City hospital.

The slashing occurred about 7.45 and created a furor on Beacon street. The girl screamed as she fled from her assailant. He pursued, slashing wildly at the girl.

Francis Costello of 155 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, and Patrick Coughlin, 9 Merion street, Charlestown, were passing and, attracted by the girl's screams, rushed to her aid. Her assailant then fled along Beacon street toward the Public Garden. The two men assisted the woman, who was weak from loss of blood, to the office of George W. Brewster, at 213 Beacon street.

Dr. Brewster at once notified the police of the Back Bay station. Miss Logan was too excited to tell the whole story while the physician was giving her first aid treatment. A police ambulance brought her to the City hospital. Here it was discovered that the wounds were not deep ones and probably inflicted with a pocket knife. She was slashed in the left side of the neck, under the ear.

The girl told the police the name of the man and an officer was sent to arrest him. The police would not make public his name last night.

PLAIN MANUFACTURE OF AMERICAN GOODS IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON.—A new company has been formed to arrange the manufacture of American goods in Great Britain for British and empire markets. It is stated by the American chamber of commerce in London.

With the growth of the movement for preferential arrangements among the countries making up the British empire, many American manufacturers already have considered it desirable to establish factories in Canada. The new company is working, however, on the presumption that the advantages of a factory in Great Britain are greater.

The American chamber understands that the new company will encourage and assist American manufacturers of successful commodities to establish plants in Great Britain, but where the American manufacturer is not interested in doing so and is willing to sell his manufacturing rights, the new company will undertake to find British or French manufacturers who will take over these rights. Similarly it will introduce into America goods which have proved successful in Great Britain or France.

The new company is understood to have received many inquiries from manufacturers on both sides of the Atlantic who are anxious to have their goods produced in the other country. The function of the new company is to bring such manufacturers together, its profits arising out of a percentage of the royalty or a lump sum payable for the patent or the process.

MICHIGAN IN GRIP OF MARCH BLIZZARD

DETROIT, Mich., March 5.—Michigan was in the grip of the March blizzard today. Heavy snowfall, high winds and near zero temperatures, were reported from various parts of the state.

Rail traffic was virtually tied up in the eastern part of the upper peninsula. Reports from Sault Ste Marie were that Canadian Pacific and Soo line trains were running 10 hours or more behind schedule, while all South Shore trains had been cancelled.

CHICAGO, March 5.—A book of rules for employees of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, circulated today, says:

"No male employee receiving less than $125 a month salary will be permitted to marry while in the service of this bank, without first taking the matter up with the chief clerk."

"The sum set in the book is the minimum on which an employee can risk a matrimonial venture," said C. R. McKay, vice governor of the bank, who added that the rule was "imperative."

"The bank officials believe $125 a month is the least on which two may live in these days," he said.

REPORTS OF MASSACRES GREATLY EXAGGERATED

PARIS, March 5.—The total number of Armenians who were victims in the massacre in the Marash region of Asiatic Turkey last month does not exceed 6000, according to detailed information received by French officials. Reports from London yesterday stated the number would be between 15,000 and 20,000.

French officials admit the gravity of the incident, but point out it was impossible to foresee and prevent the massacre, as the army of occupation is not large enough to furnish strong guards at every point where the Turks are likely to engage in an uprising.

THE OWL THEATRE

Capacity audiences, enthusiastic happy audiences were the rule at all of yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre. Doris Kenyon in "The Hand Box" from the novel by Louis Joseph Vance has a peppery melodrama that keeps going and old turned up to concert pitch from the first to the last reel. It's a strangely interesting melodrama, being the tale of how Doris Kenyon came face to face with a man, a "Good morning, Judge," when the police search a mysterious case for jewels. The added attraction, "The Clodhopper," a story of creeps and tears, featuring Charlie May, made a pronounced hit. But of course the laughing honors went to Charlie Chaplin in "The Rink." How Charlie ever escaped breaking his neck is a mystery, but then we should worry. Charlie survived and everybody enjoyed it. It's a great balance show, no movie fan should miss it. The performances are continuous, starting at 1 p. m. and night patrons arriving before 7.30 see the entire show.

RED PILLS are especially suited to women and young girls who are pale and thin, tired and nervous

Pale, Weak and Nervous

I was very nervous, pale, and so weak that I could not even digest my food right. The physician who was attending me had definitely told me that he did not expect to be able to cure me, but simply to give me relief. My case was called: "Nervous indigestion." Just one of my relatives still had confidence, for she was a fervent believer in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and finally persuaded me to give them a trial. I took them regularly and was pleased to notice a decided improvement after a few months of treatment. At the end of a year, my different ailments had gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. As my household duties are rather trying at times, I have resolved that I will take a couple of boxes of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women from time to time, just to keep my strength up.

RED PILLS, Her Friend for Fifteen Years

It is now fifteen years since I first became acquainted with RED PILLS, and I may safely say that they have been my salvation during that time. I was the mother of fifteen children, so that my daily duties were indeed very strenuous and at times trying. I was tired and feeling ill at ease. RED PILLS proved themselves once again, they helped me to regain my strength, saved me from any serious sickness and made me fit to attend properly to my various household duties.

RED PILLS, the Best Tonic

Being the mother of seven children, and having to attend to all the household duties, besides looking after my children, I naturally gave way and became weakened, and suffered severely from indigestion. Having so often read of the various cures effected by the use of RED PILLS, I decided to give them a trial, and after taking them for three months, I was delighted to notice that I was getting stronger and that my health was improving in many ways. Since that time I have firmly made up my mind that I will always take RED PILLS whenever I feel the need of a good tonic to build me up.—Mrs. J. BERUBE,

HOLLAND'S ANSWER ON DEMAND FOR KAISER

THE HAGUE, March 5.—Holland's answer to the second allied note relative to the extradition or internment of former Emperor William of Germany, will probably be handed Premier Lloyd George by the Dutch minister in London this week. Intimations have been given that The Netherlands government will express its willingness to guard the erstwhile monarch and prevent anything that might threaten the peace of Europe.

Night and day shifts are working on the Kaiser's new residence at Doorn, and it is reported he will move there from Amerongen on May 12. A high fence about the house at Doorn, to which objection was made, at first because it obstructed the public road, is now near completion, the authorities having waived opposition to the work.

A special trainload of furniture arrived at Doorn from Berlin several months ago, and recently five additional truckloads were received there. The building has been radically remodeled, half of the first floor being prepared for Count Hohenzollern's occupancy, while one of the wings will be given over to the former empress.

While unprotected by high walls or a moat, the Doorn estate is now in reality a 200-acre cage that can be easily guarded and within which the Dutch government expects William of Hohenzollern to spend the rest of his days.

SETTLEMENT NEAR

Symphony's Union and Trustees in Conference

BOSTON, March 5.—A settlement of the differences between the union players of the Boston Symphony orchestra and Judge Frederic Cabot, chairman of the board of trustees, is expected as a result of a conference yesterday between Judge Cabot and Arthur Berenson, attorney for the union players.

The settlement, it is believed, will be favorable to the union men, who are asking for recognition of their union and for a flat increase of $1000 per man.

SHE'S REAL AMERICAN PRINCESS

NEW LACE PATTERN DESIGN EVERY WEEK

MADRID—Spain has had not less than eight new governments with 50 ministerial changes in less than two years. Last year, alone saw four changes in cabinets with 44 ministerial changes. Virtually every one of these changes was due to the military juntas, or as they are called "constitutional committees."

These juntas were originally formed to fight favoritism and injustice in the army, the chief grievance of the members being that places on the general staff were allotted to favorites of the government of the day. One of the first actions of the juntas, which are presided over by the colonels, the highest ranking officers who are allowed to join, was to decide that none of the members should allow their names to be placed in nomination for places on the general staff.

The result would have been that after the deaths or retirement of the present members there would be no officers to form the staff. But 25 officers refused to be bound by this decision, with the result that they were hailed before courts of honor and their resignations from the army justified. Governments, under pressure from the liberal, socialist, and other progressive elements in the Cortes, have promised to revoke these

THE WORKING MAN Has Come to His Own

New York.—Merchant Tailors' Committee Favors $185 as Standard Price for Custom Made Suits.—As a result of the increased cost of materials and labor consumed in producing a custom made suit, Frank M. Prestwich, head of the house of Edouard, and chairman of the committee on selling prices of the Merchant Tailors' Society of New York, has recommended to that body that the standard selling price of a suit be placed at $185, as against the pre-war standard of $85.

This shows an increase in the selling price of 125 per cent.—against an increase in cost of 150 per cent. Other garments should be priced proportionately.

—From the Daily News Record.

A Fashionable Boston Tailor states that the best-dressed men in America today are not the scions of society, BUT THE SONS OF TOIL. And why not? Labor is learning to live. Taste is advancing with earning power—the man who produces a good part of the world's best things is beginning to feel that he ought to share in the enjoyment of them.

HE IS RIGHT—that's why wise employers are providing parking space for the cars of their factory hands.

But labor is following society only in the demand for quality—it will have none of society affectations or wasteful vanity shams. Your skilled mechanic and mill help want the best custom-tailored clothes—but he wants to pay only for the clothes—and not for a society tailor's label. He's not very keen for the idea of paying 100 per cent. premium for the privilege of wearing a Beacon Street, Boston, or Fifth Avenue, New York, tailor's trade-mark.

That's why the highly-paid worker is joining the hosts of smart business men, who are coming down here to Merrimack Square for their clothes.

False pride is not keeping him a way from this wholesale plant where I don't charge you extra for the name MITCHELL, THE TAILOR, but I save you $10 to $15 or more on the finest line of woollens it has ever been my pleasure to own.

decisions of the courts of honor, but found it difficult to do so for the juntas threatened to withdraw their support from the government. In other words, should an emergency arise such as a revolution or social war, the army would be leaderless.

Thus the juntas, became a political force, which opposed radical legislation and otherwise interfered in affairs of state. They are really a great fraternal society, the members of which accept orders, only from the presiding colonels in all affairs of the army, ignoring those of king, generals and government.

To dissolve these juntas the Cortes must pass a bill to repeal the act which legalized them, and the moment that is done, every infantry officer, who obeys the orders of his junta, must resign from the army.

Sooner or later the new cabinet must face a debate on the "military question." This has, since the intervention of the juntas in politics, each time led to the downfall of the ministry.

King Alfonso's name has invariably been left out of the discussion but it is said that the officers induced him to support the organization and his action recently in attending a big banquet given at Toledo by the infantry officers has lent color to the report.

THREE EMBASSIES FROM THRACE ARE TOURING THIS COUNTRY

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Three embassies from Thrace are touring this country to assist in the explanation of the position of the Greek inhabitants of Thracian territory surrendered under the peace treaty by Bulgaria and Turkey. They are members of the Thracian commission to the United States.

The members of the mission are Angeles Constantine, secretary, Smyrna; Dr. Panayotis Nicolopoulos, University of Paris; Nicholas Kallikas, Constantinople; Dr. Paterlogios Georgian, National University of Greece.

In Philadelphia they spoke in churches of various denominations and at luncheons arranged in their honor.

UNCLE SAM, M.D.

Health Service Says, "Don't Use Toothpicks"

To use a tooth pick is generally to be condemned as in its use many persons injure the delicate gum tissue which extends in a crescent-shaped mass between the teeth. The preservation of this tissue is very desirable. Dental floss is very valuable in cleansing the surface between the teeth.

To use floss with benefit, draw it carefully through between the teeth with a pulling motion, and when it is freely movable, draw it carefully back and forth over all the surfaces between the teeth, but do not force it beneath the gum margin.

The use of a dentifrice is desirable, and there is no particular choice in the selection of one except that it should not be gritty. In this case it would be too harsh for continuous use; there are very few, if any, which can be said to be harmful.

The thorough rinsing of the mouth and a gargling of the throat will complete a rational mouth toilet, and this can be easily accomplished in two minutes. It is advisable to follow these procedures upon arising, and it is of special advantage to cleanse the mouth just before retiring, as it is during the period of rest that bacteria are most active.

Answered

Q. What is the cause of headaches above the eyes?

A. More than a dozen different conditions might cause such headaches, and only a careful medical examination can determine which. Be sure, therefore, to consult your physician and have such an examination made.

Q. Is nervousness due to excitement or the condition of the system?

A. Both are factors, but the condition of the system is usually the more important. Nervousness is often merely a symptom of a grave, underlying disorder, and should lead, therefore, to a careful examination by a physician.

Q. Do fallen arches cause nervousness, and pain in the back near the spine?

A. Sometimes they do, but persistent nervousness is a symptom which demands a careful examination by a qualified physician.

Q. What causes dark circles under the eyes, even after a good night's rest? I do not drink. Could it be caused by moving pictures, which I attend frequently?

A. It is not likely that attendance at moving pictures is responsible. You do not say anything about other habits or practices which might be responsible.

Q. Is there such a thing as catarrh of the stomach? Can you give me the address of a physician who is a specialist in this disease? Does a cough always come from the lungs, or are there other causes? Is acid stomach treated the same as catarrh of the stomach?

A. Catarrh of the stomach is a well-recognized condition, due to a variety of causes. Speak to your family physician and, if desired, have him give you the name of a specialist. There are a number of causes of cough other than disease of the lungs. A very common cause is some inflammation of the larynx. Chronic nasal catarrh and elongation of the uvula are other common causes.

LONDON—"It is time that London grew up," declares the London Evening News, a new convert to the idea that it is time for London authorities to consider seriously whether taller

"Well-built skyscraper flats and office buildings would be a boon to Londoners and there is no reason why we should not be as happy in them as New Yorkers are in theirs," adds the paper.

LONDON, March 5.—No messages were received from Portugal today by the Portuguese legation here concerning reports of a revolution. POLICE WANT ONE
DAY OFF IN EIGHT

One of the petitions coming before the municipal council in the next future, according to well founded city hall rumor, is a request from members of the local police department that they be granted one day off in eight with pay. A similar petition was presented the council last summer but was not granted. In the meantime the policemen devoted their efforts to securing a $5 per day wage and now that this has been won the one day off in eight is again coming to the fore. According to those intimately connected with the department's administration the police will again present their petition within a few weeks and ask for favorable consideration. At the present time members of the force have one day off in 15, this being granted several years ago.

Action on Colby's Nomination Deferred

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Action on the nomination of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state, again was deferred by the senate foreign relations committee today, after members had objected to taking any vote until they had more information.

Decision to let the question of confirmation go over was said to have been reached by general consent of both democrats and republicans. Senators who were at the meeting said that while no definite charges had been filed, and no formal investigation decided upon, it was the general opinion that certain matters should be cleared up before the committee made any recommendation.

Missing Actor-Aviator Found

LONDON, March 5.—Robert Lorraine, the actor-aviator, for whose safety considerable uneasiness has been felt, landed with his pilot, Comte, at Marburg, Germany, last night, according to advices received by way of Bern. BAR PERSONAL SEARCH FOR LIQUOR

BOSTON, March 5.—Weary travellers in an arid land and furtive carriers of mysterious bundles may breathe a sigh of relief as a result of a ruling of United States Commissioner Hayes made yesterday afternoon. He declared that he doubts the right of the police to stop and search wayfarers who may be slipping from dark spot to dark spot bearing mementos of the late John Barleycorn.

This ray of hope for thirsty wanderers broke unexpectedly from the evidence in the case of Albert Collins, of 23 Hanson street and Orin Raphael, of 21 Warren street. They were arraigned with due formality charged with unlawfully transporting two quarts of whiskey.

Raphael, who is a veteran of the famous 5th Marines and recently discharged from the hospital, was walking along a Boston street with a companion when he fell in with a policeman. Raphael had a bag. The policeman had suspicions.

Stopped in their progress, Raphael and Collins told the policeman that the bag was innocent of contraband. The policeman's intuitive instinct was aroused. He followed, insisted that the bag be opened, found the whiskey and arrested its custodians.

When the case came before the commissioner, he reviewed the evidence, made his decision and ordered Raphael and Collins discharged.

MONTHLY MEETING

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting of Middlesex North Pomona grange held this afternoon in Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street. The meeting was presided over by the master, Mrs. Alice Colburn of Dracut and the speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Arthur Gilbert of Boston, commissioner of agriculture, who delivered a very interesting and instructive address on "Agricultural Problems and How to Meet Them." MEDICAL TREATMENT FOR
EX-SERVICE MEN

John Brophy, in charge of the after-care work of the American Red Cross in this city, today expressed great appreciation of the article in yesterday's Sun regarding the opportunity for medical treatment and hospital care offered by the public health department to ex-service men during the year immediately following their date of discharge, but made one correction which is gladly printed herewith.

It was stated yesterday that only those ex-service men who carry war risk insurance are entitled to this care and treatment, but Mr. Brophy says the rulings of the public health service also include men who do not carry such insurance, thus giving the opportunity to every man who served either in the army or navy or marine corps.

PLAN REFORM OF
MOVING PICTURES

NEW YORK, March 5.—Reform of moving pictures is planned by the Presbyterian board of temperance and moral welfare, which announced today that a "white list" of approved pictures would be issued from time to time in an effort to condemn pictures characterized as a menace to child welfare and a cause of juvenile delinquency.

The Rev. Walter A. Hendricks, of Portsmouth, N. H., has been appointed to take charge of this work.

A canvass among wardens and chaplains of prisons showed that most of the juvenile delinquency was due to moving pictures which exhibited crime, while another had feature was that children were tempted to deceit and theft to obtain money for admission to moving picture houses.

TO DISCUSS PROPOSAL TO SELL
BRITISH WEST INDIES TO
UNITED STATES

LONDON, March 5.—It is expected that the proposal to sell the British West Indies to the United States as a means of helping balance the war debt of Great Britain will be discussed in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George, probably on Monday of next week.

Pending the premier's statement, members of the government display unwillingness to express their views for publication. Opinions obtained privately indicate that the proposal if it were formally presented would not be considered.

ADOPT 2 MORE RESERVATIONS

Solid Republican Lineup Breaks For First Time Since November

Several Refuse To Follow Lodge and Adopt Reservation Opposed by Him

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Two more peace treaty reservations were adopted by the senate yesterday after their original terms as framed by republican leaders last November had been modified to conform to agreements of the recent bi-partisan compromise conference.

One of them, withholding assent from the Shantung settlement, was changed on motion of the republican leaders themselves and by practically unanimous vote.

Consideration of the other, however, providing that American representatives in the League of Nations be chosen by congressional action, raised a bitter controversy which in the end broke down, for the first time since early November, the solid republican lineup behind the republican reservation program.

Lineup Broken

The language finally substituted for the republican draft of the league representation reservation was written by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, and by him was laid before the bi-partisan conference.

Yesterday it was offered in the senate by the republican leader, Senator Lodge, who was objected to by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, was withdrawn, reoffered by Senator Walsh, accepted by the senate over the republican leader's opposition, and then finally adopted with the republicans voting solidly for it and with Senator Walsh and 13 other democrats opposing it.

The maneuvering brought out many sharp contradictions as to what happened behind the closed doors of the bi-partisan conference, and prompted Senator Lodge to declare that hereafter he would have nothing to do with the compromise agreements tentatively reached while the negotiations were in progress.

His declaration immediately drew fire from the mild reservation republicans, Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, a member of that group, asserting that he never would be bound by his leader's decision. It was the mild reservationists who, a few minutes later, made possible adoption of the Walsh reservation.

Working on Article 10

The unexpected flare-up over a reservation generally regarded as of minor consequence came when negotiations for a compromise on the crucial question of article 10 again had reached a state of earnest activity. Prominent senators of the two political parties, understood to be working with the knowledge of the party leaders brought their consultations to a point where the advice of President Wilson was sought indirectly during the day as to certain proposed changes in the republican article 10 reservation, but

It was said last night that no definite information had been forthcoming from the White House and that the outcome remained dubious.

The modification of the Shantung reservation, so as to eliminate reference to Japan and China by name, was agreed to by the senate with little debate and by a majority of 69 to 2, and the reservation was readopted, 48 to 21, with 10 democrats voting for it. Last November, the vote had been 65 to 41, only five democrats being counted in the majority.

On adoption of Senator Walsh's change in the league representation reservation, eight republicans voted with the democrats in the affirmative and the result was a majority of 37 to 32. The vote on final adoption of the revised reservation was 55 to 14, all of the opposition coming from democrats, while 11 democrats voted for adoption.

The Walsh Reservation

As adopted, the Walsh reservation reads:

"No person is or shall be authorized to represent the United States, nor shall any citizen of the United States be eligible, as a member of any body or agency established or authorized by said treaty of peace with Germany, except pursuant to an act of the congress of the United States providing for his appointment and defining his powers and duties."

In the original draft, the language "Congress will provide by law," had been used, and it was the omission of this affirmative declaration on which Senator Hitchcock based his objection to the revision.

"This change," said Senator Lodge, "was proposed by the democratic members of the bi-partisan conference as embodying the language that would make the reservation acceptable to them. But I do not like it as well as I do the original language, and if these conference proposals now are to be attacked by the senators who presented them then I shall not urge them in the senate. So far as I am concerned I am through with them."

Senator Lodge then withdrew the proposal and it was introduced by Senator Walsh, creating much confusion. On the roll call the administration forces presented a solid front for adoption and they were joined by Senators Cummins, Iowa; Hale, Maine; Edge, New Jersey; Kellogg, Minnesota; Keyes, New Hampshire; McNary, Oregon; New, Indiana, and Townsend, Michigan.

Another roll call was necessary to actually adopt the reservation. The democrats who voted for adoption were Senator Beckham, Kentucky; Chamberlain, Oregon; Fletcher, Florida; Gore, Oklahoma; Henderson, Nevada; Kendrick, Wyoming; Kirby, Arkansas; Myers, Montana; Nugent, Idaho; Overman, North Carolina; Phelan, California; Pittman, Nevada; Read, Missouri; Shields, Tennessee; Smith, Georgia; Thomas Colorado, and Trammell, Florida.

ISOLATED IN LONELY HOME FOR 25 DAYS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 5.—Stephen Coman, 77 years old, was "out" again today, after having been snow-bound in his lonely home in the village of North Scituate for 25 days. A four-horse hitch broke through the drifts and opened the road by Mr. Coman's house. Small children, who would walk on the crusted snow, brought Mr. Coman sufficient food to keep him from hunger during his period of isolation. "I had rheumatism and plenty to read, so I wasn't lonesome," he said.

"We lived in Detroit for years. From there we went to Toronto. Times were hard in those days, and father and brother got positions in Toronto, and so we moved over there. While we were living there in Toronto the word came that the Prince and Princess of Wales were to visit the Dominion, and they were to be in Toronto for three days. The city started to get ready for their distinguished visitors. The city council appointed a committee—a reception committee. People decorated their houses with flags and red, white and blue bunting. The downtown districts were decorated with flags and bunting and electric signs and arches. The town was as light as day. You could walk down the middle of the street and read a newspaper at midnight. In front of our big five million dollar city hall there was an electric sign in letters so large you could see them nearly a mile away bearing these words: 'Welcome to the Prince and Princess of Wales.' The people thought our station wasn't good enough so they put up a fine station out on the commons. When the day arrived, it was estimated that there were 150,000 visitors in the city. The school children filed out and packed that vast amphitheatre. The girls were dressed in white and the boys in dark. We had the Kitty band—the Highlanders—and O my! what a time we had! Long before it was time for the train to arrive the streets were packed. Some were in automobiles, some walked, some drove. It looked like the whole country was there. There was hardly standing room. There we stood until about 11 o'clock, when the train pulled in. The people sang, and the cannon boomed, and the band played. The prince and princess got off the train. The city officials were there to welcome them. The people sang, 'The Maple Leaf Forever.' They shouted, and threw their hats in the air, and the bands played, and the prince and princess bowed this way and that way to the people. As you looked down that street it was literally lined with one mass of people. They were on top of the buildings and everywhere.

"For three miles they drove through that living mass of people, and there were flags, and bunting and bands for them all along the whole route. We closed our stores and offices, and my! what a time we had those three days! I don't know why the prince came, but he came. I don't know why. No one knows why he came. Some said to look over the industries. Some said to look over the United States and see how things were run over here. Some said to go on a hunting trip through Wyoming and the Canadian country. But no one knows why he came. I can't see that he accomplished any good. It cost thousands of dollars. But he came, and my! what a time. Society people fell over themselves giving receptions and banquets for them. And the women that had an opportunity to shake hands with the prince and princess at those receptions talk about it to this day.

"When Jesus came there were no flags, no bunting, or bands to welcome Him. The crowds didn't sound His praises when He came. You can read it in a simple text: 'They laid Him in a manger for there was no room for Him at the inn.' Jesus was born outside. And as far as Jesus is concerned in some churches, and some people, and some homes. He is outside today. Crowded out. We have time for everything else, but He has to be crowded out everywhere. We crowd Him out of our meetings; we crowd Him out of our homes; we crowd Him out of everything else. But I tell you there will come a time when they won't crowd Him out. Let me tell you something. Listen! If you crowd Him out here He will crowd you out over there. "Some people think they can crowd Him out part of the time but not all of the time. They talk about the old-fashioned religion was good enough for our folks but not good enough for us. I despise that tommyrot. They say the old-fashioned religion was all right years ago, but we need something new, something different, Jesus—fresh as through the gates of New Jerusalem the morning glories, bright as a dew-drop glistening in the sun, pure as a drop of water from that spring! Did you ever hear anyone say, 'We have been drinking that water for 6000 years. We ought to have some new water?' Did you? People say they get tired of our old-fashioned religion. They want something new. I tell you I don't want any of these new-fangled ideas. The kind of religion that saved my mother and took her sweeping something different, Jesus—fresh as through the gates of New Jerusalem is good enough for me. All this tommyrot makes me tired. What we need is Jesus. People are dying for the want of salvation, and don't you run off to some new 'ism.' The world is dying for Jesus. When there is a broken heart or a blasted life, you don't want infidelity; you want Jesus. "But some one says, why didn't Jesus come in all the glory and pomp of the upper world? Why didn't every planet announce His coming? Why didn't legions and legions of angels herald His advent in this world? Why wasn't He born in a palace? Why didn't He wear a crown and wave His scepter over all the earth? Why didn't He do that? Jesus left thrones and palaces and crowns and scepters, and went down into a manger—and the very manger was borrowed. The home Jesus lived in was borrowed and the tomb He was buried in was borrowed. Oh, yes, people say, why, if He was the king of glory, did He come in such a humble manner? I'll tell you why. Had Jesus come in the pomp and glory of the upper world, He would never have reached you and me. Though He was rich yet for our sakes He became poor, that we through His poverty might become rich. 'He made Himself of no reputation.' He humbled Himself and be-

Employees Award Themselves Increase

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 5.—Employees of the Reliable Stove Co., a branch of the American Stove Co., through their employees' congress, have awarded themselves a wage increase on hourly rates averaging 11 per cent.

The increase resulted from an investigation conducted by factory workers and members of a wage committee named by the congress of wages paid in eight metal working plants here.

Report Fire in Portuguese Towns

MADRID, March 5.—Travelers from Portugal report firing at Lisbon, Oporto and Vizen, according to announcement this morning by the ministry of the interior here. Reports from the frontier state bombs were thrown and shots were fired at a military train near Viana do Castelo, 40 miles north of Oporto.

NO INVITATION TO U. S.

Not Asked To Participate in
To Go to Russia

WASHINGTON, March 5.—It was stated officially today that the United States has received no invitation to participate in the proposed commission of experts to go to Russia for the purpose of studying the situation there. A plan was proposed that such an investigation be made under the League of Nations and the possibility of participation by the United States under such circumstances was discussed, but officials said nothing definite had been done.

RAPS ADMINISTRATION'S
MEXICAN POLICY

BOSTON, March 5.—Henry Lane Wilson, former United States ambassador to Mexico, in his address last night before a large gathering at the Boston City club, severely criticized the administration for failure to act in the Mexican situation.

"While we are in the business of evangelizing the world, saving the Armenians, the Turk and the Czechoslovak, let us pause for a moment and consider the 55,000 Americans expelled from Mexico after having been invited to invest their all there, and the 653 murdered Americans, mute monuments of the hesitating, vacillating policy of their own government," he exclaimed.

The audience was slow to warm up, but ultimately applauded vociferously. Mr. Wilson's eloquent arraignment of the administration, his picturesque account of events in Mexico of recent years, and his fiery appeal for a return to the policy of such presidents as Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland, McKinley, Taft and Roosevelt.

"He reminded his hearers that in the recent war Mexico was the hotbed of German intrigue, as well as of Japanese threats now; that the American ambassador was hissed in Mexico City; that attempted seizure of the oil lands by the Carranza government is explained by the intent to make it an un-neutral act for the war vessels of England or other of the allies to supply their ships, and declared that the recent resignation of Ambassador Fletcher was accompanied by the statement: 'This government has no policy in Mexico and, therefore, I can be of no further service.'"

Mr. Wilson also argued that the resignation of Secretary Lansing was precipitated by the Mexican policy, "not want of policy," and "it continues to this day a menace to this country."

U. S. TO BE CONSULTED
ON TURKISH TREATY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The United States in the opinion of officials here will be consulted as to terms of the virtually completed Turkish treaty before the document is handed to representatives of the Constantinople government for signature.

The United States, while refusing to take any part in the drafting of the Turkish treaty, is considered by the allied governments to possess a special interest in the solution of the Turkish problem as a potential member of the League of Nations.

During the negotiations of the German and Austrian treaties, the entente representatives made a number of efforts to engage the American commissioners in discussions of Turkish problems, principally as to the disposition of Constantinople. Inasmuch as the United States never declared war on Turkey, this government is understood to have been firm in its stand that it was not interested in the Turkish question, except through the League of Nations.

ASK SUPREME COURT TO

BOSTON, March 5.—The inclination of the legislative committee on legal affairs to report a bill that would legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and light wines was indicated yesterday by a report in which the committee states that it regards the vote of the state under the public opinion law last fall as evidence that the people desire such legislation.

In its doubt as to the power of the legislature to legalize the making and selling of beverages containing an alcoholic content greater than the one-half of one per cent fixed by the federal Volstead act, the committee desires the opinion of the Massachusetts supreme court.

The committee has before it several petitions, on which it recently gave protracted hearings that were attended by hundreds of persons. The accompanying bills would legalize beverages of alcoholic contents ranging from 1½ to 4 per cent.

STEAMER IN WITH
CREW IN IRONS

NORFOLK, Va., March 5.—The ship, pling board steamship Poughkeepsie, with 34 members of the crew in irons guarded by members of crews from destroyers, arrived at Hampton Roads yesterday. Department of justice agents brought the prisoners to Norfolk last night for arraignment before the United States commissioner.

Cable despatches from Hamilton, Bermuda, Feb. 5, when the crew was captured, and the United States consul-general sustained the contention of the captain that they must work the ship to her port of discharge in the United States. The Poughkeepsie was towed to Hamilton in distress Jan. 22.

TO REFUTE THREAT TO KILL KING ALFONSO

PARIS, March 5.—Documents submitted by former Premier Joseph Caillaux on trial before the high court charged with having had treasonable dealings with the enemy, in an effort to refute testimony regarding an alleged threat by him against the life of King Alfonso of Spain, will be read later at a private sitting of the court.

This announcement was made at the opening of today's sessions by Leon Bourgeois, president of the court. Because of the inability of Alexander R. Conty, French ambassador to Brazil, to be present at the trial the court ordered that his deposition be read. M. Conty charged in the deposition that M. Caillaux disclosed in 1911 to Baron von Lancken-Wakenitz, then German charge d'affaires at Paris, the fact that the French foreign office had been deciphering German embassy despatches to Wilhelmstrasse since 1901, quoting former President Poincaré, as his authority. This testimony was contradicted by M. Poincaré, a part of whose deposition in which he said M. Conty was in error and misunderstood him, also was read.

M'ADOO HAS PLAN TO CUT FEDERAL TAXATION

WASHINGTON, March 5.—An immediate billion-dollar reduction in federal taxes was suggested in a statement issued here yesterday by William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury. The present tax burden is too great, he said, and is "having an injurious effect on business."

Mr. McAdoo proposed that collection of a tax to establish a sinking fund for retirement of the war debt, which was recommended by former Secretary Glass to begin with the fiscal year 1920, be postponed for two years, and that the deferred payments of European interest be funded until Europe is in position to pay its interest charges.

"The financial policies of the nation as embodied in future congressional legislation," said Mr. McAdoo, "should realize the utmost economy in expenditure and might well fund in long term bonds $1,000,000,000 per annum for two years of the amount now raised by taxation."

"By postponing for two years the establishment of a sinking fund and funding the deferred payments of European interest, we should cover $150,000,000 of the $1,000,000,000 by which our taxation might be reduced. By discontinuing purchases of Liberty bonds for retirement under provisions of existing law the treasury would be relieved of a large burden now reflected in the floating debt, and which otherwise will have to be made up by taxation. It would seem that reduction of our tax bill for the next two years in this manner could be accomplished and that it would involve the issuance of additional bonds to the extent of probably not more than $1,500,000,000.

RISE IN THE EXCHANGE
MARKET IN LONDON

LONDON, March 5.—The report cables from New York that large shipments of gold were pending from here caused a smart rise in the exchange market today, cable transfer moving to $2.50. At this figure there were considerable offerings to forward dollars from New York and business was very active at that level until the buyers brought the rate down to $2.55 where the market was feverish for the time being.

In the offerings of gold in the open market nearly 500,000 pounds was taken for India at 114 shillings, or five shillings decline, due to the sharp advance in American exchange, which is now the deciding factor in the market price of gold.

The report of pending gold shipments to America surprised the market considerably, but both bullion brokers and bankers expressed belief that there was no foundation for the rumor. It was pointed out that there is no such sum as the reported $200,000,000 in gold available for shipment without encroaching upon the reserves, and the treasury is considered as unlikely to ship on such a scale. The amount coming from the mines in the next three months, estimated at 10,000,000, may be absorbed gradually by the United States but this would hardly be sufficient to cause a big rise in exchange. The report may have arisen from knowledge that the treasury has recently been inquiring of the banks regarding certain matters relating to financial and economic problems, but such inquiries, it is indicated, were probably due to the measures likely to be taken by the allied supreme council for international action in financial matters.

Improvement Here

NEW YORK, March 5.—Increased activity and improvement marked the opening of the foreign exchange market here today. Preliminary rates on demand bills for the English pound sterling were quoted at from $3.60 to $3.65, as compared with yesterday's accepted maximum of $3.55. Yesterday's high rate was 11 cents above Wednesday's closing figure and 29 cents above the record low on Feb. 4.

A canvass of the exchange situation among leading international banking houses today disclosed considerable confusion and difference of opinion respecting the imminence of gold imports from England and possibly France. Bankers having close relations with the British government were not disposed to attach much credence to overnight reports that an extensive gold movement from London to this market is soon to be inaugurated.

WORST TYPHUS
EPIDEMIC IN HISTORY

NEW YORK, March 5.—Poland is confronted with the worst typhus fever epidemic in the history of the world," according to a cable message received yesterday by the American relief administration from Col. Gilchrist, U.S.A., medical corps, head of the American anti-typhus expedition. "Unless blotted out at once," he stated, "the present epidemic will threaten Europe. The Polish government is doing its best to meet the emergency but it is crippled by lack of money and sanitary supplies."

Upon receipt of this information the joint distribution committee for all American Jewish relief funds, instructed its representatives in Warsaw to expend $100,000 for coal to be used in starting disinfecting plants in the typhus zone, as requested by Colonel Gilchrist. It also was announced that Dr. Harry Plotz, of New York, an authority on typhus, would leave for Poland next week to take charge of the campaign against the disease.

High mortality among the doctors fighting the disease was reported by Col. Gilchrist, who added the general mortality average among typhus fever patients was 45 to 60 per cent.

GERMANY ON WAY
TO "COME BACK"

NEW YORK, March 5.—Germany is on the way to a great industrial comeback," according to Colonel William K. Hensley, U.S.A., who just returned from five months' aeronautical observation in Germany. The Germans, he said yesterday, already have made "immense progress" toward rehabilitation of their country through work. "Work is the key the Germans are using to reopen the treasure houses of the world," Colonel Hensley said, adding that there are only two countries in Europe that seem to have gone to work—Germany and Belgium. He added the peril of bolshevism is disappearing, as the Germans "realize that their only salvation is through work."

Lodge for Cooling

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator Lodge will nominate Gen. Coolidge at the Chicago convention. Under no circumstances will he run as a candidate for delegate-at-large pledged to Gen. Wood.

Congressman Fuller's proposal that he retire from the delegate contest if members of the so-called "Big Four" would pledge for Gen. Wood did not get much of a "rise" out of either Senator Lodge or Speaker Gilchrist when it was brought to their attention yesterday.

Sammarco Convicted of Murder of Patrolman Clancy—Faces Life Sentence

BOSTON, March 5.—Joseph Sammarco was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury in superior criminal court last night for the killing of Patrolman William G. Clancy in a dance hall in the Charlestown district early in the morning of Jan. 22 as the latter was attempting to quell a disturbance. Sammarco had admitted the deed, but said he had intended to wound another policeman who was in the hall, but some one struck his arm as he fired and the bullet hit Clancy. The jury was out five hours. Sammarco will be sentenced next week.

Clancy, who served with the Canadians in the world war, was known as the first American to carry the Stars and Stripes in action in France, going over the top with the colors just after the United States had entered the war. A fund was raised through public subscription for his widow, an English woman, who arrived in this country a few days ago with their little son, Sammarco, a resident of the North End, is 23 years old.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING COMMISSION MEETS

Following the announcement that Governor Coolidge had signed the bill granting the city of Lowell authority to borrow $600,000 additional for high school purposes, the high school building commission met late this afternoon to discuss the next steps toward the erection of the building. It is probable that the municipal council will be asked at its meeting next Tuesday to appropriate sufficient money to get the work started.

$500 for Each Ex-Service Men

at so much a day or month, but as a helping hand from the government to aid in restoring former service men and women to positions in civil life from which they were called, without bargain or contract, without money and without price, to serve in time of need.

"Haggling over payment by the day or month is contrary to the wishes of the American people."

Discrimination in regard to periods of service, he added, would only create confusion, delays, favoritism and breed jealousies and bad feelings.

The witness declared that the finding of $100,000,000 annual interest due on foreign obligations proved that the government was not "weak financially."

and could give financial relief to all former service men."

Sensational Charges

Differences between organizations of former service men, were aired by Sperry, who charged that J. H. Halper, a member of the legislative committee of the Rank and File Veterans' association, was a socialist and communist and "had tried to turn over the private soldiers and sailors' legion to the communist party of New York."

Letters from the Soldiers, Sailors and Marines' Protective association of New York city, asking the amalgamation of all soldier bodies, were read by the witness who said this organization was raided and its literature dumped into the streets.

"What proof have you that Halper is a socialist?" asked Chairman Fordney.

"He admitted it to me before witnesses," Sperry replied.

Only three signers are needed to obtain incorporation papers permitting the formation of a soldier organization with the privilege of soliciting contributions in every state, Sperry said in answer to a question by Representative Treadway, Massachusetts as to how Sperry's organization had been incorporated.

Carious Provision

"That's a curious provision," Representative Treadway said.

S. Savenheim, chairman of the Rank & File Veterans' association told the committee that a composite bill, including land grants, vocational training and financial aid, suggested by the American Legion "would keep the committee talking two or three years."

Former service men would be satisfied with a bonus of $1 a day with a minimum of $150, he said.

Twenty billion dollars must be raised to pay future needs of former service men, Representative Kitchin, democrat, North Carolina, said.

"The American Legion didn't favor a bonus at their national convention, but now they are fathering it," he added.

"The Legion fathers everything after some other organization does the work and accomplishes results," Savenheim said.

LYNN IS WORSE

Street Conditions Here Are Good in Comparison

President William N. Goodell of the Lowell chamber of commerce spent yesterday in Lynn and brings back a story of street conditions there which he characterizes as "as much worse than Lowell today as Lowell is in comparison to what it will be on the Fourth of July."

Mr. Goodell said that vehicle travel through Broad street, which compares favorably with either Merrimack or Central streets is practically impossible, with huge mounds of ice and snow standing beside the tracks to heights of six feet. Opportunity has been given trucks and teams to turn out at cross streets, which are out to resemble a long series of tunnels.

"We think Lowell streets are snow and ice-clogged," said the chamber of commerce president, "but we are much better off than most cities in this part of the state."

SWEAR ALLEGIANCE TO FLAG OF MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., March 5.—Cadets of the military school of Chapultepec, drawn up on the drill field of Mexico's West Point, solemnly swore allegiance to the flag of Mexico, held aloft by President Venustiano Carranza, as part of the ceremonies in honor of the opening of the institution, held in Mexico City recently, according to Execution. The school had been closed for ten years.
The oath of allegiance was administered as the cannon of the citadel fired a salute of 21 guns in honor of the anniversary of the constitution of 1857 and of 1917, which occurred the same day.

GRACE CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment at the Grace church last evening was under the direction of Mrs. Fred Maxwell and Mrs.
John W. Stott and the supper which was served at 6 o'clock was under the supervision of Mrs. Frederick Farnham. The supper was very well attended by members of the parish. At 7:30 an enjoyable program was carried out in which Miss Mabel Kendrick gave very interesting reading selections and Miss Grace Kendrick rendered very pleasing songs.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By the theatres' own press agent)

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Betty Wilkes and Miss Doris Weeks, the latter the most recent acquisition to the company, who are appearing to advantage in this week's production by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, share richly in the honors that are being so generously bestowed by the patrons. Miss Wilkes is seen as a recent importation from a Chicago restaurant and Miss Weeks as the young heart-breaker of the village.

Both are decidedly clever. The others are also exceedingly good, particularly Jack Bennett and J. Francis Kirk.
Next week the production will be the big singing success, "Alma, Where Do

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

There have been few movie productions in Lowell that have brought such continuous laughs as "Mary's Ankle," the big comedy success being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre.
Douglas MacLean and Doris May, stars of "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave," are featured in this play which had such a brilliant career on the legitimate stage and their work is of the top-notch variety. The other feature for today and tomorrow is Irene

"The Amateur Wife."

B. F. KETH'S THEATRE

Few prettier or more effective acts can be found on the vaudeville stage than that being presented at the B. F.
Keith theatre, this week, by Ralph Dunbar's Maryland Singers. The four young women are dressed in the clothes which were of that period just preceding the Civil war. They sing many of the old melodies. Charles Frink, the banjoist, adds not a little to the success of the act. Thos. F. Swift, and Mary H. Kelley in "Gum Drops," are interesting entertainers, and J. J.
Sugent the passive monologist, makes a great hit. Of course everybody wants to see Bert Melrose do his famous fall. It is a classic in its way, and no other quite approaches him in it. Other acts on the bill are: Florence Henry & Co. in "The Real Remedy"; Wheeler & Potter in "A Phone Ensues"; and the Hurleys, in feats of strength.

TO CUT "HIGH COST OF DYING"

BLACKBURN, Eng.—Steps have been taken by local carriage proprietors to offset the "high cost of dying." In addition to conducting interments, the carriage men have combined to supply coffins. Charges by undertakers, they claim, are about 100 per cent. too high.

HOT POLITICAL ROW

Probe of Palmer Ordered by House—Blamed For High Sugar Prices

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A hot political row broke out in the house yesterday when the republicans forced through a resolution authorizing investigation by the judiciary committee of the acts of Attorney-General Palmer in connection with prices charged for Louisiana sugar.

The democrats bitterly opposed the project, charging repeatedly that it was designed as an indirect impeachment of Mr. Palmer and only intended as a means of checking the "growing popularity" of a democratic presidential aspirant.

In reply, the republicans charged that the president and Mr. Palmer were directly responsible for prevailing high sugar prices; that Mr. Palmer had no authority to recognize the high figure at which Louisiana sugar sold, and that he had failed to press actions against profiteers.

In two hours of debate on the resolution offered by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, democratic members asserted it was a "covert" attack on Mr. Palmer, and was calculated to divert public attention from failures of the "incapable" republican leadership in congress. When the time limit expired, the resolution was put through, 162 to 124, by a party vote, and the committee will proceed with its inquiry.

The resolution directs that the investigation be directed "to the admitted concurrence of the attorney-general in maximum fixed prices" of 17 and 15 cents a pound for Louisiana sugar, the basis on which the prices were fixed, and whether immunity from prosecution for profiteering was given any one for charging these prices.

Republicans asserted that the actions of the attorney-general in regard to the Louisiana growers caused increased prices for the Cuban crop, but this was denied by the democrats, who in turn asserted that his action was a "saving to the consumers."

"That Louisiana crop was just enough to supply the United States with sugar for one day," commented Representative Martin, Democrat, Louisiana.

President Wilson and the attorney-general were charged by Representative Campbell, republican, Kansas, with "direct responsibility" for the high cost of sugar.

"Get the attorney-general before the judiciary committee and then let the judiciary committee make such report

COUNTRESS Oskrowski
POLAND'S "FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE" TO NURSE HER COUNTRYMEN IN SIBERIA

Countess Wanda Oskrowski, known as the "Florence Nightingale" of Poland with her husband, is en route to Siberia where as director of the Polish Red Cross she will care for refugees made destitute after the collapse of the Kolchak regime. During the famous Mackenzie "pinchers drive" on Warsaw, the countess was at the head of the hospitals in the besieged city, so that she brings to her new task a wealth of tragic experience and efficiency under fire.

to the house as it sees fit," declared Representative Campbell. He explained later that by this proceeding he had in mind the question of impeachment.

The house set aside two hours for debate on the resolution. Republican members claimed there would be votes enough for its adoption.

Representative Tinkham said the passage of his resolution would "serve notice on the department of justice that law and order cannot be snuffed without a trace."

The attorney-general, he said, had no legal authority to fix or concur in a price for Louisiana sugar. The investigation, he added, would emphasize "that this is a government of laws and not of men; that responsibility for the increased cost of living may be judicially determined, and that laws shall remain supreme in their dignity and application."

Rep. Sanders, democrat, Louisiana, insisted that the investigation was proposed to "lessen the present popularity" of the attorney-general, "who is looming up on the public eye." He added that no investigation of "outrageous profiteering by manufacturers of New England" had been proposed. Representative Briggs, republican, Ohio, asked "what the attorney-general had done with the million dollar fund given him to prosecute profteers," adding that "not a single prosecution" had been brought.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican floor leader, said that if Representative Sanders' charges of profiteering were true, the attorney-general had "woefully failed to do his duty." He also attacked the president for "inactivity" in buying the Cuban crop.

THE STATE GUARD AND THE FEDERAL TAX

Lowell men who had served in the state guard during the Boston police strike will be interested in a ruling received today by Edward Fisher of the local state guard relative to what part of the income received by members of the guard during the Boston trouble is taxable under the federal income tax.

A few weeks ago Mr. Fisher received the state ruling on the matter which said that money received by the guardsmen from their employers during their service in Boston was not taxable under the state income tax regulations. Now comes just the opposite information from the federal authorities who look upon the matter in another light. The federal ruling says that guardsmen who received their whole salary or part of it must include whatever amount was received in their federal income tax returns.

"The federal ruling also says that professional and business men must not deduct from their tax returns any estimated amount of money they lost during their service in Boston as a result of absence from their usual work. This is included merely to anticipate any attempt on the part of such men to figure in their loss of business when making out their returns."

The money received by the guardsmen from the state, of course, is not taxable. The ruling in full received by Mr. Fisher from the office of Adjutant General Jesse F. Stevens in Boston is as follows:

(a) The following ruling received from the income tax division, Internal revenue service, treasury department, United States, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

(1) Such guardsmen who received their usual salary from their employers, in addition to the pay received from the state, must include that amount so received as income on their federal income tax returns.

(2) State guardsmen who received a part of their usual salary from their employers must include that amount so received as income upon their federal income tax returns.

(3) State guardsmen who received nothing from their employers have, of course, nothing to report.

(4) Professional and business men who of necessity were absent from the pursuit of their vocations while on duty during the policemen's strike did not suffer such a loss as is deductible for income tax purposes.

It is, of course, understood that the amount which state guardsmen received as pay from the commonwealth of Massachusetts is, such income as is entirely exempt from the provisions of the federal income tax law."

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arven from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

REMOLD ENERGY

Then Gold Can Be Made Out of Lead

By RUSS SIMONTON

All science today is built upon the law of conservation. That is to say, there is just so much matter and so much energy in the universe. Neither can be created nor destroyed.

Matter is divided into a few more than 80 elements. These elements are made up of atoms. Atoms are inconceivably small particles of matter. Elements are simple substances. That means that there is nothing in iron but iron atoms, and nothing in gold but gold atoms, and nothing in lead but the atoms of lead. Thus we can melt atoms and break and grind iron, but it will always be iron.

That law of conservation held until radium came. Radium, science decided, was an element. But nature wasn't behaving. She broke all the rules. Before the very eyes of the rule-makers, radium snatched and hissed in a miniature volcano of light.

Bolled all down and all the science eliminated, here's the thing in a nutshell.

Radium appears to destroy itself. It seems to give off energy. Science can't understand why there should be energy there or what becomes of the radium, unless—

Matter isn't a constant after all! If that is true, energy is probably the only constant thing in the universe. Matter, then, is only a form of energy—a phenomenon of force. In other words, energy (light, heat, electricity, motion) may be transformed into matter.

Maybe, thinks science now, all the elements, all the metals and carbon and oxygen and a score of others, are going to pieces just as radium is, only more slowly and not fast enough to be seen.

But now the hard-headed scientists are changing their opinions. If they can find a way to control this making of matter from energy, they can take lead, break it up into the energy that makes it, and remold it nearer to our heart's desire.

For example—wood can be turned into a chair leg or a penholder. Energy may, it is thought, be turned into gold or lead.

There's a lot more to it than this and many more reasons for believing that the day of the transmutation of metals is near at hand. It isn't just a wild-eyed, hair-brained bit of theory.

The finest scientific minds in the world are coming to believe in the new era when gold will be a by-product of what they call "the dissociation of the atom."

There's more than a chance that somebody in the next dozen years will stumble upon the way to turn matter back to energy and remold the energy to the form we wish—gold.

And then gold will be so plentiful nobody will want it.

THE STRAND THEATRE

After "Flu," Grip

Fever and Other Prostrating Diseases That Exhaust the Blood

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive bowels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "makes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion. Nerve strength and cheery health inevitably follow, further danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-alive feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, and for a cathartic, nothing better than Hood's Pills, in small doses a gentle laxative; larger, an active cathartic.—Adv.

"Eyes of Youth" will be shown today and tomorrow, and those who have not witnessed it should avail themselves of the remaining opportunity. Miss Shirley Mason, the dainty and fascinating star in her newest picture play, "The Elephant Man," is the other star attraction, to say nothing of an excellent comedy and the latest issue of the Universal Weekly. For the coming week the management has another series of high-grade picture offerings, with Tom Moore and Tom Mix in their very latest creations of Finland. The former will appear in "The Guy Lord Quex" and the latter in "The Feud." Both are said to be their very best screen endeavors, and should serve to again emphasize the claim that "only the biggest and best" are shown at The Strand. Patrons are reminded of the fact that these same pictures that are enjoyed here at the prevailing popular prices, are shown in the big theatrical centres at $1.50 prices. Watch the advance notices and learn what's new and best in the motion picture line.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

There will be a lively fight among republicans of this state if an attempt be made to send a delegation pledged to General Wood as is now proposed by some of the leaders. Former Gov. McCall has made a strong statement against any such proposition.

The "Wilson temper" is blamed by the republican press for the failure of the republican congress to take final action on the treaty. Yet the senators not long ago were indignant at the thought that the president should attempt to dilute the senate.

March 15 is the last day for filing federal income tax returns. Few people except those who have the incomes realize how deeply the taxes cut into them. First the municipal taxes; then the state income tax, and finally the federal income tax. There are many other taxes imposed on corporations so that the burdens of taxation are much heavier than ever before.

Recently it seems that many physical ills are being traced to abscesses in the teeth. It is announced that Earl Gray has had his sight restored by the removal of his molars which were abscessed. The dentist surgeon by aid of the X-ray is daily becoming a more important personage in relation to certain diseases arising from diseased teeth.

The high school commission has now obtained permission to borrow all the money it needs for the new high school. Let us hope that the legislature will not be appealed to next year for another loan for the same purpose. The prospective cost of the building has increased from $700,000 to $2,050,000, although the plans are said to have been cut down to the irreducible minimum.

The Germans are now asked to try the German officials accused of crimes against humanity during the war. Very few expect the German courts to find the accused guilty or if guilty to impose penalties commensurate with the character of their crimes. If the German courts try to condone atrocities prohibited by all civilized nations in war, they will place themselves in a bad light before the world.

SUFFRAGE FIGHTS

The woman suffragists are a little nervous at the present time because they are so near to the ratification of the suffrage amendment which will give them equal voting power with men. The amendment has been ratified by 33 states and Washington may be the 34th to ratify as a special session of the legislature has been called for that purpose.

Among the states ratifying the amendment was Ohio but the legality of the legislative action has been questioned. A petition has been lodged in the courts asking for a referendum upon the ratification and the decision is still pending. Should the act of the legislature prove not to be final then similar questions may be raised in other states. Here in Massachusetts, the legislature ratified the amendment and on a referendum, the electorate voted against it by a decisive majority. There are 22 states which have referendum laws so that much may depend upon the Ohio decision.

THE CANAL TANGLE

The federal government is in a queer snarl relative to the Cape Cod canal. In July of 1918, the canal was seized under an act of congress in which there was no intimation that the property would be returned to the company which owned it. Now, however, the canal is suddenly returned to the private owners, presumably as part of the transportation system which passed from government control on March 1.

The owners contend that they supposed the government had taken the canal for government purposes and was willing to pay for it. Under direction of the attorney general, condemnation proceedings were instituted last fall when the price of the canal was fixed at $16,801,361. Naturally, the canal company expects to be paid this amount by the government. It would probably have sold the canal for a less amount. If the government does not decide to purchase the canal, it should at least compensate the company for the use of it. It would appear that the federal government should own this canal in order to hold it in trust for the benefit of navigation and for strategic purposes in case of war. The closing of the canal, at this time, has caused a serious interruption to the transportation of coal which is greatly needed in this and other industrial cities. The action of Gov. Coolidge in ordering the canal opened is fully justified under the circumstances.

MAYOR WHITE

Mayor White of Lawrence claims that he is handicapped in his administration of the city's affairs by certain officials who were in office before he came into power for his present term as mayor. Public opinion in Lawrence is divided as to the sincerity of His Honor's intentions. His friends hold that he is endeavoring to give the city an honest and progressive administration and that in order to do so, it is necessary for him to get rid of certain officeholders. Others claim that in opposing those officeholders and threatening their removal, he wishes to make places for some of his friends. Thus is dust thrown in the eyes of the people; but if the mayor knows that things are wrong, he is in duty bound to set them right, provided the charter places the responsibility on his shoulders and gives him the necessary power. Unfortunately under the commission charter, the mayor has very little authority except over the departments assigned to him. That is why so many people can snap their fingers at the mayor of a city encumbered with a commission charter.

ADMIRAL SIMS

Admiral Sims, who has been very flippant in his criticism of the navy department and its management while he was in European waters during the war, will now have an opportunity to explain why he removed Admiral Fletcher from the command of the American forces at Brest, in the fall of 1917. Admiral Sims has been more outspoken than any other official of the navy, not even excepting Secretary Daniels. It was Sims who, in a speech in London some years before the war started, made the statement that if ever England should be in jeopardy, she could depend upon her kindred across the sea, meaning the United States, to come to her aid to the last ship and the last drop of blood. Sims was mildly censured for that extravagant remark; and when he was named to take charge of the American forces in European waters, some surprise was expressed over his selection for such a duty. Many regard Admiral Sims as more British than American, although he has, on many occasions, avowed his sterling Americanism. The investigation now to be undertaken will doubtless bring out some interesting facts and will incidentally shed additional light upon the character of Sims, if not the greatest admiral, certainly the greatest egotist of the navy.

THE ROMANCE OF GEMS

Gems of great value have always carried a romance. The tragedy of historic stones; the malign fates that seem to hover over them; the seas of blood they have caused to flow are the theme of legend and verse since history's dawn.

Take the strange story of the Tabor diamond; a great big eight-carat gem whose history is lost back in musty pages of English history; perhaps one time the crown jewel of an Indian rajah brought to England by some mighty lord.

Anyway, it became known as the Tabor diamond when Senator H. A. W. Tabor of Colorado brought it to this country.

A few months ago it was sold to a Pacific coast movie magnate who figured that diamonds were to be worn, and though the stone set him back for $15,000, wear it he did.

And upon him one evening, descended a couple of youthful bandits who stripped him of his eight-carat ring and his other possessions, and drove away in his nice shiny roadster, even taking along the basket of fancy groceries he was taking home.

Next morning, the roadster was found with a burst tire in the suburbs, and a litter of sacks and packages and lunch crumbs in the car showed that the bandits had feasted.

And by chance, in dusting out the debris, the big diamond was found. Evidently the highwaymen had decided it was too big to be anything but glass and had thrown it aside; a ham sandwich and half a dozen fresh doughnuts came nearer filling the void.

A long jump surely, from a rajah's diadem to the snout of a boy bandit munching crackers in a gas chariot.—N.E.A.

THE CHARTER QUESTION

Editor Sun:

I believe your suggestion that a good city council can be secured without salary is pertinent at the present time. I know there never was any trouble in getting a sufficient number of good men willing to serve under our old form of government without any recompense whatever. They entered the city council as men new enter the Chamber of Commerce, to serve the city. There is no scarcity of men willing to serve today without salary; but they will not fight for election as they would have to do under the present charter while the salary is $2500. There would not be much opposition to a nominal salary but the men who are ready to serve without salary show a real interest in the city that should be recognized.

Very truly yours,

B. E. F.

The above seems to express the prevailing sentiment relative to salaries for members of the municipal council at the present time. It is true that under the old city charter, we were able to secure some of the best men in the city for one or other of the branches of the city council. The board of aldermen usually had for members men of prominence and wide business experience. As a rule, the common council had men of a different type, but they were true to their constituents and in the vast majority of cases they stood for honest and progressive government quite as well as did members of the upper board. Yet, the members of neither board received any salary.

There is no reason whatever to assume that a sufficient number of our prominent citizens could not be secured to serve gratis as members of the city council. That was the rule in both boards of the old city council, but under the amended Plan B charter, there would be but one board of fifteen members.

Our present charter, which provides a liberal salary for the members of the municipal council, has brought about a condition under which the most desirable men will not seek membership in the municipal council. If they did, they would have to go out on the street corners, into the highways and byways, button-holing the voters, and would also have to make a house to house canvass, as otherwise they would have no chance of election.

It is wrong to blame the electorate for this state of affairs, which is due entirely to the system provided in our city charter. Some will say the voters can elect better men if they so desire. That is not the fact. If the better men refuse to run for office, it is impossible to elect them.

If the Chamber of Commerce or any large body of our citizens, wished to favor the Corbett charter even with the salary for members eliminated, we believe it would meet the approval of the voters.

The time for a change of charter has arrived and unless this proposed charter, either in its present form or in a modified form be adopted, it is likely that steps will be taken to re-submit the unamended form of Plan B, which is wholly unsuited for a city such as Lowell.

It may be assumed also, that any charter plan submitted to the people next fall will be adopted. It is wrong and misleading to say that the rejection of Plan C and Plan B successively, proves that the voters don't want a change of charter. Plan C is wholly unsuited to a city such as Lowell, and it was put before the voters in order to save the present charter. Plan B was defeated because an amended form of that charter providing for primary elections was before the legislature, with a prospect of its submission this year. If the voters do not want Plan B without primaries, then they should favor the amended form.

The glory of being the oldest watch in the world has been claimed by a timepiece in Nuremberg. The watch has just come to light in the German city and dates from the beginning of the 16th century. It is hardly recognizable under that name nowadays, as in form it is more like a small clock.

It has iron works, which are driven by an iron mainspring, and there is also another auxiliary spring made of a pig's bristle. These early "watches" Neglected Coughs and Colds Are Dangerous

LADY IN BROOKLYN, N. Y., NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

If people would only learn the folly of neglecting a cough or cold, much suffering could be averted and the development of many fatal diseases prevented.

The experience of Mrs. R. S. Pedersen, 123 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., merely emphasizes the necessity of having the proper medicine on hand for such emergencies. She writes:

"One winter I had a severe cold. I doctored myself for several weeks with various pills. Finally, I was forced to go to bed with heavy cold in chest and head. I had a good attack of lagrippe with large lumps in my neck. My father persuaded me to take Pe-ru-na and I was out of bed in two weeks. I continued the remedy for several weeks and feel better than ever. Pe-ru-na has also relieved me of pains in the back and sides. I always recommend Pe-ru-na and my father is a constant user."

Pe-ru-na, being a tonic laxative, regulates the digestion, enriches the blood, tones up the nerves and carries its soothing, healing influence to the irritated, congested, mucous membranes in all parts of the body. It is very beneficial after protracted illness or an attack of grip or Spanish influenza to restore strength and vigor to the wasted body.

needed to be wounded rather frequently, as there was no device to compensate for the weakening of the action of the mainspring as it ran down. It was not until the middle of the 16th century that the fusee, which can be seen in old English clocks, was invented. It need hardly be said that these Nuremberg watches were too large to be conveniently carried in the pocket, so they were worn affixed to a strap suspended from the girdle. They were beautifully engraved on the outside, and, of course, did not possess a second hand.

The China Sea

Did you see the poor old hooker, by the ocean wharf who lay? Her decks are foul with harbor grime, she hasn't long to stay. With her cargo all aboard her and the Peter flying free. And a seagull on her foretop a-looking out to sea.

She's loaded up to the fairlands and down to the Pilsbush line, Her bilges are choked and her bulkheads sprung, and the pumps tied up with twine.

And it's fare you well, good comrades all, for aboard her we must be: A call or two we've got to pay, a call or two upon the way.

From Liverpool to Frisco Bay, And all across the China Sea.

Oh, think you of us, if you will, you friends we leave at home, A-listing like a log in the lone Atlantic foam;

Oh, think you of us now and then, lit-tled and we're found A-hanging on the skirts of luck this weary world around.

They've changed her name and registered, they'll never change her soul; For rolling of her innards out and eating up of coal!

There is no ship that sails the seas can far or near compare With this weary-worn old packet from the port of God-knows where!

She'll drown us if she can, the jade, she's drowned her man before; She'll fling her rusty bones and ours to rot 'tween shore and shore.

Or clambles on her drunken way go tumbling tide by tide To trip the feet of merchantmen which use the oceans wide.

And she's loaded up to the fairlands, and down to the Pilsbush line, Her bilges are choked and her bulkheads sprung, and the pumps tied up with twine.

And it's fare you well, good comrades all, for aboard her we must be, A call or two we've got to pay, a call or two upon the way.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

We here in Lowell are wont to complain or perhaps boast of the remarkable winter through which we are passing, but it has been regular Palm beach weather here compared to what they've had out in the Berkshires, according to a friend who is living there this winter, the first she has spent outside of Lowell. The snow out there has been so continuous and the roads so impassable that the authorities had given up their efforts to clear passageways. Schools have been closed for weeks at a time simply because the pupils were unable to make any headway from their homes. The strong powerful winds sweeping through the Berkshire hills have created drifts as high as men's heads and there have been many a family whose radius of travel for days at a time has been within their own dwelling places. And yet, had as the winter is, my informant tells me that the spring is anticipated as being even worse for the roads than again be impassable. Schools are again closed on the 15th of March in anticipation of the spring floods. This year the floods will be even greater than ever because of the amount of snow which has fallen. And yet, it was but a few months ago that the Berkshires were in the full height of their autumn beauty and the visitor at that time could hardly imagine muddy roads and torrents of water circulating through the mass of mills and valleys.

Lowell people invested a trifle over $300 in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps during the month of February. Postmaster Meehan tells me. Commenting on the sale of these stamps he said: "Of course, we're not selling anywhere nearly as many as we did during the days of the war. That couldn't be expected, I suppose. However, I feel perfectly satisfied with the way in which the men and women—and children, too—of the community are backing up Uncle Sam in his after-war program by purchasing these 'baby bonds.' Not only does the sale of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps aid the government but it also helps to teach the young folks the principles of thrift and economy. As an investment, they have no superior anywhere."

THE STRANGER

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE

Pledge me my rare old friends in rare old wine,
Fit symbol of old days of friendly thirst,
Yet if the cask be barren and accursed,
Sing me old songs, and set my eyes a-shine
With rare romances jewelled lino by line
Upon the hearts of men who heard them first.
Before Eternal Rome was wolfed and nursed!
Old tales! old times! and old, old friends for mine!
So yesterday. Today a new voice calls,
A stranger-presence dominates my halls.
My heart bows down before his least desire.
A flame within my breast leaps high and higher,
And old friends are old embers of old fire
Far-scattered on the winds beyond my walls.

To Study Conditions in Russia

LONDON, March 4.—Although the composition of the commission which will go to Russia in the near future to study conditions, will be finally decided by the council of the League of Nations, it is known that Spain, Belgium, England, France, Italy and Japan will be represented. As far as can be ascertained here, no answer has been received to the invitation to the United States to send a representative.

Veteran Trapper Missing For Months

FREDERICKTON, N. B., March 5.—Search for Henry Braithwaite, a veteran trapper and widely known hunting guide, has been begun by parties of woodsmen on the hunting grounds about Miramichi. He has not been heard from for several months and because of the severe winter, fears are felt for his safety.

Regrets Attack on American Consulate

BERNE, March 4.—It is estimated that the damage done the United States consulate at Zurich, by the explosion of a bomb last night, will amount to 10,000 francs, but the place is still habitable and Consul General Keena and his family have returned there and reopened the office. The president of the Zurich government visited Mr. Keena today, and expressed the regrets of the authorities over the incident.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in March or May May Stay Covered

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish to look well the rest of the year. The March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use Othine—double strength.

This preparation for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of Othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.—Adv.

DOYLE BEATS NELSON

Boston Wizard Gives Clever

Exhibition—Murphy Wins From Diamond

With every one of the four bouts on the program, the members saw 28 rounds of boxing. The main bout of 12 rounds between Paul Doyle of Boston and Battling Nelson of Brockton resulted in a decision for Doyle. Billy Murphy won from Al Diamond in one eight round bout, while Harry Ah Chung and Buddy Dolan went to their eighth round in a very close fight. In the six round preliminary, Young Christie of Lowell was awarded the verdict over Young Hanson of Lawrence.

A big house turned out and judging from the enthusiasm and the comments the program proved very satisfactory. As might be expected in such a case there at the ringside were treated to a very diversified repertoire. The various types of the main art were clearly exemplified.

Paul Doyle showed remarkable cleverness, ring generalship, and hitting ability and his work was more conspicuous because of his opponent's rather awkward, yet at all times dignified style. Doyle is a wonderful long range artist, while Nelson's long suit is assimilation and slugging. Doyle had the advantage in most of the rounds, and while he hit Nelson from all angles and submitted him to a bewildering attack, his blows had little effect on the rugged Nelson. In the second round Doyle knocked Nelson to the mat, one of the few times that the Brooklyn brawler has been forced to hit the canvas. At this point Nelson did some effective work, but Doyle tied him up and then pulled away to let go another fusillade of blows to the head. Nelson took everything that Doyle gave him and always came back for more. Doyle had no effect on the battling person and Doyle realized this as the bout progressed. Doyle proved a wizard all the way and his high class performance brought the fans to their feet on many occasions.

Young Christie of Lowell defeated Young Hansen of Lawrence in the first bout of the evening, a six round preliminary, which went the limit. There was action in every round. Christie had the advantage and several times sent Dolan through the ropes with a hook to the chin. The blow took the "starch" out of Dolan, but he got up at the count of seven and held on until the bell. Dolan came strong in the sixth and the rally brought forth applause. The seventh and eighth were fairly even. The draw decision did not meet with unanimous approval.

Al Diamond and Billy Murphy, rival local boys, next entered the ring and they received a warm reception. This bout proved one of the fastest and most satisfactory semi-final numbers of the season. It was a whirlwind of action from going to going with Referee Noah Perry awarding Murphy a well earned decision. Murphy had a little weight advantage on Diamond. He was taller and had a longer reach. Factors that lessened Diamond's chances. Murphy launched a terrific attack at the outset and never let up until the final going. Diamond put up a game battle from start to finish, but he was unable to do much with Murphy. Diamond kept boxing in all the way, but Murphy would generally get him coming in with well directed blows to the head, and then tie him up. Murphy also cleverly side-stepped many of Diamond's vicious swings. He was fast on his feet, used a floe left, was cool and fought a heady battle. He dropped Diamond in the third and was sent down himself in the fourth. He was a long time to be recovered. Referee Perry's decision to Murphy was vigorously applauded.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS OFF FOR THE SOUTH

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 5.—Manager Pat Moran, with a squad of players of the champion Cincinnati National league baseball club, left here this morning for Miami, Fla., where spring training will begin next Monday. Included in the party were Catchers Hardeen and Allen; Pitchers Salles and Walters; the latter being a recruit from Buffalo; Infielders Meyers and Rapp; and Outfielders Neale and Duncan. Meyers is a young first baseman, who asked Manager Moran to be sent to Miami to go with the Reds for a try-out.

The squad will be joined at Atlanta by Ivy Fines and the Red Sox. All the other players will join the team at camp early next week, going there directly from their homes. Refusal of outfielder Groh yesterday to attach his signature to a $10,000 contract resulted in his being left behind. Groh insisted upon receiving $10,000 and declared he would play ball this year unless his terms were met, while officials of the club asserted firmly they would not yield an inch.

Outfielder Eddie Roush, who has not appeared at headquarters here to sign a contract, is expected to report at Miami within a few days.

FAST BASKETBALL ON TAP NEXT WEEK

The five players who will represent the Lowell A.A. basketball team in its clash with Maynard next Monday night probably will remain as a permanent lineup. Lew and Foley undoubtedly will slip around the court with the help of Alston, Costello and Dolan or Murphy. Such a combination has great potential strength and should adequately fill the demands of this slugging indoor sport.

Maynard has a strong quintet and will carry the locals along at a fast clip. The Association ball floor was not so slippery Monday night as it was last week and this will tend to make play more sure and accurate. Manager Lew is negotiating for more games which will bring the strongest professional teams in the state to the city.

GAMES WANTED

The second team of the Y.M.C.A. is looking for basketball games with teams to their weight and are in the city, the C.Y.M.A. and O.M.U. Cadets or boys who prefer basketball games can be arranged with Physical Director Waterman at the Y.

RECORD-SMASHING TRIO PROVIDENCE NOW LEADS

ROLLER POLO LEAGUE

City and High School Owe Much to Great Crop of High Jumpers

Truly remarkable times were turned in by Huntington school and Andover academy athletes during a dual meet between the two schools at the Boston Y.M.C.A. Wednesday, yet with all this show of talent, the high jump was won at the figure of 5 feet, 3 inches. That height would not get a visiting jumper even third place in Lowell today. And thereby hangs a tale.

Early of Huntington school won the 100-yard run in 26 1-5 seconds; Robertson of Huntington set up new record figures in the 600-yard run when he flew over the distance in 1 minute, 20 2-5 seconds; and Donnie Hush of Andover staged a sensational performance when he smashed the 1000-yard record and finished the grind in 2 minutes, 28 seconds.

Rarely does a runner get under 40 seconds for the three hundred on the local track; under 1 minute, 33 seconds for the "six hundred," or 2 minutes, 42 seconds for the "thousand," but in the high jump Lowell athletes stand alone and occupy a peculiar place among jumpers in all other Massachusetts public, private and prep schools.

Followers of track athletics in Lowell have become so accustomed to see their high school boys sail over the bar anywhere from 5 feet, 3 inches to 5 feet, 6 inches that they little realize the feat accomplished.

Two Wonderful Trials
Last year the Lowell trio of jumpers included Mansur, Harding and Saunders. This year it is Darling, Saunders and McAdams, each a trio in its own right. The yearling, Saunders, is probably unmatched in Massachusetts schoolboy history. With the graduation of the present record-breaking three this June, there may come a slump, but the Lowell high school boys have shown a great deal of marked superiority in this event. Remarkable performances have been turned in by the trio, mainly because folks took it as a matter of course once the record-smashing program got under way with a full head of steam.

Record-Smashing Campaign

For many years, dating back to about 1907, the local high jump record held by Earl Dodge was approximately 5 feet, 6 inches. It withstood many onslaughts until Warren Mansur stepped on to the track in 1915. As a freshman, he showed unusual ability and during his sophomore year records began to crack under his wonderful accomplishments. Each year, high school boys in Lowell pushed the bar up to dizzy heights. He was rarely ever beaten in competition and jumped his starrer way into the state schoolboy championship. When graduation took him from school he had set the record at 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches, far above the usual schoolboy standard. During his third and fourth years another boy was developing and along with the latter, also another, the captain of this year's team, Francis Saunders, broke the record of 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches, 2 1-2 inches higher than Mansur's best mark. He took up the task which Mansur left a strong and went the former captain one better.

When Mansur and Farnay fought it out for the state title last year, Darling jumped smoothly into third place, an inch or two behind. But he was coming into his own and reached the top of the local school record of 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches, 2 1-2 inches higher than Mansur's best mark. He took up the task which Mansur left a strong and went the former captain one better.

KNICKERBOCKER A.A. CARD ANNOUNCED

William F. Brophy, manager of Duxbury Knickerbocker club, who is to meet Young Avila, in the main bout at the Knickerbocker club on Monday night, has sent out a letter stating that his boy is training hard for the bout. He says that on Wednesday night at Dover, N. H., Kroll put up a sensational battle against Tommy Riley, and that the match was so satisfactory.

M.I.T. FRESHMEN HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Lowell high closes its indoor track season tomorrow night at the annex with M.I.T. Freshmen as opponents. The visitors are far beyond the high school class, but Lowell has lacking in other years with no apparent show of concern and while tomorrow evening's meet is sure to be fast and closely contested, the local boys feel they have a fair chance of winning. Lowell's long distance chances will be appreciably enhanced with the added strength of Pat Mullane, post-graduate runner. He is eligible to compete against teams of a higher grade than high school and he is sure to figure in the point summary. Probably Coach Haggerty will use him in the 600 and 1000-yard runs, leaving Ward and P. E. Mullane for the mile.

Preparations are being made to handle the largest crowd of the year and a clear track will be insisted upon at all times no matter how large the attendance. Arrangements have been made for a feature exhibition high jump between Warren Mansur and Brock Darling.

MEXICAN REBEL LEADER PUT TO DEATH

MEXICO CITY, March 5.—Cirilo Arana, rebel leader, who was captured less than a week ago, when he entered the city of Puebla disguised, was sentenced to death by a summary court-martial Wednesday night and executed yesterday morning in Puebla, according to advices received here.

Arana, whose forces a year ago were guarding the inter-oceanic railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, revolted against the government and since that time had been engaged in bandit operations. Among the crimes of which he was accused was the dynamiting of a train from Puebla carrying a number of boy scouts who were students in a German school in that city. Nine boys were killed by the bandits, who believed they were soldiers.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant Relief, Makes Breathing Easy
In New England, where Bronchial Asthma, Brouchitis, and other diseases of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidase, a physician's prescription. Oxidase is a harmless but powerful combination of curative essential oils concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets slowly dissolved before going to bed seems to have the effect of releasing the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and regulating the mucous lining action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Lowell Pharmacy and Liggett's, have secured a small supply and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if in any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidase is pleasant to take, contains no harmful habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter. Adv.

TO DISCUSS R.R. WAGES AND CONDITIONS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Preliminary arrangements are being made by representatives of railroad employees and executives for the opening of negotiations on wages and working conditions here early next week. Director General Hines who has charge of the conference planned to issue a call for the meeting for Tuesday or Wednesday.

Railroad executives were expected to select their representatives on the conference committee at a meeting in New York today. The employees already have chosen representation through the heads of the 15 unions. When the actual task of working out the question of wages and working conditions begins, it is understood that the membership of labor's delegation will be changed.

The Amazon river drains an area of 2,500,000 square miles.

"EMMET DAY"

142nd Birthday Anniversary of Irish Patriot Observed

BOSTON, March 5.—Irishmen in Boston and throughout the world observed yesterday the 142nd anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet, beloved patriot of the race.

In this city Irish county clubs held an Emmet service in Deacon building, 1531 Washington street, and in Roxbury and Jamaica Plain speakers at Emmet mass meetings retold the events of the Dublin youth's life and death. In the Irish bond certificate drive, now in progress, the day was designated "Emmet Day."

At every local meeting where Emmet's memory was honored speakers related the story of the uprising of 1803, of the revolt of July 23 in that year led by Emmet, the failure and flight to the Wicklow mountains and the unhappy return from hiding to see his sweetheart, Sarah Curran, to induce her to flee to America with him.

OPPOSE PARTITIONING OF ASIA BY TURKEY

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 1.—While the announcement that the Turks will be left in Constantinople has been welcomed especially by the sultan's supporters, it is daily becoming clearer that Mustapha Kemal's forces in Asia Minor will not accept peacefully the partitioning of Asia by Turkey. It is universally conceded Mustapha Kemal represents the real power of Turkey.

Mustapha Kemal's organized forces are variously estimated from 500,000 to one million, with the co-operation of various Arab and Kurd bands. His supporters predict war this spring or sooner, if the Greeks are left in Smyrna and the French in Cilicia.

Through their control of the Turkish chamber of deputies, it is asserted, Mustapha Kemal's nationalists virtually dominate the Constantinople government and laugh at allied threats to the sultan and allied naval displays in the straits.

HENDRYX GOES TO RED SOX

NOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 3.—Another of last year's Red Sox team was traded yesterday when a wire was received from Louisville by Manager Barrow announcing that the Colonels had accepted the Boston club's offer for outfielder Tim Hendryx.

The Red Sox gives up outfielder Bill Lamar and a considerable cash consideration for the veteran Hendryx, and thus Barrow's desire to secure a right hand hitting outfielder has been satisfied. With Lamar goes a lot of batting power, youth and a wonderful whip. Hendryx brings with him to the Red Sox a batting average of .365, placed last year in the American association and years of experience with the New York and St. Louis teams with whom he has played before.

Hendryx is a formidable hitter and a fair outfielder. He was with the Yankees in 1914 and 1917, and was traded in the winter of that year to St. Louis together with Shocker, Gordon and Sunkammer for Pratt and Plank. Last year Hendryx was the best looking ball player in the association. He is about 25 years of age.

One of the longest juvenile sessions in several weeks was held before Judge Enright in the municipal court this morning. The charges against the youngsters included larceny of newspapers, damaging property and delinquency. ## BLIZZARD IN EAST TONIGHT

Storm Which Swept Middle-west To Reach Atlantic Coast This Evening

Snow To Be Followed by Much Colder Weather, Says Weather Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The March blizzard which overspread the middlewest yesterday, with snow and low temperatures, will reach the Atlantic coast tonight, the weather bureau predicts today. The strength of the blizzard, it was said, had been dissipated in part, and although the rain falling along the eastern seaboard today will turn to snow, the fall will be light. It will be followed by much colder weather.

Snow as far south as Northern Alabama and unusually low temperatures over the entire south was forecast. Below freezing weather was said to be in store for interior Georgia and another frost was forecast for Florida.

The blizzard has left clear, cold weather in its middle western wake and prediction of similar weather was made for tomorrow.

REPORT MEXICO TO PROHIBIT EXPORT OF HIDES TO THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Mexican government is reported in consular circles to the department of commerce to be considering the issuance of a decree prohibiting the export of hides to the United States.

4 WOMEN, 3 MEN HELD AS INSANE SUSPECTS

MARTINEZ, Cal., March 5.—After their arrest as insane suspects as the result of a 24-hour seizure with outbursts, Adelina Bolchini, her mother, Mrs. S. Bottini, Mrs. Joseph Holdavini and Mrs. Edward Morrow, were committed to state hospital for the insane by the superior court here today.

Three men arrested with the women in a house at El Cerrito, near here yesterday, testified that they had tried to induce the women to cease the seizures but without effect. The men admitted that the last seizure in which they participated, had lasted for 24 hours, and they were so devoted to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep.

Insanity charges were placed against all seven.

RUMORS OF REVOLUTION ARE NOT CREDITED

LONDON, Thursday, March 4.—Rumors of a revolution in Portugal with the establishment of a soviet government there are not credited at the Portuguese legation here. It is pointed out that such reports generally come from the Spanish frontier and are notoriously untrustworthy.

Former King Manuel, with his wife, is enjoying the season on the Riviera. His intimates in London know that nothing is further from his desires than to become a figure in Portuguese politics. He is contented with the life of a plain gentleman in London and has not ambition to tragically re-establish a monarchy in Portugal.

Big Strike at Beverly

Observers at the factory gates estimated the number of strikers at 2000 to 2500. The company estimate placed the number at 1200 to 1500. Union officials said that from 2900 to 3000 men walked out.

A committee from the local branch of the International Association of Machinists had notified the company yesterday, that a strike would be declared unless the individual contract system was abandoned. The time set, however, was held secret.

The operatives dropped their tools at the appointed time and left the plant quietly. Outside, they formed a column and marched through the principal streets without demonstration. At local union headquarters, the strikers registered and then went to their homes.

ATTACKS IRISH HOME RULE BILL

Tells of Anti-English Feeling in U. S. and Loyalty of Irish-Americans

DUBLIN, March 4.—Sharp criticism of the new Irish home rule bill was expressed by Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Dublin convention at a welcome home dinner given in his honor here tonight by the Irish Dominion League. During his address Sir

EVANGELISTIC SERVICE IN LOCAL MILL

Standing and sitting around their weaving machines, but with the flying shuttles stilled, upwards of 200 operatives of the Massachusetts mills this noon were present at a brief service conducted by Evangelist George T. Stephens and a number of his party in Room 12 at 12:30 o'clock. The meeting was unique among religious services in Lowell, although the evangelist made no attempt to preach and gave over most of the half-hour to music.

Cornet solos by Henry James, piano selections by Mr. Young and songs by Mr. Blittkofer featured the meeting. In one or two of the song numbers, however, the men and women were asked to join and they did with a will. Dr. Stephens expressed his appreciation of the opportunity offered him to come to the mill by Agent William A. Mitchell and hoped he would have other chances to spend a cheerful hour with them. A show of hands gave proof that the evangelist will be welcome at any time.

There was no meeting at the later, made this afternoon, but the building

LABORERS GET INCREASE

$4.50 a Day For Men of the Street and Health Departments

Laborers in the street and health departments will receive an increase in wages to $4.50 per day, according to authoritative information coming from city hall today. The wages will be retroactive to March 1.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy was to have told the Municipal Employees' union today what decision he had reached on the petition of street laborers for a $4.50 per day wage, but Mr. Murphy went to Boston this forenoon and could not be reached. However, it is understood that an increase from $4.02 to $4.50 per day is to be granted the men in this department and inasmuch as Mayor Perry D. Thompson said that he would grant the men in the health department whatever the others got, it is assumed they will also come in on the $4.50 increase.

The mayor and Commissioner Murphy have been studying out their finances during the past few days in an endeavor to see just what increase they could give their men. It was learned at the mayor's office today that he had practically decided on $4.50 per day and from this information it may be justifiably concluded that Commissioner Murphy has reached the same decision.

Police and firemen have already been assured of a $5 wage while Commissioner Marchand has not yet announced his decision relative to the 15 per cent. increase request of the carpenters in his department.

will be open for service at 7:30 o'clock tonight as usual.

LAST NIGHT'S SERVICE

Dr. Stephens preached last night on the subject "Crowded Out." In part, he spoke as follows: "I am going to talk to you tonight on the second chapter of Luke, part of the 17th verse: 'And they laid him in a coffin.'"

Sperry Opposes Proposals For Adjusted Compensation For War Heroes

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Payment of a lump sum of $500 to each person who served in the military or naval forces of the United States, was urged before the house ways and means committee today by Marvin Gates Sperry, national president of the Private Soldiers' and Sailors' Legion.

He opposed proposals of representatives of other soldier organizations for adjusted compensation, varying from $30 to $50, for every month of service, and said the services of four million young Americans never could be paid for by "the skimpy, miserly additional compensation bills pending before congress."

"The $500 grant," he told the committee, "would not be paid for time."

GENERAL WOOD COMING TOMORROW

General Leonard Wood, republican candidate for president, will be in Lowell tomorrow forenoon. He will come here on the 9 o'clock train from Boston which reaches the Middlesex street station at 9:40, on his way to Manchester, N. H. It is probable that the general will give a brief speech at the station and prominent local republicans are planning to meet him.

BOSTON, March 5.—Terms of settlement of the dispute between Harry H. Frazee and Joseph J. Lannin, respectively president and former president of the Boston American League Baseball club, have been agreed upon. Counsel for Lannin announced today. It concluded the order of the court for the auction sale of Fenway park, home grounds of the club, will be cancelled.

Strikers Seek To Eliminate System of Individual Contracts

BEVERLY, March 5.—A strike of employees of the United Shoe Machinery Co. began today. Apparently on a time signal, operatives left their benches and machines at 9 a. m., and within a few minutes the shops which employ 8200 persons had lost many workers. The union, which seeks to eliminate a system of individual contracts, claims a membership of 4200.

The walkout was effected without disturbance. The plant continued in operation, and company officials said there was no indication that a suspension of work

IRISH BOND CAMPAIGN WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

The 500 collectors who have been working for the past two weeks to raise Lowell's quota of $60,000 in the Irish bond campaign have but one day more in which to complete their work because the executive committee in charge of the drive has set Sunday as the date for the official close of the campaign.

The workers still have several thousand dollars to go before the quota will be reached but present indications point to a heavy over-subscription by the time final reports are received. Today and tomorrow are being devoted to "clean-up" work on the part of the campaigners who are making a second trip through territory previously covered but not thoroughly combed of all possible subscriptions.

By closing its campaign Sunday Lowell will have established a record among the cities of the state as being the first to put across its quota. A number of cities, notably Haverhill, are just beginning to open the bond drives in their communities.

ALLIES GET WILSON'S NOTE

Will Be Delivered to Earl Curzon by Ambassador Davis

LONDON, March 5.—President Wilson's note in reply to the latest communication of the allied premiers on the Adriatic question, reached the American embassy here today. It will be delivered to Earl Curzon, the foreign secretary, this afternoon. Ambassador Davis probably will hand the note in person to Lord Curzon. The instructions sent with the note from Washington contains no mention of arrangements for its publication.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The rejoinder of President Wilson at the last note of the French and British premiers on the Adriatic situation was placed on the cables last night, and today was in the hands of American diplomatic agents in Europe. The message probably will be decoded today and laid before the premier.

The state department declined to make public the contents of the note or intimate the position the president had taken on the proposal contained in the recent Anglo-French communication.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A summary of President Wilson's note to the premiers on the Adriatic situation, is to be made public by the state department, probably late today. Officials indicated that the full text would not be given out at this time.

That the decision to close the drive in Lowell on Sunday was reached. Chairman Stephen Flynn presided and the various officials connected with the campaign were present.

Whatever sum is realized by that time will be considered Lowell's total and next week will be devoted to the suburban towns. There is every reason to believe that the total will be well beyond the $60,000 quota mark by that time. If this proves true, Lowell will have established the enviable record of having secured her quota a week before her allotted time had expired, because the state campaign officials have given until St. Patrick's day to finish the work.

The parish teams are still maintaining a close rivalry for first place in the amount of bond sales. St. Patrick's, St. Peter's and the Immaculate Conception parish are in the

RAPID COAL DELIVERY

B. & M. Placed 38 Cars of Soft Fuel Yesterday— Tracks Well Thawed Out

The Boston & Maine did its best day's work in placing cars of soft coal to consignees yesterday that has been accomplished locally for several weeks. Thirty-eight cars were set, leaving only approximately 25 standing on side tracks. Most of these will be placed before nightfall today and for the first time in many days the road will be abreast of the demands as far as coal delivery is concerned.

Very little coal is coming into the city, however, either soft or hard. Eight cars of soft coal rolled in last night, but none of anthracite.

The local office of the American Railway Express is beginning to see the bottom of the huge pile of packages which has completely filled the express sheds at the depot and overflowed onto the station platform during the recent weeks. Embargoes continue to appear, however, and this morning one was put on all New Haven shipments consigned to any office in Connecticut or Rhode Island. The New Haven road is still in a congested freight and express condition over its southern New England lines and the embargo will remain in force until some relief is felt.

Local city express deliveries are being made more expeditiously today than for some time, and the company feels that the peak of the congestion has passed. The railroad feels the same way and officials expect a return to normal conditions within another week.

WILSON'S VIEWS ON COMPROMISE

Democratic Senators Act To Prevent Another Deadlock on Treaty

To Lay Latest Proposals Discussed as Possible Compromise Before President

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Still hoping that the peace treaty may be saved from another deadlock, democratic senators sought today to lay directly before President Wilson the latest proposals discussed as a possible compromise basis on article 10.

While reconsideration of the republican resolutions proceeded in the senate, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, is understood to have written the president asking that he see administration senators and give them his views as to whether he would accept the compromise proposals now under consideration.

These proposals are said to contemplate a change in the republican article 10 reservations so that military force and other specific agencies would be named as means which the United States would decline to use to preserve the integrity of other league members.

The move for a conference with the president is said to have grown out of negotiations which have been in progress for several days under the direction of Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, for the democratic aide and Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, for the republicans.

Yesterday a democratic senator who went to the White House did not see Mr. Wilson and after a talk with Sec-

VARNUM AVE. MUST WAIT

Home Rule Committee Learns

Zone Extension Not Feasible at Present

The amount of traffic on the Varnum avenue line of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. is not sufficient to warrant the extension of the central fare zone from the Lowell General Hospital to the end of the line, according to Manager Thomas Lees of the Lowell district of the company, who told members of the railway "home rule" committee at their meeting in the mayor's reception room at city hall late yesterday afternoon that the company could not afford to make any zone extensions at the present time owing to the large amount of revenue it must raise to cope with the cost of removing snow this winter.

Residents of Pawtucketville last week had approached the home rule committee on the matter, pointing out that patrons of the Varnum avenue line were obliged under the present system to pay an extra fare to ride from the hospital to the end of the line whereas other lines, much longer in length, cost but one fare. The matter was brought up at yesterday's meeting, but met with little enthusiasm from Manager Lees.

Otherwise, yesterday's meeting was purely routine. It was called at 4.20, Chairman John J. O'Rourke was absent and John B. Sullivan was appointed temporary chairman.

Manager Lees submitted a communication from Homer Loring, chairman of the trustees of the railway company, relative to the suggestion made at the last meeting of the committee that fare tickets costing 50 cents and allowing eight rides be put into effect as well as the present 16 rides for a dollar system. The trustees believed that the matter should be taken under advisement until the one-man cars are put in operation in this city. It is believed that tickets of this nature would lead to confusion on the new style cars.

On motion of Mr. Richard the letter was accepted and placed on file.

Manager Lees then presented a table showing the distances from Merrimack square to the ends of the various zones on the city lines for future reference by the committee.

Mr. Sullivan asked Mr. Lees if any action had been taken relative to the restoration of the waiting room in Merrimack square. Mr. Lees said that he had talked to Mr. McCard of Carter & Sherburne's, but without success. He said that the company couldn't afford to hire a store for a waiting room, but would probably be willing to bear part of the expense if some concern could be induced to use part of the space for commercial purposes.

Secretary Curtin moved that a subcommittee be appointed to look into the matter and Messrs. O'Rourke, Charney and Curtin were appointed on motion of Mr. Sullivan.

Mr. Curtin then brought up the Varnum avenue matter and it was discussed at length, but Mr. Lees said that he was sure that the trustees would not be willing to grant any extensions of zones on any line until some of the half million dollars lost by the storms of the present winter had been recovered. He said that the Varnum avenue line was one of the "highest" in the city. The extension of the zone limit, he said, would decrease the company's revenue.

Secretary Curtin said that he believed the committee should decide on some regular meeting days so that members wouldn't be notified only a few hours in advance of each meeting. It was finally voted that hereafter the fourth Thursday of every month at 4 p. m. Mr. Richard suggested that the secretary send a postal card to each of the members on the preceding Monday to "jog" their memories and it was so noted. Manager Lees said the company would "pay for the postals."

Mrs. Burke wanted to know if it was the business of the committee in a car to tell people to move up forward when the car is crowded.

Manager Lees said it was, most decidedly, and that it was part of the rules and regulations which each conductor is given when he enters the service. Mrs. Burke said she felt some of the men had been lax about the matter during the heavy traffic this winter and the result had caused considerable inconvenience to patrons.

Mr. Sullivan asked if anything had been done relative to labor car service on Sunday nights and Mr. Lees said that a schedule maker from Boston had been called to Lowell and will take up the matter at once.

Toward the end of the meeting, Manager Lees said that in accordance with the promise made by the trustees to the city council that when the city ordinance went into effect fares would be reduced on the Chelmsford Centre and North Chelmsford lines, beginning next Sunday the fare on these lines will be 12½ cents with tickets instead of the 15-cent fare previously in vogue. The new fare will not allow transfer privileges, however.

The Tyngsboro line will be re-opened just as soon as the snow and ice there are cleared away. Mr. Lees said he understood that the residents of that town were to have a "dig-out" day next Saturday and that the line would probably be restored soon after. Adjourned at 6.20 until March 23.

Government economic experts have been interested in Grapevine's scheme with a view to its use to lower the cost of living, and the discoverer has offered to present his secret process to the government.

"MADE IN AMERICA"

Our Dyes Used by Medical Research Libraries

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Medical research libraries in this country in their search for a tuberculosis specific or cure for any other disease, are no longer dependent upon German made dyes. "Made in America" dyes are now being used. They give as good results as did imported dyes used before the war.

This announcement was made at the Henry Phipps Institute, where laboratory experiments developed that certain dyes localized themselves in tuberculosis tissue. Efforts are being made to modify these dyes with other chemical agents, that will kill the tuberculosis germs.

Trypan red dyes have been found to give the best results. As many as 15 modifications of this dye have been used in experimentation. Other reds and some blues have also been used. The staining qualities act as guide to the localization.

WOMEN PREPARE WAR AGAINST PRICE PIRATES

BY MAX STERN,

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The H. U. of A.—Here is a combination of letters to make food tyrants tremble.

It stands for "Housewives Union of America," and is looked upon here as the logical, certain and rapid outgrowth of the present Housewives' league.

Over 5000 militant mothers and wives have quit talking and are using their one big weapon—organized buying power. Controlling the household budget, these women have been swinging the boycott with such telling effect that the movement has spread all over California. There are now over a score of "unions" in as many cities and towns. A statewide federation is under way, and at the present momentum the Housewives' league promises soon to become national.

Although they are adopting a legislative program and will not hesitate to wield their political power if necessary, the California movement is largely economic. If after a thorough investigation by experts, a firm, or a food combine is found to be profiteering a boycott is promptly slipped on the article and the patronage of the "union" goes to the concern that sells at a fair profit.

So far this method has been unflinching in bringing the gougers to surrender. On the constructive side the women are prepared, if feasible, to go into business direct with the farmers and they are looking into the co-operative movement with open minds.

The league idea started six months ago in Berkeley, where the State university is located, among a group of mothers a number of whom were professors' wives. So successful were these women in fighting the "milk trust" and breaking a "bakers' combine" that the movement spread quickly to Oakland and then to San Francisco. Here they are organizing district clubs in churches. Their "central union" meets fortnightly under the very dome of the city hall and the "city mothers" placid, but determined, swing their economic weapons from chairs that on other days are occupied by the "city dads" when they make the laws.

So far the mothers and wives have been more successful in curbing high prices than either the city administration or the federal authorities. Here are some of the things they have already done in four months:

Made war upon the "milk combine" resulting in the grocers of the city and the people paid whatever these two combines decreed. Today, largely as the result of the fight the women have made, the two are at odds, and the dairymen are furnishing the grocers with cheap milk to break the distributors' ring.

In Berkeley and Oakland the bakers' combine announced a rise in bread prices from 15 to 17 cents a loaf. At once the phones got busy and into a thousand homes flashed the order "Don't buy 17 cent bread." In a week the bakers noticed that they were selling little bread, but that a number of the "small fellows" who were still selling at 15 cents were loaded down with business. In two weeks they were on their knees, and the 17 cent order was rescinded.

To Cut Milk Price

In the same way the mothers prevented milk going from 15 cents to 16 cents a quart.

In Berkeley they have an investigation committee upon which are a number of university scientists who gave their time gratis to help get at the facts. For instance when the "milk trust" was discovered throwing skim milk down the sewer to keep up the price, the Berkeley mothers put out a report that skim milk is too valuable food for humans to be even fed to hogs.

But California women are only started. They are now circulating a petition to the governor to include in a proposed special call of the legislature the matter of anti-profiteering laws.

They are planning to storm the supervisors again for a measure aimed at rent profiteers.

They plan a "rent bureau" to help housewives to pick the most economical dwelling place.

Co-operate With Officials
The housewives keep in close touch

In general, however, the movement does not rely so much upon the courts as upon the economic power vested in the women's control of the household budget.

A committee of the women is also looking into the co-operative store movement that has gained in the west to a considerable extent.

Lawyer Conboy Demands Expulsion on Grounds That They Are "Traitors"

ALBANY, N. Y., March 5.—Expulsion of the five suspended socialist members of the New York state assembly, who have been under investigation by the judiciary committee, on the ground that they are "traitors," was demanded by Martin Conboy, summing up the case against the legislators yesterday. Mr. Conboy insisted that the charges against the five men have been proved. "I feel confident of the determination which you gentlemen shall reach, because I believe that with me instead of the cry 'Long live the International council of the proletarians' you will say, 'Long live the United States of America,'" was Mr. Conboy's closing paragraph of a six-hour address. Spectators in the assembly chamber applauded loudly as Mr. Conboy completed his remarks. Seymour Steadman will sum up for the socialist assemblymen today, while former Senator Elton R. Brown is expected to say the last word for the prosecution next Tuesday.

That the socialist party "is composed of perpetual traitors," that its members, sworn to uphold its policies, must take the oath of office in the legislature "with a lie on their lips and in their hearts," and that the party "is trying to bring about a revolution in this country" were among charges made by Mr. Conboy.

Challenging remarks by Morris Hillquit, chief counsel for the defense, early in the investigation that the socialists "would walk out of the chamber in humiliation if it were proven that the party had advocated and urged its members to refrain from taking part in war in any shape or manner," Mr. Conboy asserted that this charge has been proven and that the "socialists have not left the chamber." Mr. Conboy directed the committee's attention to what occurred during remarks by Mr. Hillquit in summing up for the defense yesterday as "one of the most complete, frank, unblushing threats of the use of industrial mass action."

"Under the veil of a smile a threat was employed that if you gentlemen conclude that these five socialist assemblymen should not sit in this chamber as members of this assembly, a general strike might be called," Mr. Conboy declared. "The threat carries itself further. You must not only admit them but you must take their legislative program and enact it into law; otherwise the general strike will again be employed. It can be utilized in like fashion to impose upon the people of the United States the form of government that the adherents to and expounders of the general strike desire the people to have."

Mr. Conboy quoted from the socialist constitution to bear out his statement that "these five assemblymen present themselves at the door of this chamber, not as representatives of the thousands of voters who cast their ballots for their election, but as proxies for a small group of dues-paying members, in no case exceeding 600 in number, many of whom are aliens, some of whom are minors, all of whom are disloyal."

Justice Officials Give Up Hope of
Prices.

Department of Justice officials in charge of the government campaign to reduce the cost of necessities have apparently become reconciled to the fact that the public will have to pay yet higher prices for their wearing apparel, and are turning their attention toward the task of making the further increases the public still is to experience, the peak. The investigation made by the department has convinced officials that fall prices are to be much higher than present prices, that they cannot expect to reduce these prices below or even to present price levels.

OPPOSES "MONEY HAND OUT" TO EX-SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Flat opposition to financial relief legislation for former service men, the first to be expressed by a former soldier, was asserted yesterday before the house ways and means committee by Walter W. Burns of Green Point, N. Y., a former artillery captain.

A "money hand-out" to the former service men, he said, "would simply be money thrown away."

Practically no former soldiers or sailors are without employment, Burns said, adding that most of them do not know the effect the payment of a bonus would have. Outstanding government obligations would depreciate if a bond issue were authorized, Burns said.

All soldiers would take a money grant if congress authorized it, he told the committee. Representative Stainey, democrat, Illinois, replied that this was true even to members of congress "who talk and vote against salaries and mileage allotments but always take the money."

Burns contended that the satisfaction of having fought to defend the country was sufficient reward.

"If the war had continued two weeks more every American soldier would have been so tickled, they would not want any bonus," he added.

Representative Gardner, democrat, Texas, said not a former service man in his district had written in favor of the proposed financial relief.

"They don't know you are in congress, then," a representative of a soldier organization seated in the committee room interjected.

Even the American Legion is divided on the question, Burns said, adding that he was a member of that organization and had talked with many others opposed to the legion's plans. Those who need a bonus would squander it and those who don't need it would put it in the bank, he argued.

Attacks Irish Home Rule Bill

Horace, who has just returned from the United States gave his impressions of the American attitude toward Ireland. A large number of persons prominent in Irish affairs attended the dinner.

"Long before the war broke out," he said, "I was convinced the peace of the world and the orderly progress, if not the survival of western civilization depended more than on any other one thing, on mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of free nations—a term I prefer to the British empire—and the great republic of the west. How far Germany timed Armageddon with an eye on Ulster let historians say. But it is a matter of personal knowledge that from 1911 the Prussian government was organizing a German-Irish alliance in American politics with a view to the coming attack upon the world's freedom."

Loyalty of Irish-Americans

"I have not the least doubt that, supposing the Irish trouble had nothing to do with the beginning of the war, it was an important factor in delaying America's decisive participation in the struggle. To the same cause was due a great deal of the political embarrassment to the war administration in Washington. I remember the question being actually raised whether the American navy could wisely utilize Ireland as its base of operations. Though, happily, strategic considerations overruled political objections, only the splendid loyalty to America of Irish-Americans counteracted the deep resentment caused by contrasts all too easily drawn between the treatment of the northeast corner and the rest of our country in conflicts with the British government."

War Aims Hypocrites

"Notwithstanding governmental control of news which was unprecedented in the history of the British people, which to their honor let it be said they have hitherto set a shining example to the world respecting freedom of opinion, Ireland has become increasingly during the last decade, the final proof to every enemy of England and America that British aims in war and peace are mere hypocrites, where they profess to have any regard whatsoever for the liberty of small nations."

lament and all the British government know this. Now and again some prominent politician wins cheers by telling America to mind her own business, and talking about her negro question. If we had as many negroes in this country as the Americans have Irish in theirs, and if these colored people possessed the franchise here, we should be no more silent about that problem than the Americans are about Ireland."

Bitter Anti-English Feeling in U. S.

"I agree that it is undesirable for any alien legislative body or official representatives of an alien government to indulge in official utterances or actions of such nature, but what these people or bodies rightly or wrongly may say or do, is of infinitely small importance compared with what the people in the mass think."

"In America I found more bitter anti-English feeling than in all my 40 years of observation. As usual, although due to many other causes, it was tangled up with the Irish trouble, and was generally expressed in what I may call Irish terms. Americans do not bother themselves with details. They want Ireland to have as

Veto Power to Ulster

"In my judgment America does not want Ireland to be an independent republic, but until the British government ceases to break its promises to Ireland, the sentiment of America will be that the Irish people are justified in asking anything they like."

Sir Horace criticized the home rule bill because it gave Ulster and a minority of not more than one-fifth of the Irish people, a "virtual mandatory over Ireland—a mandatory without responsibility."

"If the southern parliament took the trouble to be born," he concluded, "it would probably christen itself a republic, and be immediately carried out by its indignant nurse. Ireland would then present, as a monument to British statesmanship, the spectacle of martial law over the greater part of a country that demands home rule, and home rule in the northeast corner, which never asked for it."

GOV. COOLIDGE SOUNDS WARNING TO LABOR

BOSTON, March 5.—Governor Coolidge sounded a warning to labor last evening when he declared to the members of Williams Alumni Association of Boston at their 53d annual dinner in the Exchange club, that any attempt at domination by leaders in labor organizations will be outlawed by the people of the country.

Business, he said, which had been hampered for the past 29 years, should be aware of the significance in the recent decision of the United States supreme court which declared by a vote of 4 to 3 that the steel trust was not an organization in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Among other observations of importance regarding the industrial situation the governor said: "For the past few years we have had an example of the other end of the scale, and instead of looking at business our attention was turned to employees."

"We had three organizations which have brought about great benefits to the country. They have been able to get increases in salaries, shorter hours, better working and living conditions for the great mass of American people, and they are entitled to a great deal of credit. And I do not believe there's a man here who does not hope to see them continue."

"But," he continued, "I think they need to take a lesson from big business." If a few men gain disrepute the result, he inferred, would be the same as that occurring to business interests some years ago. "We do not want to see organizations of employees brought into disfavor by the actions of their leaders, we want to see them go on and bring benefits and prosperity to the nation, he said.

A great deal has been said about capital and labor during the past two years, he stated. But these charges are only imaginary in a country like America, he said. "There are very few real capitalists in this country in the real sense of the word, for there are very few who live on their income and do not work at all."

Service to the country and mankind, he claimed, is the one thing that gives satisfaction to the individual and would prove true for the country. Already, he cited, America has shown its fundamental principles by not insisting on immediate payments of interests due on loans to foreign powers.

Domination by labor, he concluded, could not occur and cited two cases. In Italy when a general strike was carried on against the government it lasted but eight days and another strike on the railroads in France lasted but a few hours, he pointed out.

"That's an indication that the people over there are under a greater stress than here and are determined that their government will be maintained," he said. "Over here," he stated, "we hear a great deal of attempts to overthrow the government, and it is fitting to sound the alarm and tell them of the dangers which surround them. But when they are organized there's little doubt that our institutions will be maintained."

Professor James B. Pratt, who represented President Garfield of Williams college, brought the gathering a message of what was happening in the little town in the Berkshire. Since the war, he stated, the students who have returned have a broader vision and a wider horizon in the things of life and the usual teaching methods employed in the other days are being modernized.

Before the war many wonder if the real spirit at the college was a thing of the past, he said, when he charged some of the students with holding "afternoon teas." The days of the "afternoon teas" had passed, he said, and the students are showing more spirit and co-operation with the faculty than ever before.

More than 150 of the alumni were present during the banquet and rousing college songs were sung by all. America's college song was sung with great enthusiasm for the guest of the evening, the governor, who is a graduate of that institution. James B. Pratt, president of the association, presided and introduced the following speakers: Frederick Keller, '83; MacGregor Jenkins, '90; Damon E. Hall, '91, and H. Henry Williams Dwight.

STABBED FOUR TIMES BY HER ESCORT

BOSTON, March 5.—Because she refused to accompany her escort to a moving picture show and told him he was too intoxicated to escort her, Agnes Logan, a domestic employed at the home of Captain H. G. Armstrong, British consul-general at Boston, 263 Beacon street, was stabbed four times by the man and is in a serious condition at the City hospital.

The slashing occurred about 7.45 and created a furor on Beacon street. The girl screamed as she fled from her assailant. He pursued, slashing wildly at the girl.

Francis Costello of 185 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, and Patrick Coughlin, 9 Merion street, Charlestown, were passing and, attracted by the girl's screams, rushed to her aid. Her assailant then fled along Beacon street toward the Public Garden. The two men assisted the woman, who was weak from loss of blood, to the office of George W. Brewster, at 213 Beacon street.

Dr. Brewster at once notified the police of the Back Bay station. Miss Logan was too excited to tell the whole story while the physician was giving her first aid treatment. A police ambulance brought her to the City hospital. Here it was discovered that the wounds were not deep ones and probably inflicted with a pocket knife. She was slashed in the left side of the neck, under the ear.

The girl told the police the name of the man and an officer was sent to arrest him. The police would not make public his name last night.

PLAN MANUFACTURE OF AMERICAN GOODS IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON.—A new company has been formed to arrange the manufacture of American goods in Great Britain for British and empire markets. It is stated by the American chamber of commerce in London.

With the growth of the movement for preferential arrangements among the countries making up the British empire, many American manufacturers already have considered it desirable to establish factories in Canada. The new company is working, however, on the presumption that the advantages of a factory in Great Britain are greater.

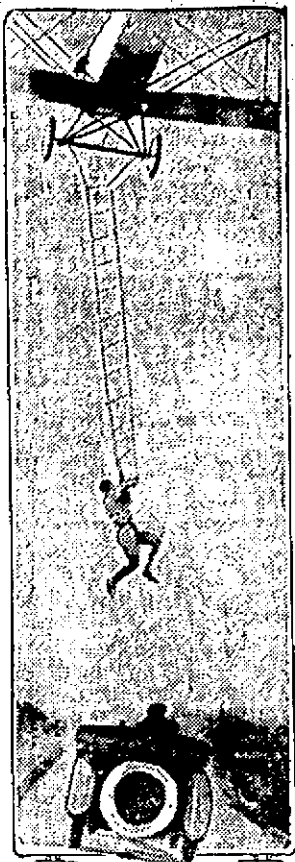

The American chamber understands that the new company will encourage and assist American manufacturers of successful commodities to establish plants in Great Britain, but where the American manufacturer is not interested in doing so and is willing to sell his manufacturing rights, the new company will undertake to find British or French manufacturers who will take over these rights. Similarly it will introduce into America goods which have proved successful in Great Britain or France.

The new company is understood to have received many inquiries from manufacturers on both sides of the Atlantic who are anxious to have their goods produced in the other country. The function of the new company is to bring such manufacturers together, its profits arising out of a percentage of the royalty or a lump sum payable for the patent or the process.

DETROIT, Mich., March 5.—Michigan was in the grip of the March blizzard today. Heavy snowfall, high winds and near zero temperatures, were reported from various parts of the state.

CHICAGO, March 5.—A book of rules for employees of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, circulated today, says:

"No male employee receiving less than $125 a month salary will be permitted to marry while in the service of this bank, without first taking the matter up with the chief clerk."

"The sum set in the book is the minimum on which an employee can risk a matrimonial venture," said C. R. McKay, vice governor of the bank, who added that the rule was "imperative."

"The bank officials believe $125 a month is the least on which two may live in these days," he said.

REPORTS OF MASSACRES GREATLY EXAGGERATED

PARIS, March 5.—The total number of Armenians who were victims in the massacre in the Marash region of Asiatic Turkey last month does not exceed 5000, according to detailed information received by French officials. Reports from London yesterday stated the number would be between 15,000 and 20,000.

French officials admit the gravity of the incident, but point out it was impossible to foresee and prevent the massacre, as the army of occupation is not large enough to furnish strong guards at every point where the Turks are likely to engage in an uprising.

Capacity audiences, enthusiastic happy audiences were the rule at all of yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre. Doris Kenyon in "The Band Box" from the novel by Louis Joseph Vance has a peppy melodrama that keeps young and old tuned up to concert pitch from the first to the last reel. It's a strangely interesting melodrama, being the tale of how Doris Kenyon came dangerously close to saying "good morning, Judge," when the police search a mysterious case for jewels. The added attraction, "The Cloak-and-Dagger," a story of creeps and tears, featuring Charlie Ray, made a pronounced hit. But of course the laughing honors went to Charlie Chaplin in "The Rink." How Charlie ever escaped breaking his neck is a mystery, but then we should worry. Charlie survived and everybody enjoyed it. It's a great balance show, no movie fan should miss it. The performances are continuous, starting at 1 p. m. and eight patrons arriving before 7.30 see the entire show.

RED PILLS are especially suited to women and young girls who are pale and thin, tired and nervous

Pale, Weak and Nervous

I was very nervous, pale, and so weak that I could not even digest my food right. The physician who was attending me had definitely told me that he did not expect to be able to cure me, but simply to give me relief. My case was called: "Nervous indigestion." Just one of my relatives still had confidence, for she was a fervent believer in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and finally persuaded me to give them a trial. I took them regularly and was pleased to notice a decided improvement after a few months of treatment. At the end of a year, my different ailments had gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. As my household duties are rather trying at times, I have resolved that I will take a couple of boxes of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women from time to time, just to keep my strength up.

Mrs. ALBERTINE LEFEBVRE
334 Brook Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

RED PILLS, Her Friend for Fifteen Years

It is now fifteen years since I first became acquainted with RED PILLS, and I may safely say that they have been my salvation during that time. I was the mother of fifteen children, so that my daily duties were indeed very strenuous and at times trying. I was tired and feeling ill at ease. RED PILLS proved themselves once again; they helped me to regain my strength, saved me from any serious sickness and made me fit to attend properly to my various household duties.

—Mrs. CALIXTE ROBIDAS
272 Dubuque Street,
Manchester East, N.H.

RED PILLS, the Best Tonic

Being the mother of seven children, and having to attend to all the household duties, besides looking after my children, I naturally gave way and became weakened, and suffered severely from indigestion. Having so often read of the various cures effected by the use of RED PILLS, I decided to give them a trial, and after taking them for three months, I was delighted to notice that I was getting stronger and that my health was improving in many ways. Since that time I have firmly made up my mind that I will always take RED PILLS whenever I feel the need of a good tonic to build me up.

—Mrs. J. BERUBE,
259 Cartier Street,
Manchester West, N.H.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

HOLLAND'S ANSWER ON DEMAND FOR KAISER

THE HAGUE, March 5.—Holland's answer to the second allied note relative to the extradition or internment of former Emperor William of Germany, will probably be handed Premier Lloyd George by the Dutch minister in London this week. Intimations have been given that The Netherlands government will express its willingness to guard the erstwhile monarch and prevent anything that might threaten the peace of Europe.

Night and day shifts are working on the Kaiser's new residence at Doorn, and it is reported he will move there his days.

from Amerongen on May 12. A high fence about the house at Doorn, to which objection was made, at first because it obstructed the public road, is now near completion, the authorities having waived opposition to the work. A special trainload of furniture arrived at Doorn from Berlin several months ago, and recently five additional truckloads were received there. The building has been radically remodeled, half of the first floor being prepared for Count Hohenzollern's occupancy, while one of the wings will be given over to the former empress. While unprotected by high walls or a moat, the Doorn estate is now in reality a 200-acre cage that can be easily guarded and within which the Dutch government expects William of Hohenzollern to spend the rest of his days.

SETTLEMENT NEAR

Symphony's Union and Trustees in Conference

BOSTON, March 5.—A settlement of the differences between the union players of the Boston Symphony orchestra and Judge Frederic Cabot, chairman of the board of trustees, is expected as a result of a conference yesterday between Judge Cabot and Arthur Berenson, attorney for the union players. The settlement, it is believed, will be favorable to the union men, who are asking for recognition of their union and for a flat increase of $1000 per man.

SHE'S REAL AMERICAN PRINCESS

NEW LACE PATTERN DESIGN EVERY WEEK

MADRID—Spain has had not less than eight new governments with 50 ministerial changes in less than two years. Last year, alone saw four changes in cabinets with 44 ministerial changes. Virtually every one of these changes was due to the military juntas, or as they are called "constitutive committees."

These juntas were originally formed to fight favoritism and injustice in the army, the chief grievance of the members being that places on the general staff were allotted to favorites of the government of the day. One of the first actions of the juntas, which are presided over by the colonels, the highest ranking officers who are allowed to join, was to decide that none of the members should allow their names to be placed in nomination for places on the general staff.

The result would have been that after the deaths or retirement of the present members there would be no officers to form the staff. But 23 officers refused to be bound by this decision, with the result that they were halted before courts of honor and their resignations from the army insisted upon. Governments, under pressure from the liberal, socialist and other progressive elements in the Cortes, have promised to revoke these decisions of the courts of honor, but found it difficult to do so for the juntas threatened to withdraw their support from the government, in other words, should an emergency arise such as a revolution or social war, the army would be leaderless.

New York.—Merchant Tailors' Committee Favors $185 as Standard Price for Custom Made Suits.—As a result of the increased cost of materials and labor consumed in producing a custom made suit, Frank M. Prestwich, head of the house of Edouard, and chairman of the committee on selling prices of the Merchant Tailors' Society of New York, has recommended to that body that the standard selling price of a suit be placed at $185, as against the pre-war standard of $85.

This shows an increase in the selling price of 125 per cent.—against an increase in cost of 150 per cent. Other garments should be priced proportionately.

Thus the juntas became a political force, which opposed radical legislation and otherwise interfered in affairs of state. They are really a great fraternal society, the members of which accept orders only from the president colonels in all affairs of the army, ignoring those of king, generals and government.

To dissolve these juntas the Cortes must pass a bill to repeal the act which legalized them, and the moment that is done, every infantry officer, who obeys the orders of his junta, must resign from the army.

Sooner or later the new cabinet must face a debate on the "military question." This has, since the intervention of the juntas in politics, each time led to the downfall of the ministry.

THREE EMBASSIES FROM THRACE ARE TOURING THIS COUNTRY

The members of the mission are: Angelos Constantine, secretary, Smyrna; Dr. Panayotis Nicolopoulos, University of Paris; Nicholas Kallias, Constantinople; Dr. Pateologos Georgiou, National University of Greece.

Health Service Says, "Don't Use Toothpicks"

To use a tooth pick is generally to be condemned as in its use many persons injure the delicate gum tissue which extends in a crescent-shaped mass between the teeth. The preservation of this tissue is very desirable. Dental floss is very valuable in cleansing the surface between the teeth.

To use floss with benefit, draw it carefully through between the teeth with a pulling motion, and when it is freely movable, draw it carefully back and forth over all the surfaces between the teeth, but do not force it beneath the gum margin.

The use of a dentifrice is desirable, and there is no particular choice in the selection of one except that it should not be gritty. In this case it would be too harsh for continuous use; there are very few, if any, which can be said to be harmful.

The thorough rinsing of the mouth and a gargling of the throat will complete a rational mouth toilet, and this can be easily accomplished in two minutes. It is advisable to follow these procedures upon arising, and it is of special advantage to cleanse the mouth just before retiring, as it is during the period of rest that bacteria are most active.

Answered

Q. What is the cause of headaches above the eyes?

A. More than a dozen different conditions might cause such headaches, and only a careful medical examination can determine which. Be sure, therefore, to consult your physician and have such an examination made.

Q. Is nervousness due to excitement or the condition of the system?

A. Both are factors, but the condition of the system is usually the more important. Nervousness is often merely a symptom of a grave, underlying disorder, and should lead, therefore, to a careful examination by a physician.

Q. Do fallen arches cause nervousness, and pain in the back near the spine?

A. Sometimes they do, but persistent nervousness is a symptom which demands a careful examination by a qualified physician.

Q. What causes dark circles under the eyes, even after a good night's night's rest? I do not drink. Could it be caused by moving pictures, which I attend frequently?

A. It is not likely that attendance at moving pictures is responsible. You do not say anything about other habits or practices which might be responsible.

Q. Is there such a thing as catarrh of the stomach? Can you give me the address of a physician who is a specialist in this disease? Does a cough always come from the lungs, or are there other causes? Is acid stomach treated the same as catarrh of the stomach?

A. Catarrh of the stomach is a well-recognized condition, due to a variety of causes. Speak to your family physician and, if desired, have him give you the name of a specialist. There are a number of causes of cough other than disease of the lungs. A very common cause is some inflammation of the larynx. Chronic nasal catarrh and elongation of the uvula are other common causes.

"TIME LONDON

GREW UP"

LONDON—"It is time that London grew up," declares the London Evening News, a new convert to the idea that it is time for London authorities to consider seriously whether taller buildings would not be an improvement on an ever-widening ring of suburbs.

"Well-built skyscraper flats and office buildings would be a boon to Londoners and there is no reason why we should not be as happy in them as New Yorkers are in theirs," adds the paper.

LONDON, March 5.—No messages were received from Portugal today by the Portuguese legation here concerning reports of a revolution. At the legation the belief was expressed that the general strike in progress in Portugal resulted from suppression of the gambling resorts. Nothing more serious than the strike is apprehended by the legation officials, it was said.

POLICE WANT ONE
DAY OFF IN EIGHT

One of the petitions coming before the municipal council in the near future, according to well founded city hall rumor, is a request from members of the local police department that they be granted one day off in eight with pay. A similar petition was presented the council last summer but was not granted. In the meantime the policemen devoted their efforts to securing a $5 per day wage and now that this has been won the one day off in eight is again coming to the fore.

According to those intimately connected with the department's administration the police will again present their petition within a few weeks and ask for favorable consideration. At the present time members of the force have one day off in 15, this being granted several years ago.

Action on Colby's Nomination Deferred

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Action on the nomination of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state, again was deferred by the senate foreign relations committee today, after members had objected to taking any vote until they had more information.

Decision to let the question of confirmation go over was said to have been reached by general consent of both democrats and republicans. Senators who were at the meeting said that while no definite charges had been filed, and no formal investigation decided upon, it was the general opinion that certain matters should be cleared up before the committee made any recommendation.

MEDICAL TREATMENT FOR
EX-SERVICE MEN

John Brophy, in charge of the after-care work of the American Red Cross in this city, today expressed great appreciation of the article in yesterday's Sun regarding the opportunity for medical treatment and hospital care offered by the public health department to ex-service men during the year immediately following their date of discharge, but made one correction, which is gladly printed herewith.

It was stated yesterday that only those ex-service men who carry war risk insurance are entitled to this care and treatment, but Mr. Brophy says the rulings of the public health service also include men who do not carry such insurance, thus giving the opportunity to every man who served either in the army or navy or marine corps.

PLAN REFORM OF
MOVING PICTURES

NEW YORK, March 5.—Reform of moving pictures is planned by the Presbyterian board of temperance and moral welfare, which announced today that a "white list" of approved pictures would be issued from time to time in an effort to condemn pictures characterized as a menace to child welfare and a cause of juvenile delinquency.

The Rev. Walter A. Hendricks, of Portsmouth, N. H., has been appointed to take charge of this work.

A canvass among wardens and chaplains of prisons showed that most of the juvenile delinquency was due to moving pictures which exploited crime, while another bad feature was that children were tempted to deceit and theft to obtain money for admission to moving picture houses.

TO DISCUSS PROPOSAL TO SELL
BRITISH WEST INDIES TO
UNITED STATES

LONDON, March 5.—It is expected that the proposal to sell the British West Indies to the United States as a means of helping balance the war debt of Great Britain will be discussed in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George, probably on Monday of next week.

Pending the premier's statement, members of the government display unwillingness to express their views for publication. Opinions obtained privately indicate that the proposal if it were formally presented would not be considered.

ADOPT 2 MORE RESERVATIONS

Solid Republican Lineup Breaks For First Time Since November

Several Refuse To Follow Lodge and Adopt Reservation Opposed by Him

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Two more peace treaty reservations were adopted by the senate yesterday after their original terms as framed by republican leaders last November had been modified to conform to agreements of the recent bi-partisan compromise conference.

One of them, withholding assent from the Shantung settlement, was changed on motion of the republican leaders themselves and by practically unanimous vote.

Consideration of the other, however, providing that American representatives in the League of Nations be chosen by congressional action, raised a bitter controversy which in the end broke down, for the first time since early November, the solid republican lineup behind the republican reservation program.

Lineup Broken

The language finally substituted for the republican draft of the league representation reservation was written by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, and by him was laid before the bi-partisan conference.

Yesterday it was offered in the senate by the republican leader, Senator Lodge, was objected to by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, was withdrawn, reoffered by Senator Walsh, accepted by the senate over the republican leader's opposition, and then finally adopted with the republicans voting solidly for it and with Senator Walsh and 13 other democrats opposing it.

The maneuvering brought out many sharp contradictions as to what happened behind the closed doors of the bi-partisan conference, and prompted Senator Lodge to declare that hereafter he would have nothing to do with the compromise agreements tentatively reached while the negotiations were in progress.

His declaration immediately drew fire from the mild reservation republicans, Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, a member of that group, asserting that he never would be bound by his leader's decision. It was the mild reservationists who, a few minutes later, made possible adoption of the Walsh reservation.

Working on Article 10

The unexpected flare-up over a reservation generally regarded as of minor consequence came when negotiations for a compromise on the crucial question of article 10 again had reached a state of earnest activity. Prominent senators of the two political parties, understood to be working with the knowledge of the party leaders brought their consultations to a point where the advice of President Wilson was sought indirectly during the day as to certain proposed changes in the republican article 10 reservation, but

It was said last night that no definite information had been forthcoming from the White House and that the outcome remained dubious.

The modification of the Shantung reservation, so as to eliminate reference to Japan and China by name, was agreed to by the senate with little debate and by a majority of 69 to 2, and the reservation was readopted, 49 to 21, with 10 democrats voting for it. Last November, the vote had been 55 to 41, only five democrats being counted in the majority.

On adoption of Senator Walsh's change in the league representation reservation, eight republicans voted with the democrats in the affirmative and the result was a majority of 37 to 32. The vote on final adoption of the revised reservation was 55 to 14, all of the opposition coming from democrats, while 17 democrats voted for adoption.

The Walsh Reservation

As adopted, the Walsh reservation reads:

"No person is or shall be authorized to represent the United States, nor shall any citizen of the United States be eligible, as a member of any body or agency established or authorized by said treaty of peace with Germany, except pursuant to an act of the congress of the United States providing for his appointment and defining his powers and duties."

In the original draft, the language "Congress will provide by law" had been used, and it was the omission of this affirmative declaration on which Senator Hitchcock based his objection to the revision.

"This change," said Senator Lodge, "was proposed by the democratic members of the bi-partisan conference as embodying the language that would make the reservation acceptable to them. But I do not like it as well as I do the original language, and if these conference proposals now are to be attacked by the senators who presented them I shall not urge them in the senate. So far as I am concerned I am through with them."

Senator Lodge then withdrew the proposal and it was introduced by Senator Walsh, creating much confusion. On the roll call the administration forces presented a solid front for adoption and they were joined by Senators Cummins, Iowa; Hale, Maine; Edge, New Jersey; Kellogg, Minnesota; Keyes, New Hampshire; McNary, Oregon; New, Indiana, and Townsend, Michigan.

Another roll call was necessary to actually adopt the reservation. The democrats who voted for adoption were Senator Beckham, Kentucky; Chamberlain, Oregon; Fletcher, Florida; Gore, Oklahoma; Henderson, Nevada; Kendrick, Wyoming; Kirby, Arkansas; Myers, Montana; Nugent, Idaho; Overman, North Carolina; Phelan, California; Pittman, Nevada; Reed, Missouri; Shields, Tennessee; Smith, Georgia; Thomas Colorado, and Trammell, Florida.

ISOLATED IN LONELY HOME FOR 25 DAYS

PROVIDENCE, R. I. March 5.—Stephen Coman, 77 years old, was "out" again today, after having been snow-bound in his lonely home in the village of North Scituate for 25 days. A four-horse hitch broke through the drifts and opened the road by Mr. Coman's house. Small children, who would walk on the crusted snow, brought Mr. Coman sufficient food to keep him from hunger during his period of isolation.

"I had rheumatism and plenty to read, so I wasn't lonesome," he said.

While we were living there in Toronto the word came that the Prince and Princess of Wales were to visit the Dominion, and they were to be in Toronto for three days. The city started to get ready for their distinguished visitors. The city council appointed a committee—a reception committee. People decorated their houses with flags and red, white and blue bunting. The downtown districts were decorated with flags and bunting and electric signs and arches. The town was as light as day. You could walk down the middle of the street and read a newspaper at midnight. In front of our big five million dollar city hall there was an electric sign in letters so large you could see them nearly a mile away bearing these words: 'Welcome to the Prince and Princess of Wales. The people thought our station wasn't good enough so they put up a fine station out on the commons. When the day arrived, it was estimated that there were 150,000 visitors in the city. The school children, filled out and packed that vast amphitheatre. The girls were dressed in white and the boys in dark. We had the Kitty band—the Highlanders—and O my! what a time we had! Long before it was time for the train to arrive the streets were packed. Some were in automobiles, some walked, some drove. It looked like the whole country was there. There was hardly standing room. There we stood until about 11 o'clock, when the train pulled in. The people sang, and the cannon boomed, and the band played. The prince and princess got off the train. The city officials were there to welcome them. The people sang, 'The Maple Leaf Forever.' They shouted, and threw their hats in the air, and the bands played, and the prince and princess bowed this way and that, way to the people. As you looked down that street it was literally lined with one mass of people. They were on top of the buildings and everywhere.

"For three miles they drove through that living mass of people, and there were flags, and bunting and bands for them all along the whole route. We closed our stores and offices, and my! what a time we had those three days! I don't know why the prince came, but he came. I don't know why. No one knows why he came. Some said to look over the industries. Some said to look over the United States and see how things were run over here. Some said to go on a hunting trip through Wyoming and the Canadian country. But no one knows why he came. I can't see that he accomplished any good. It cost thousands of dollars. But he came, and my! what a time. Society people fell over themselves giving receptions and banquets for them. And the women that had an opportunity to shake hands with the prince and princess at those receptions talk about it to this day.

"When Jesus came there were no flags, no bunting, or bands to welcome Him. The crowds didn't sound His praises when He came. You can read it in a simple text: 'They laid Him in a manger for there was no room for Him at the inn.' Jesus was born on the side. And as far as Jesus is concerned in some churches, and some people, and some homes, He is outside today. Crowded out. We have time for everything else, but He has to be crowded out everywhere. We crowd Him out of our meetings; we crowd Him out of our homes; we crowd Him out of everything else. But I tell you there will come a time when they won't crowd Him out. Let me tell you something. Listen! If you crowd Him out here He will crowd you out over there.

"Some people think they can crowd Him out part of the time but not all of the time. They talk about the old-fashioned religion was good enough for our folks but not good enough for us. I despise that tommyrot. They say the old-fashioned religion was all right years ago, but we need something new, something different, Jesus—fresh as the morning glories, bright as a dew-drop glistening in the sun, pure as a drop of water from that spring! Did you ever hear anyone say, 'We have been drinking that water for 6000 years. We ought to have some new water?' Did you? People say they get tired of our old-fashioned salvation. They want something new. I tell you I don't want any of these new-fangled ideas. The kind of religion that saved my mother and took her sweeping something different, Jesus—fresh as

NO INVITATION TO U. S.

Not Asked To Participate in
To Go to Russia

WASHINGTON, March 5.—It was stated officially today that the United States has received no invitation to participate in the proposed commission of experts to go to Russia for the purpose of studying the situation there. A plan was proposed that such an investigation be made under the League of Nations and the possibility of participation by the United States under such circumstances was discussed, but officials said nothing definite had been done.

RAPS ADMINISTRATION'S
MEXICAN POLICY

BOSTON, March 5.—Henry Lane Wilson, former United States ambassador to Mexico, in his address last night before a large gathering at the Boston City club, severely criticized the administration for failure to act in the Mexican situation.

"While we are in the business of evangelizing the world, saving the Armenian, the Turk and the Czechoslovak, let us pause for a moment and consider the 55,000 Americans expelled from Mexico after having been invited to invest their all there, and the 653 murdered Americans, mute monuments of the hesitating, vacillating policy of their own government," he exclaimed. The audience was slow to warm up, but ultimately applauded vociferously Mr. Wilson's eloquent arraignment of the administration, his picturesque account of events in Mexico of recent years, and his fiery appeal for a return to the policy of such presidents as Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland, McKinley, Taft and Roosevelt.

He reminded his hearers that in the recent war "Mexico was the hotbed of German intrigue, as well as of Japanese threats, now"; that the American ambassador was hissed in Mexico City; that attempted seizure of the oil lands by the Carranza government is explained by the intent to make it an un-neutral act for the war vessels of England or other of the allies to supply their ships, and declared that the recent resignation of Ambassador Fletcher was accompanied by the statement: "This government has no policy in Mexico and, therefore, I can be of no further service."

Mr. Wilson also argued that the resignation of Secretary Lansing was precipitated by the Mexican policy, "or want of policy," and "it continues to this day a menace to this country."

U. S. TO BE CONSULTED
ON TURKISH TREATY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The United States in the opinion of officials here will be consulted as to terms of the virtually completed Turkish treaty before the document is handed to representatives of the Constantinople government for signature.

The United States, while refusing to take any part in the drafting of the Turkish treaty, is considered by the allied governments to possess a special interest in the solution of the Turkish problem as a potential member of the League of Nations.

During the negotiations of the German and Austrian treaties, the entente representatives made a number of efforts to engage the American commissioners in discussions of Turkish problems, principally as to the disposition of Constantinople, inasmuch as the United States never declared war on Turkey, this government is understood to have been firm in its stand that it was not interested in the Turkish question, except through the League of Nations.

BOSTON, March 5.—The inclination of the legislative committee on legal affairs to report a bill that would legalize the manufacture and sale of ales, beer and light wines was indicated yesterday by a report in which the committee states that it regards the vote of the state under the public opinion law last fall as evidence that the people desire such legislation.

In its doubt as to the power of the legislature to legalize the making and selling of beverages containing an alcoholic content greater than the one-half of one per cent fixed by the federal Volstead act, the committee desires the opinion of the Massachusetts supreme court.

The committee has before it several petitions, on which it recently gave protracted hearings that were attended by hundreds of persons. The accompanying bills would legalize beverages of alcoholic contents ranging from 1½ to 4 per cent.

STEAMER IN WITH
CREW IN IRONS

NORFOLK, Va., March 5.—The shipboard steamship Poughkeepsie, with 24 members of the crew in irons guarded by members of crews from destroyers, arrived at Hampton Roads yesterday. Department of Justice agents brought the prisoners to Norfolk last night for arraignment before the United States commissioner.

Cable despatches from Hamilton, Bermuda, said members of the crew had mutinied Feb. 5, when their articles expired, and the United States consular general sustained the contention of the captain that they must work the ship to her port of discharge in the United States. The Poughkeepsie was towed into Hamilton in distress Jan. 22.

TO REFUTE THREAT TO KILL KING ALFONSO

PARIS, March 5.—Documents submitted by former Premier Joseph Caillaux on trial before the high court charged with having had treasonable dealings with the enemy, in an effort to refute testimony regarding an alleged threat by him against the life of King Alfonso of Spain, will be read later at a private sitting of the court.

Because of the inability of Alexander R. Conty, French ambassador to Brazil, to be present at the trial the court ordered that his deposition be read. Mr. Conty charged in the deposition that M. Caillaux disclosed in 1911 to Baron von Lancken-Wakenitz, then German charge d'affaires at Paris, the fact that the French foreign office had been deciphering German embassy despatches to Wilhelmstrasse since 1901, quoting former President Poincaré, as his authority. This testimony was contradicted by M. Poincaré, a part of whose deposition in which he said M. Conty was in error and misunderstood him, also was read.

MADDOO HAS PLAN TO CUT FEDERAL TAXATION

WASHINGTON, March 5.—An immediate billion-dollar reduction in federal taxes was suggested in a statement issued here yesterday by William G. Maddoo, former secretary of the treasury. The present tax burden is too great, he said, and is "having an injurious effect on business."

Mr. Maddoo proposed that collection of a tax to establish a sinking fund for retirement of the war debt, which was recommended by former Secretary Glass to begin with the fiscal year 1920, be postponed for two years, and that the deferred payments of European interest be funded until Europe is in position to pay its interest charges.

"The financial policies of the nation as embodied in future congressional legislation," said Mr. Maddoo, "should realize the utmost economy in expenditure and might well fund in long term bonds $1,000,000,000 per annum for two years of the amount now raised by taxation."

relieved of a large burden now reflected in the floating debt, and which otherwise will have to be made up by taxation. It would seem that reduction of our tax bill for the next two years in this manner could be accomplished and that it would involve the issuance of additional bonds to the extent of probably not more than $1,500,000,000.

RISE IN THE EXCHANGE
MARKET IN LONDON

LONDON, March 5.—The report cables from New York that large shipments of gold were pending from here caused a smart rise in the exchange market today, cable transfer moving to $3.60. At this figure there were considerable offerings to forward dollars from New York and business was very active at that level until the buyers brought the rate down to $3.55 to $3.59 where the market was feverish for the time being.

In the offerings of gold in the open market nearly 500,000 pounds was taken for India at 114 shillings, or five shillings decline, due to the sharp advance in American exchange, which is now the deciding factor in the market price of gold.

The report of pending gold shipments to America surprised the market considerably, but both bullion brokers and bankers expressed belief that there was no foundation for the rumor. It was pointed out that there is no such sum as the reported $200,000,000 in gold available for shipment without encroaching upon the reserves, and the treasury is considered as unlikely to ship on such a scale. The amount coming from the mines in the next three months, estimated at 10,000,000, may be absorbed gradually for the United States but this would hardly be sufficient to cause a big rise in exchange.

The report may have arisen from knowledge that the treasury has recently been inquiring of the banks regarding certain matters relating to financial and economic problems, but such inquiries, it is indicated, were probably due to the measures likely to be taken by the allied supreme council for international action in financial matters.

Improvement Here
NEW YORK, March 5.—Increased activity and improvement marked the opening of the foreign exchange market here today. Preliminary rates on demand bills for the English pound sterling were quoted at from $3.60 to $3.62, as compared with yesterday's accepted maximum of $3.58. Yesterday's high rate was 11 cents above Wednesday's closing figure and 39 cents above the record low on Feb. 4.

GERMANY ON WAY
TO "COME BACK"

NEW YORK, March 5.—Germany is on the way to a great industrial comeback," according to Colonel William N. Hensley, U.S.A., who just returned from five months' aeronautical observation in Germany. The Germans, he said yesterday, already have made "immense progress" toward rehabilitation of their country through work.

"Work is the key the Germans are using to reopen the treasure house of the world," Colonel Hensley said, adding that there are only two countries in Europe that seem to have gone to work—Germany and Belgium. He added the peril of bolshevism is disappearing, as the Germans "realize that their only salvation is through work."

WORST TYPHUS
EPIDEMIC IN HISTORY

NEW YORK, March 5.—Poland is confronted with "the worst typhus fever epidemic in the history of the world," according to a cable message received yesterday by the American relief administration from Col. Gilchrist, U.S.A. medical corps, head of the American anti-typhus expedition. "Unless blotted out at once," he stated, "the present epidemic will threaten Europe. The Polish government is doing its best to meet the emergency but it is crippled by lack of money and sanitary supplies."

LODGE FOR COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senate Lodge will nominate Gov. Coolidge at the Chicago convention. Under circumstances that there are only two candidates for delegate-at-large pledged to Gen. Wood.

Congressman Fuller's proposal that he retire from the delegate contest is members of the so-called "Big Four" would pledge for Gen. Wood did not get out of a "rise" out of either Senator Lodge or Speaker Gilchrist when it was brought to their attention yesterday.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Sammarco Convicted of Murder of Patrolman Clancy—Faces Life Sentence

BOSTON, March 5.—Joseph Sammarco was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury in superior criminal court last night for the killing of Patrolman William G. Clancy in a dance hall in the Charlestown district early in the morning of Jan. 23 as the latter was attempting to quell a disturbance. Sammarco had admitted the deed, but said he had intended to wound another policeman who was in the hall, but some one struck his arm as he fired and the bullet hit Clancy. The jury was out five hours. Sammarco will be sentenced next week.

Clancy, who served with the Canadians in the world war, was known as the first American to carry the Stars and Stripes in action in France, going over the top with the colors just after the United States had entered the war. A fund was raised through public subscription for his widow, an English woman, who arrived in this country a few days ago with their little son, Sammarco, a resident of the North End, is 23 years old.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING COMMISSION MEETS

Following the announcement that Governor Coolidge had signed the bill granting the city of Lowell authority to borrow $500,000 additional for high school purposes, the high school building commission met late this afternoon to discuss the next steps toward the erection of the building. It is probable that the municipal council will be asked at its meeting next Tuesday to appropriate sufficient money to get the work started.

During expectancy I suffered with nervousness, indigestion and sick stomach; anything I ate would cause me all kinds of distress. ### Sensational Charges

Differences between organizations of former service men, were aired by Sperry, who charged that J. H. Halper, a member of the legislative committee of the Rank and File Veterans' association, was a socialist and communist and "had tried to turn over the private soldiers and sailors' legion to the communist party of New York."

Letters from the Soldiers, Sailors and Marines' Protective association of New York city, asking the amalgamation of all soldier bodies, were read by the witness who said this organization was raised and its literature dumped into the streets.

"What proof have you that Halper is a socialist?" asked Chairman Fordney.

Only three signers are needed to obtain incorporation papers permitting the formation of a soldier organization with the privilege of soliciting contributions in every state, Sperry said in answer to a question by Representative Treadway, Massachusetts as to how Sperry's organization had been incorporated.

Curious Provision

"That's a curious provision," Representative Treadway said.

S. Favenbeld, chairman of the Rank & File Veterans' association told the committee that a composite bill, including land grants, vocational training and financial aid, suggested by the American Legion "would keep the committee talking two or three years."

Former service men would be satisfied with a bonus of $1 a day with a minimum of $180, he said.

Twenty billion dollars must be raised to pay future needs of former service men, Representative Kitchin, democrat, North Carolina, said.

"The American Legion didn't favor a bonus at their national convention, but now they are fathering it," he added.

"The Legion fathers everything after some other organization does the work and accomplishes results," Favenbeld said.

LYNN IS WORSE

Street Conditions Here Are Good in Comparison

President William N. Goodell of the Lowell chamber of commerce spent yesterday in Lynn and brings back a story of street conditions there which he characterizes as "as much worse than Lowell today as Lowell is in comparison to what it will be on the Fourth of July."

Mr. Goodell said that vehicle travel through Broad street, which compares favorably with either Merrimack or Central streets, is practically impossible, with huge mounds of ice and snow standing beside the tracks to heights of six feet. Opportunity has been given trucks and teams to turn out at cross streets, which are cut to resemble a long series of tunnels.

"We think Lowell streets are snow and ice-clogged," said the chamber of commerce president, "but we are much better off than most cities in this part of the state."

SWEAR ALLEGIANCE TO FLAG OF MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., March 5.—Cadets of the military school of Chapultepec, drawn up on the drill field of Mexico's West Point, solemnly swore allegiance to the flag of Mexico, held aloft by President Venustiano Carranza, as part of the ceremonies in honor of the opening of the institution, held in Mexico City recently, according to Excelsior. The school had been closed for ten years. The oath of allegiance was administered as the cannon of the citadel fired a salute of 21 guns in honor of the anniversary of the constitution of 1857 and of 1917, which occurred the same day.

GRACE CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT

At 7:30 an enjoyable program was carried out in which Miss Mabel Kendrick gave very interesting readings selections and Miss Grace Kendrick rendered very pleasing songs.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By the theatres' own press agent)

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Betty Wilkes and Miss Doris Weeks, the latter the most recent acquisition to the company, who are appearing to advantage in this week's production by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, share richly in the honors that are being so generously bestowed by the patrons. Miss Wilkes is seen as a recent importation from a Chicago restaurant and Miss Weeks as the young heart-breaker of the village. Both are decidedly clever. The others are also exceedingly good, particularly Jack Bennett and J. Francis Kirk. Next week the production will be the big singing success, "Alma, Where Do You Live?"

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

There have been few movie productions in Lowell that have brought such continuous laughs as "Mary's Ankle," the big comedy success being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre. Douglas MacLean and Doris May, stars of "Twenty-three and a Half Hours" are featured in this play which had such a brilliant career on the legitimate stage and their work is of the top-notch variety. The other feature for today and tomorrow is, Irene

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Few prettier or more effective acts can be found on the vaudeville stage than that being presented at the R. F. Keith theatre, this week, by Ralph Dunbar's Maryland Singers. The four young women are dressed in the clothes which were of that period just preceding the Civil war. They sing many of the old melodies. Charles Frink, the banjoist, adds not a little to the success of the act. Thos. F. Swift and Mary H. Kelley in "Gum Drops" are interesting entertainers, and J. C. Nugent, the passive monologist, makes a great hit. Of course everybody wants to see Bert Melrose do his famous fall. It is a classic in its way, and no other quite approaches him in it. Other acts on the bill are: Florence Henry & Co. in "The Real Remedy;" Wheeler & Potter in "A Phone Episode;" and the Hurleys, in feats of strength.

HOT POLITICAL ROW

Probe of Palmer Ordered by House—Blamed For High Sugar Prices

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A hot political row broke out in the house yesterday when the republicans forced through a resolution authorizing investigation by the judiciary committee of the acts of Attorney-General Palmer in connection with prices charged for Louisiana sugar.

The democrats bitterly opposed the project, charging repeatedly that it was designed as an indirect impeachment of Mr. Palmer and only intended as a means of checking the "growing popularity" of a democratic presidential aspirant.

In reply, the republicans charged that the president and Mr. Palmer were directly responsible for prevailing high sugar prices; that Mr. Palmer had no authority to recognize the high figure at which Louisiana sugar sold, and that he had failed to press actions against profiteers.

In two hours of debate on the resolution offered by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, democrats members asserted it was a "cover" attack on Mr. Palmer, and was calculated to divert public attention from failures of the "incapable" republican leadership in congress. When the time limit expired, the resolution was put through, 162 to 124, by a party vote, and the committee will proceed with its inquiry.

The resolution directs that the investigation be directed "to the admitted concurrence of the attorney-general in maximum fixed prices" of 17 and 18 cents a pound for Louisiana sugar, the basis on which the prices were fixed, and whether immunity from prosecution for profiteering was given any one for charging these prices.

Republicans asserted that the actions of the attorney-general in regard to the Louisiana growers caused increased prices for the Cuban crop, but this was denied by the democrats, who in turn asserted that his action was "saving to the consumers."

"That Louisiana crop was just enough to supply the United States with sugar for one day," commented Representative Martin, Democrat, Louisiana.

President Wilson and the attorney-general were charged by Representative Campbell, republican, Kansas, with "direct responsibility" for the high cost of sugar.

"Get the attorney-general before the judiciary committee and then let the judiciary committee make such report to the house as it sees fit," declared Representative Campbell. He explained later that by this proceeding he had in mind the question of impeachment.

The house set aside two hours for debate on the resolution. Republican members claimed there would be votes enough for its adoption.

Representative Tinkham said the passage of his resolution would "serve notice on the department of justice that law and order cannot be sunk without a trace."

The attorney-general, he said, had no legal authority to fix or concur in a price for Louisiana sugar. The investigation, he added, would emphasize "that this is a government of laws and not of men; that responsibility for the increased cost of living may be judicially determined, and that laws shall remain supreme in their dignity and application."

Rep. Sanders, democrat, Louisiana, insisted that the investigation was proposed to "lessen the present popularity" of the attorney-general, "who is looming up on the public eye."

He added that no investigation of "outrageous profiteering by manufacturers of New England" had been proposed. Representative Begg, republican, Ohio, asked "what the attorney-general had done with the million dollar fund given him to prosecute profteers," adding that "not a single prosecution" had been brought.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican floor leader, said that if Representative Sanders' charges of profiteering were true, the attorney-general had "woefully failed to do his duty." He also attacked the president for "inactivity" in buying the Cuban crop.

THE STATE GUARD AND THE FEDERAL TAX

Lowell men who had served in the state guard during the Boston police strike will be interested in a ruling received today by Edward Fisher of the local state guard relative to what part of the income received by members of the guard during the Boston trouble is taxable under the federal income tax.

A few weeks ago Mr. Fisher received the state ruling on the matter which said that moneys received by the guardsmen from their employers during their service in Boston was not taxable under the state income tax regulations. Now comes just the opposite information from the federal authorities who look upon the matter in another light. The federal ruling says that guardsmen who received their whole salary or part of it must include whatever amount was received in their federal income tax returns.

The federal ruling also says that professional and business men must not deduct from their tax returns any estimated amount of money they lost during their service in Boston as a result of absence from their usual work. This is included merely to anticipate any attempt on the part of such men to figure in their loss of business when making out their returns.

The money received by the guardsmen from the state, of course, is not taxable. The ruling in full received by Mr. Fisher from the office of Adjutant General Jesse F. Stevens in Boston is as follows:

(1) The following ruling received from the income tax division, Internal revenue service, treasury department, United States, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

(2) State guardsmen who received their usual salary from their employers, in addition to the pay received from the state, must include that amount so received as income on their federal income tax returns.

(3) State guardsmen who received a part of their usual salary from their employers must include that amount so received as income upon their federal income tax returns.

(4) Professional and business men who of necessity were absent from the pursuit of their vocations while on duty during the policemen's strike did not suffer such a loss as is deductible for income tax purposes.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arven from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

REMOLD ENERGY Then Gold Can Be Made Out of Lead

By RUSS SIMONTON

All science today is built upon the law of conservation. That is to say, there is just so much matter and so much energy in the universe. Neither can be created nor destroyed.

Matter is divided into a few more than 80 elements. These elements are made up of atoms. Atoms are inconceivably small particles of matter. Elements are simple substances. That means that there is nothing in front but iron atoms, and nothing in lead but the atoms of lead. Thus we can melt atoms and break and grind iron, but it will always be iron.

That law of conservation held until radium came.

Radium, science decided, was an element. But nature wasn't believing. She broke all the rules. Before the very eyes of the rule-makers, radium snatched and bisected in a miniature volcano of light.

Boiled all down and all the science eliminated, here's the thing in a nutshell.

Radium appears to destroy itself. It seems to give off energy. Science can't understand why there should be energy there or what becomes of the radium, unless—only more slowly and not fast enough to be seen.

Matter isn't a constant after all! If that is true, energy is probably the only constant thing in the universe. Matter, then, is only a form of energy—a phenomenon of force. In other words, energy (light, heat, electricity, motion) may be transformed into matter.

Maybe, thinks science now, all the elements, all the metals and carbon and oxygen and a score of others, are going to pieces just as radium is.

But now the hard-headed scientists are changing their opinions. If they can find a way to control the making of matter from energy, they can take lead, break it up into the energy that makes it and "remold it nearer to our heart's desire."

For example—wood can be turned into a chair leg or a penholder. Energy may, it is thought, be turned into gold or lead.

There's a lot more to it than this and many more reasons for believing that the day of the transmutation of metals is near at hand. It isn't just a wild-eyed, hair-brained bit of theory.

The finest scientific minds in the world are coming to believe in the new era when gold will be a by-product of what they call "the disassembling of the atom."

There's more than a chance that somebody in the next dozen years will stumble upon the way to turn matter back to energy and remold the energy in the form we wish—gold.

And then gold will be so plentiful nobody will want it.

THE STRAND THEATRE

After "Flu," Grip

Fever and Other Prostrating Diseases That Exhaust the Blood

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive bowels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "makes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion.

Nerve strength and cheery health inevitably follow, further danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-alive feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, and for a cathartic, nothing better than Hood's Pills, in small doses a gentle laxative; larger, an active cathartic.—Adv.

"Eyes of Youth" will be shown today and tomorrow, and those who have not witnessed it should avail themselves of the remaining opportunity. Miss Shirley Mason, the dainty and fascinating star in her newest picture play, "Her Elephant Man," is the other star attraction, to say nothing of an excellent comedy and the latest issue of the Universal Weekly. For the coming week the management has another series of high-grade picture offerings, with Tom Moore and Tom Mix in their very latest creations of Illinois. The former will appear in "The Guy Lord Quex" and the latter in "The Feud." Both are said to be their very best screen endeavors and should serve to again emphasize the claim that "only the highest and best" are shown at The Strand. Patrons are reminded of the fact that these same pictures that are enjoyed here at the prevailing popular prices, are shown in the big theatrical centres at $1.50 prices. Watch the advance notices and learn what's new and best in the motion picture line.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

There will be a lively fight among republicans of this state if an attempt be made to send a delegation pledged to General Wood, as is now proposed by some of the leaders. Former Gov. McCall has made a strong statement against any such proposition.

The "Wilson temper" is blamed by the republican press for the failure of the republican congress to take final action on the treaty. Yet the senators not long ago were indignant at the thought that the president should attempt to dictate to the senate.

March 15 is the last day for filing federal income tax returns. Few people except those who have the incomes realize how deeply the taxes cut into them. First the municipal taxes; then the state income tax, and finally the federal income tax. There are many other taxes imposed on corporations so that the burdens of taxation are much heavier than ever before.

Recently it seems that many physical ills are being traced to abscesses in the teeth. It is announced that Earl Gray has had his sight restored by the removal of his molars which were abscessed. The dentist surgeon by aid of the X-ray is daily becoming a more important personage in relation to certain diseases arising from diseased teeth.

The high school commission has now obtained permission to borrow all the money it needs for the new high school. Let us hope that the legislature will not be appealed to next year for another loan for the same purpose. The prospective cost of the building has increased from $700,000 to $2,050,000 although the plans are said to have been cut down to the irreducible minimum.

The Germans are now asked to try the German officials accused of crimes against humanity during the war. Very few expect the German courts to find the accused guilty or if guilty to impose penalties commensurate with the character of their crimes. If the German courts try to condone atrocities prohibited by all civilized nations in war, they will place themselves in a bad light before the world.

SUFFRAGE FIGHTS

The woman suffragists are a little nervous at the present time because they are so near to the ratification of the suffrage amendment which will give them equal voting power with men. The amendment has been ratified by 33 states and Washington may be the 34th to ratify as a special session of the legislature has been called for that purpose.

Among the states ratifying the amendment was Ohio; but the legality of the legislative action has been questioned. A petition has been lodged in the courts asking for a referendum upon the ratification and the decision is still pending. Should the act of the legislature prove not to be final then similar questions may be raised in other states. Here in Massachusetts, the legislature ratified the amendment and on a referendum, the electorate voted against it by a decisive majority. There are 22 states which have referendum laws so that much may depend upon the Ohio decision.

THE CANAL TANGLE

The federal government is in a queer snarl relative to the Cape Cod canal. In July of 1918, the canal was seized under an act of congress in which there was no intimation that the property would be returned to the company which owned it. Now, however, the canal is suddenly returned to the private owners, presumably as part of the transportation system which passed from government control on March 1.

The owners contend that they supposed the government had taken the canal for government purposes and was willing to pay for it. Under direction of the attorney general, condemnation proceedings were instituted last fall, when the price of the canal was fixed at $16,801,301. Naturally, the canal company expects to be paid this amount by the government. It would probably have sold the canal for a less amount. If the government does not decide to purchase the canal, it should at least compensate the company for the use of it. It would appear that the federal government should own this canal in order to hold it intact for the benefit of navigation and for strategic purposes in case of war. The closing of the canal, at this time, has caused a serious interruption to the transportation of coal which is greatly needed in this and other industrial cities. The action of Gov. Coolidge in ordering the canal opened is fully justified under the circumstances.

MAYOR WHITE

Mayor White of Lawrence claims that he is handicapped in his administration of the city's affairs by certain officials who were in office before he came into power for his present term as mayor. Public opinion in Lawrence is divided as to the sincerity of his Honor's intentions. His friends hold that he is endeavoring to give the city an honest and progressive administration and that in order to do so, it is necessary for him to get rid of certain officeholders. Others claim that in opposing those officeholders and threatening their removal, he wishes to make places for some of his friends. Thus is dust thrown in the eyes of the people; but if the mayor knows that things are wrong, he is in duty bound to set them right, provided the charter places the responsibility on his shoulders and gives him the necessary power. Unfortunately under the commission charter, the mayor has very little authority except over the departments assigned to him. That is why so many people can snap their fingers at the mayor of a city encumbered with a commission charter.

ADMIRAL SIMS

Admiral Sims, who has been very flipant in his criticism of the navy department and its management while he was in European waters during the war, will now have an opportunity to explain why he removed Admiral Fletcher from the command of the American forces at Brest, in the fall of 1917. Admiral Sims has been more outspoken than any other official of the navy, not even excepting Secretary Daniels. It was Sims who, in a speech in London some years before the war started, made the statement that if ever England should be in jeopardy, she could depend upon her kindred across the sea, meaning the United States, to come to her aid to the last ship and the last drop of blood. Sims was mildly censured for that extravagant remark; and when he was named to take charge of the American forces in European waters, some surprise was expressed over his selection for such a duty. Many regard Admiral Sims as more British than American, although he has, on many occasions, avowed his sterling Americanism. The investigation now to be undertaken will doubtless bring out some interesting facts and will incidentally shed additional light upon the character of Sims, if not the greatest admiral, certainly the greatest egotist of the navy.

THE ROMANCE OF GEMS

Gems of great value have always carried a romance. The tragedy of historic stones; the malign fates that seem to hover over them; the seas of blood they have caused to flow are the theme of legend and verse since history's dawn.

Take the strange story of the Tabor diamond; a great big eight-carat gem whose history is lost back in musty pages of English history; perhaps one time the crown jewel of an Indian rajah brought to England by some mighty lord.

Anyway, it became known as the Tabor diamond when Senator H. A. W. Tabor of Colorado brought it to this country.

A few months ago it was sold to a Pacific coast movie magnate who figured that diamonds were to be worn, and though the stone set him back for $15,000, wear it he did.

And upon him one evening, descended a couple of youthful bandits who stripped him of his eight-carat ring and his other possessions, and drove away in his nice shiny roadster, even taking along the basket of fancy groceries he was taking home.

Next morning, the roadster was found with a burst tire in the suburbs, and a litter of sacks and packages and lunch crumbs in the car showed that the bandits had feasted.

And by chance, in dusting out the debris, the big diamond was found. Evidently the highwaymen had decided it was too big to be anything but glass and had thrown it aside; a ham, sandwich and half a dozen fresh doughnuts came nearer filling the void.

A long jump surely, from a rajah's diadem to the knee of a boy bandit munching crackers in a gas chariot.—N.E.A.

THE CHARTER QUESTION

Editor Sun:
I believe your suggestion that a good city council can be secured without salary is pertinent at the present time. I know there never was any trouble in getting a sufficient number of good men willing to serve under our old form of government without any recompense whatever. They entered the city council as men now enter the Chamber of Commerce, to serve the city. There is no scarcity of men willing to serve today without salary; but they will not fight for election as they would have to do under the present charter while the salary is $2500. There would not be much opposition to a nominal salary but the men who are ready to serve without salary show a real interest in the city that should be recognized.

Very truly yours,
B. E. F.

The above seems to express the prevailing sentiment relative to salaries for members of the municipal council at the present time. It is true that under the old city charter, we were able to secure some of the best men in the city for one or other of the branches of the city council. The board of aldermen usually had for members men of prominence and wide business experience. As a rule, the common council had men of a different type, but they were true to their constituents and in the vast majority of cases they stood for honest and progressive government quite as well as did members of the upper board. Yet, the members of neither board received any salary.

There is no reason whatever to assume that a sufficient number of our prominent citizens could not be secured to serve gratis as members of the city council. That was the rule in both boards of the old city council, but under the amended Plan B charter, there would be but one board of fifteen members.

Our present charter, which provides a liberal salary for the members of the municipal council, has brought about a condition under which the most desirable men will not seek membership in the municipal council. If they did, they would have to go out on the street corners, into the highways and byways, bullion-holing the voters, and would also have to make a house to house canvass, as otherwise they would have no chance of election.

It is wrong to blame the electorate for this state of affairs, which is due entirely to the system provided in our city charter. Some will say the voters can elect better men if they so desire. That is not the fact. If the better men refuse to run for office, it is impossible to elect them.

If the Chamber of Commerce or any large body of our citizens, wished to favor the Corbett charter even with the salary for members eliminated, we believe it would meet the approval of the voters.

The time for a change of charter has arrived and unless this proposed charter, either in its present or in a modified form be adopted, it is likely that steps will be taken to re-submit the unamended form of Plan B, which is wholly unsuited for a city such as Lowell. It may be assumed also, that any charter plan submitted to the people next fall will be adopted.

It is wrong and misleading to say that the rejection of Plan C and Plan B successively, proves that the voters don't want a change of charter. Plan C is wholly unsuited to a city such as Lowell, and it was put before the voters in order to save the present charter. Plan B was defeated because an amended form of that charter providing for primary elections was before the legislature, with a prospect of its submission this year. If the voters do not want Plan B without primaries, then they should favor the amended form.

Iron Watch

The glory of being the oldest watch in the world has been claimed by a timepiece in Nuremberg. The watch has just come to light in the German city and dates from the beginning of the 16th century. It is hardly recognizable under that name nowadays, as in form it is more like a small clock. It has iron works, which are driven by an iron mainspring, and there is also another auxiliary spring made of a pig's bristle. These early "watches" were used to tell the time.

Neglected Coughs and Colds Are Dangerous

LADY IN BROOKLYN, N. Y., NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

If people would only learn the folly of neglecting a cough or cold, much suffering could be averted and the development of many fatal diseases prevented.

The experience of Mrs. R. S. Pederson, 125 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., merely emphasizes the necessity of having the proper medicine on hand for such emergencies. She writes:

"One winter I had a severe cold. I doctored myself for several weeks with various pills. Finally, I was forced to go to bed with heavy cold in chest and head. I had a good attack of lagrippe with large lumps in my neck. My father persuaded me to take Pe-ru-na and I was out of bed in two weeks. I continued the remedy for several weeks and feel better than ever. Pe-ru-na has also relieved me of pains in the back and sides. I always recommend Pe-ru-na and my father is a constant user."

Pe-ru-na, being a tonic laxative, regulates the digestion, enriches the blood, tones up the nerves and carries its soothing, healing influence to the irritated, congested, mucous membranes in all parts of the body. It is very beneficial after protracted illness or an attack of grip or Spanish influenza to restore strength and vigor to the wasted body.

Do not fool with a cold or any other catarrhal disease. It is dangerous. Get the right remedy in the first place, the remedy that for fifty years has been known as a successful treatment for catarrh.

needed to be wounded rather frequently, as there was no device to compensate for the weakening of the action of the mainspring; as it ran down, it was not until the middle of the 16th century that the fuse, which can be seen in old English clocks, was invented. It need hardly be said that these Nuremberg watches were too large to be conveniently carried in the pocket, so they were worn affixed to a strap suspended from the girdle. They were beautifully engraved on the outside, and, of course, did not possess a second hand.

The China Sea

In "Sailor Town," published by George H. Doran Company, New York.

Did you see the poor old hooker, by the ocean wharf she lay? Her decks are foul with harbor grime, she hasn't long to stay. With her cargo all aboard her and the crew, they're waiting for the tide to rise. And a seagull on her foretop a-looking out to sea.

She's loaded up to the fairlands and down to the Pilmsoll line. Her bilges choked and her bulkheads sprung, and the pumps tied up with twine.

And it's far too well, good comrades all, for aboard her we must be: A call or two we've got to pay, a call or two upon the way.

From Liverpool to "Frisco Bay," And all across the China Sea.

Oh, think you of us, if you will, you friends we leave at home, A-listing like a log in the lone Atlantic foam!

Oh, think you of us now and then, lit-tled and worse found!

A-hanging on the skirts of luck this weary world around.

For rolling of her innards out and eating up of oil!

There is no ship that sails the seas can far or near compare With this weary-worn old packet from the port of God-knows where!

She'll drown us if she can, the jade, she's drowned her men before; She'll fling her rusty bones and ours to roll 'twixt shore and shore.

Or charles on her drunken way go tumbling tide by tide To trip the feet of merchantmen which use the ocean's wide.

And she's loaded up to the fairlands, and down to the Pilmsoll line. Her bilges choked and her bulkheads sprung, and the pumps tied up with twine.

And it's far too well, good comrades all, for aboard her we must be: A call or two we've got to pay, a call or two upon the way.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

We here in Lowell are wont to complain or perhaps boast of the remarkable winter through which we are passing, but it has been regular Palm beach weather here compared to what they've had out in the Berkshires, according to a friend who is living there this winter, the first she has spent outside of Lowell. The snow out there has been so continuous and the roads so impassable that the authorities had given up their efforts to clear passageways. Schools have been closed for weeks at a time simply because the pupils were unable to make any headway from their homes. The strong powerful winds sweeping through the Berkshires have created drifts as high as men's heads and there has been many a family whose radius of travel for days at a time has been within their own dwelling places. And yet, had as the winter is, my informant tells me that the spring is anticipated as being even worse for the roads will again be impassable. Schools are annually closed on the 15th of March in anticipation of the spring floods. This year the floods will be even greater than ever because of the amount of snow which has fallen. And yet, it was but a few months ago that the Berkshires were in the full height of their autumn beauty and the visitor at that time could hardly imagine muddy roads and torrents of water circulating through the mass of mills and valleys.

Lowell people invested a trifle over $3000 in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps during the month of February, Postmaster Meehan tells me. Commenting on the sale of these stamps he said: "Of course, we're not selling anywhere nearly as many as we did during the days of the war. That couldn't be expected, I suppose. However, I feel perfectly satisfied with the way in which the men and women—and children, too—of the community are backing up Uncle Sam in his after-war program by purchasing these 'baby bonds.' Not only does the sale of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps aid the government but it also helps to teach the young folks the principles of thrift and economy. As an investment, they have no superior anywhere."

DOYLE BEATS NELSON

Boston Wizard Gives Clever Exhibition—Murphy Wins From Diamond

With every one of the four bouts on the Crescent A.A. card last night going the limit, the members saw 26 rounds of boxing. The main bout of 12 rounds between Paul Doyle of Boston and Battling Nelson of Brockton resulted in a decision for Doyle. Billy Murphy won from Al Diamond in one eight round bout, while Harry Ah Chung and Buddy Dolan went to a draw in their eight round event. In the six round preliminary, Young Lisvick of Lowell was awarded the verdict over Young Hansen of Lawrence.

A big house turned out and judging from the enthusiasm and the comments the program proved very satisfactory. As might be expected in such a case those at the ringside were treated to a very diversified repertory. The various types of the manly art were clearly exemplified.

Paul Doyle showed remarkable cleverness, ring generally, and hitting ability and his work was more conspicuous because of his opponent rather awkward, yet at all times dangerous style. Doyle is a wonderful long range artist, while Nelson's long suit is assassination and slugging. Doyle had the advantage in most of the rounds, and while he hit Nelson from all angles and submitted him to a bewildering attack, his blows had little effect on the rugged Nelson. In the second round Doyle knocked Nelson to the mat, one of the few times that the Brockton brawler has been forced to hit the canvas. At lightning Nelson did some effective work, but Doyle tied him up and then pulled away to go another fusillade of blows to the head. Nelson took everything that Doyle gave and always came back for more. Blows that would drop many an opponent had no effect on the battling veteran. Doyle realized this as the bout progressed, Doyle proved a wizard all the way and his high class performance brought the fans to their feet on many occasions.

Young Hansen of Lawrence in the first bout of the evening, a six round preliminary, which went the limit. There was action in every round. Christo had the advantage and several times had his opponent propped, but the Lawrencean gamely fought back and made many rounds by his showing.

Harry Ah Chung of Salem and Buddy Dolan of Lawrence appeared in the second number. It went the full ten rounds with Christo getting the decision. Ah Chung took the lead after the second round and in the fifth sent Dolan through the ropes with a hook to the chin. The blow took the "starch" out of Dolan, but he got up at the count of seven and held on until the bell. Dolan came strong in the sixth and the rally brought forth applause. The seventh and eighth went fairly even. The draw decision did not meet with unanimous approval.

Al Diamond and Billy Murphy, rival local boys, next entered the ring and they received a warm reception. This bout proved one of the fastest and most satisfactory semi-final numbers of the season. It was a whirlwind of action from gong to gong with Referee Noah Perry awarding Murphy a well earned decision. Murphy had a little tactical advantage on Diamond. He was taller and had a longer reach, factors that lessened Diamond's chances. Murphy launched a terrific attack at the outset and never let up until the final gong. Diamond put up a game battle from start to finish, but he was unable to do much with Murphy. Diamond kept boxing in all the way, but Murphy would generally get him coming in with well directed blows to the head, and then tie him up. Murphy also cleverly side-stepped many of Diamond's vicious swings. He was fast on his feet, used a fine left, was cool and fought a heady battle. He dropped Diamond in the third and was sent down himself in the fourth. It was a bout long to be remembered. Referee Perry's decision to Murphy was vigorously applauded.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS OFF FOR THE SOUTH

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 5.—Manager Pat Moran, with a squad of players of the champion Cincinnati National league baseball club, left here this morning for Miami, Fla., where spring training will begin next Monday. Included in the party were Catchers Rariden and Allen; Pitchers Salles and Vanden; Infielders Groh, a recruit from Buffalo; Infielders Meyers and Rupp; and Outfielders Neale and Duncan. Meyers is a young first baseman, who asked Moran to be allowed to go south with the Reds for a try-out.

The squad will be joined at Atlanta by Al Wilson and Rube Bressler. All the other players will join the team at camp early next week, going there directly from their homes.

Refusal of Infielder Heinie Groh yesterday to attach his signature to a $10,000 contract resulted in his being left behind and he is expected to receive $1,000, and declared he would not play ball this year unless his terms were met, while out of the club.

Outfielder Eddie Roush, who has not appeared at headquarters here to sign a contract, is expected to report at Miami within a few days.

FAST BASKETBALL ON TAP NEXT WEEK

The five players who will represent the Lowell A.A. basketball team in its clash with Maynard next Monday night probably will remain as a permanent fixture in the town and Foley, undoubtedly will slip around the court, with the help of Allison, Costello and Dolan or Murphy. Such a combination has great potential strength and should adequately fill the demands of this slashing indoor sport.

Maynard has a strong quintet and will carry the locals along at a fast clip. The Associate hall floor will not be as slippery Monday night as it was last week and this will tend to make play more sure and passing accurate. Manager Lew is negotiating for more games which will bring the strongest professional teams in the state to the city.

GAMES WANTED

The second team of the Y.M.C.A. is looking for basketball games with teams in their weight and age in the city. The Y.M.C.A. 2nds, O.M.I. Cadets or Boys' club preferred. Games can be arranged with Physical Director Waterman at the Y.

RECORD-SMASHING TRIO PROVIDENCE NOW LEADS ROLLER POLO LEAGUE

City and High School Owe Much to Great Crop of High Jumpers

Truly remarkable times were turned in by Huntington school and Andover academy athletes during a dual meet between the two schools at the Boston Y.M.C.A. Wednesday, yet with all this show of talent, the high jump was won at the figure of 5 feet, 3 inches. That height would not get a visiting jumper even third place in Lowell today. And thereby hangs a tale.

Parley of Huntington school won the 100-yard run in 36 1-5 seconds. Robertson of Huntington set up new record figures in the 500-yard run when he flew over the distance in 2 minutes, 20 2-5 seconds. And Donnie Bush of Andover staged a sensational performance when he smashed the 400-yard record and finished the grind in 2 minutes, 25 seconds.

Rarely does a runner get under 40 seconds for the "three hundred" on the level track or under 1 minute, 32 seconds for the "six hundred," or 2 minutes, 42 seconds for the "thousand," but in the high jump Lowell athletes staged a record-breaking performance. In all other Massachusetts public, private and prep schools.

Followers of track athletics in Lowell have become so accustomed to see their high school boys sail over the bar anywhere from 5 feet, 3 inches to 5 feet, 11 inches, that they little realize the feat accomplished.

Two Wonderful Trials

Last year the Lowell trio of jumpers included Mansur, Darling and Saunders. This year it is Darling, Saunders and McAdams, each a trio in itself probably unmatched in Massachusetts schoolboy history. With the graduation of the present record-breaking three this June, there may come a slump, but today Lowell high school can look back over four years of marked superiority in this event. Remarkable performances have been turned in, whether causing a great deal of excitement, mainly because folks took it as a matter of course once the record-smashing man came under way with a full head of steam.

Record-Smashing Campaign

For many years, dating back to about 1907, the local high school record held by Cecil Dodge, was approximately 5 feet, 9 inches. It withstood many onslaughts until Warren Mansur stepped on to the track in 1916. As a freshman he showed unusual ability and during his sophomore year records began to crack under his powerful onslaught. In 1917, by inch, fraction by fraction, he pushed the bar up to dizzy heights. He was rarely ever beaten in competition. In 1918, his start in the state schoolboy championship. When graduation took him from school he had set the record at 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches, far above the usual schoolboy height.

During Mansur's third and fourth years another boy was developing and about 1919 the latter also entered the campaign of this year's team, Francis Saunders. But the diamond in the rough in 1919 and 1919 was Brockton's "Buck" and all Massachusetts high jumpers today and the present holder of the local school record of 5 feet, 10 1/2 inches, 3/4 of an inch higher than Mansur's best mark. He took up the task where Mansur left off and went the former captain one better.

At Mansur and Feeney fought it out for the state title last year. Darling jumped smoothly into third place, an inch off his own and reached the goal when he beat Mansur in the alumni meet this year and set up new record figures.

Lean Years May Follow

It is going to be a hard blow for the faithful following who swarm over the annex track every Saturday night for six or seven weeks every winter, when the local season is in full swing, to see Darling, Saunders and McAdams go this season. This event has been on such a high plane that it is going to take a lot of patience and understanding to retain interest in the sport. The immediate future may be several inches below the present day marks, but the world is filled with lean years as well as fat and we cannot always hold the upper hand.

A Debt of Appreciation

Lowell will always owe much to Mansur, Darling, Saunders and McAdams. They comprise a quartet few cities in the country can equal. If even approach in their ranks at schoolboys. They have brought the city more than state-wide recognition and to those among the four who go on to a college life, their athletic past is a wonderful stream of memories and a wonderful possibility for bringing more honor to themselves and to their home town. For it is what the great army of "folks back home" think that really counts when a successful athlete or a lad in business receives his meed of well merited praise and recognition after a task well done.

M.I.T. FRESHMEN HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Lowell high closes its indoor track season tomorrow night at the annual M.I.T. meet. The visitors are far beyond the high school class, but Lowell has tackled them in other years with no apparent show of concern and while tomorrow evening's meet is sure to be fast and closely contested, the local boys feel they have a fair chance of winning.

Lowell's long distance chances will be appreciable. The chances will be appreciable of Pat Mullane, post-graduate runner. He is eligible to compete against teams of a higher grade than high school and is sure to figure in the point summary. Probably Coach Haggerty will use him in the 600 and 1000-yard runs, leaving Willard and P. E. Mullane for the mile.

Preparations are being made to handle the largest crowd of the year and a clear track will be insisted upon no matter how large the attendance. Arrangements have been made for a feature exhibition high jump between Warren Mansur and Brock Darling.

The first daily paper in the world was published at Frankfurt, Germany.

PROVIDENCE, March 5.—Lowell lost to Providence here last night, 2 to 1, and the Gold Buss went into first position in the pennant race. ## MEXICAN REBEL LEADER PUT TO DEATH

MEXICO CITY, March 5.—Cirilo Arana, rebel leader, who was captured less than a week ago, when he entered the city of Puebla disguised, was sentenced to death by a summary court martial Wednesday night and executed yesterday morning in Puebla, according to advices received here.

Arana, whose forces a year ago were guarding the inter-oceanic railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, revolted against the government and since that time had been engaged in bandit operations. Among the crimes of which he was accused was the dynamiting of a train from Puebla carrying a number of boys scouts who were students in a German school in that city. Nine boys were killed by the bandits, who believed they were soldiers.

Advertising has been in vogue only a little more than two centuries.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant Relief, Makes Breathing Easy

In New England, where Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and other diseases of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidase, a physician's prescription.

Oxidase is a harmless, but powerful combination of curative essential oils concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. One of these tablets slowly dissolved before going to bed seems to have the effect of releasing the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening up the air passages and regulating spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down and to get a comfortable night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Lowell Pharmacy and Jaggott's, have secured a small supply and state that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if in any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidase is pleasant to take, contains no harmful, habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter. Adv.

142nd Birthday Anniversary of Irish Patriot Observed
BOSTON, March 5.—Irishmen in Boston and throughout the world observed yesterday the 142nd anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet, beloved patriot of the race.
In this city Irish county clubs held an Emmet service in Deacon building, 1651 Washington street, and in Roxbury and Jamaica Plain speakers at Emmet mass meetings retold the events of the Dublin youth's life and death. In the Irish bond certificate drive, now in progress, the day was designated "Emmet Day."
At every local meeting where Emmet's memory was honored speakers related the story of the uprising of 1803, of the revolt of July 23 in that year, led by Emmet, the failure and flight to the Wicklow mountains and the unhappy return from hiding to see his sweetheart, Sarah Curran, to induce her to flee to America with him.
Emmet's arrest and the speech from the prisoner's dock held a place in every program. With hope for Ireland's freedom nearer now than in years, greater interest was shown in the famous phrase—Emmet's last: "When Ireland takes her place among the nations of the world, then, and not till then, let my epitaph be written."

OPPOSE PARTITIONING OF ASIA BY TURKEY
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 1.—While the announcement that the Turks will be left in Constantinople has been welcomed especially by the sultan's supporters, it is daily becoming clearer that Mustafa Kemal's forces in Asia Minor will not accept peacefully the partitioning of Asia by Turkey. It is universally conceded Mustafa Kemal represents the real power of Turkey.
Mustafa Kemal's organized forces are variously estimated from 500,000 to one million, with the co-operation of various Arab and Kurd bands. His supporters predict war this spring or sooner, if the Greeks are left in Smyrna and the French in Silesia.
Through their control of the Turkish chamber of deputies, it is asserted, Mustafa Kemal's nationalists virtually dominate the Constantinople government and launch at allied threats to the sultan and allied naval displays in the straits.

HENDRYX GOES TO RED SOX
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 3.—Another of last year's Red Sox team was traded yesterday when a wire was received from Louisville by Manager Harrow announcing that the Colonels had accepted the Boston club's offer for Outfielder Tim Hendryx.
The Red Sox gives up Outfielder Bill Lamar and a considerable cash consideration for the veteran Hendryx, and thus Harrow's desire to secure a right hand hitting outfielder has been satisfied. With Lamar goes a lot of hitting power, youth and a wonderful whip. Hendryx brings with him to the Red Sox a batting average of .365, earned last year in the American association and years of experience with the New York and St. Louis teams with whom he has played before.
Hendryx is a formidable hitter and a fair outfielder. He was with the Yankees in 1916 and 1917, and was traded in the winter of that year to St. Louis together with Shocker, Geddon and Sunamaker for Pratt and Clark. Last year Hendryx was the best looking ball player in the association. He is about 25 years of age.
JUVENILE COURT
One of the longest juvenile sessions in several weeks was held before Judge Enright in the municipal court this morning. The charges against the youngsters included larceny of newspapers, damaging property and delinquency. In the majority of cases the offenders were placed on probation with the understanding that full restitution would be made.

JAP TROOPS QUIT SIBERIA

Japan Decides To Abandon Siberian Expedition in Line
With American Policy

First Detachment To Leave
Vladivostok on March 20,
Says Report

HONOLULU, March 4.—The Japanese government has decided to abandon the Siberian expedition in line with the American policy, according to a cable message from Tokyo received today by Shimpu, a Japanese language newspaper here.

The first detachment of Japanese troops will leave Vladivostok March 20, simultaneously with the departure of the last Czech-Slovak troops, the message said.

The soviet government's peace offer to Japan, according to the cablegram, asks recognition of Lenin's de facto government and resumption of full diplomatic relations, promises to end terrorism simultaneously with the offer and to recognize Japan's special rights in Siberia.

A cablegram from Tokyo January 28, said all Japanese troops in Siberia would be withdrawn "upon the accomplishment of the main purpose for which they were despatched to Russia," according to a "fundamental Siberian policy" promulgated by the Japanese imperial diplomatic council.

HOUSE "WETS" OPEN FIGHT ON DRY ACT

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Siege warfare against the prohibition enforcement act was inaugurated yesterday by "wet" members of the house.

Though repulsed 254 to 86 in the of every bill that came up for straight-out repeal provision offered by Representative Eagan, democrat, New Jersey, as a rider to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill the anti-prohibitionists told the house they planned to raise the issue again during consideration of every bill that comes up appropriating funds for enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

While the "wets" of the house were making their fight Attorney-General Thomas F. McGran of New Jersey filed a suit in behalf of his state in the supreme court to declare the amendment unconstitutional and to prevent federal officials from enforcing it. The court, on the motion of Assistant Attorney-General Frieson, fixed Monday for hearing arguments in the original suit filed by Kentucky and on the appeals from Kentucky and Massachusetts decisions involving validity of the amendment.

Attorney-General McGran contended that the amendment was not properly drawn and that congress possessed no power to propose a constitutional amendment regulating the habits and morals of the people. The enforcement act, passed under authority of the amendment his bill set forth, was therefore null and void.

CAPE COD CANAL TO REMAIN OPEN

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Assurance that the Cape Cod canal would remain open, pending final action by congress on a resolution authorizing the president to manage and operate it, was given the house interstate commerce committee today by counsel for the owners.

Representative Walsh, Massachusetts, author of the resolution, explained that the property was turned back by the government March 1, that the owners refused to operate it, and that it was opened only yesterday at the urgent demand of Governor Coolidge.

The committee decided to hold further hearings on the resolution in March.

ALL AMERICAN OLYMPIC TEAM

PITTSBURGH, Penn., March 5.—An all star hockey team composed of the best players on the Pittsburgh, St. Paul and Boston teams will be selected to represent Uncle Sam at the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp. This has been definitely decided upon by the officials of the International association, according to Sheriff W. H. Haddock of this city, a member of the committee.

SETH M. MILLIKEN DEAD
PORTLAND, Me., March 5.—Seth M. Milliken, retired merchant, banker and manufacturer, formerly of this city, died in New York city today, aged 81. He was one of New York's republican presidential electors in 1922.

TRAVEL ON RUNNERS IS PRECARIOUS VENTURE

Snow and ice have melted away and have been chopped up so fast on downtown streets during the past 48 hours that travel on runners has been reduced to a minimum. In fact, in many places nothing but the bare pavement remains to catch and hold fast any driver who attempts to continue the use of puns or sleds.

Such a condition is precarious for persons traveling in from suburban towns, where runners still have the call, for the chances are excellent that they will become stalled on the pavements if carrying any sort of a load.

These are but minor incidents, however, of the thaw which continued last night during comparatively high temperatures. Snow in all parts of the city is steadily decreasing in height and the ice on the streets and sidewalks has become softened enough to allow for cutting and removal.

The Merrimack river shows no signs yet of breaking up, although the ice above the Pawtucket dam is wearing away on the under side. In some places on the basin above the falls where the Gage Co. harvested two months ago, the ice has been measured to a depth of 26 inches within a week or two. This will withstand a lot of continuous melting before getting to the breaking-up stage.

No official reports have been received from Manchester and Concord by the Locks and Canals, although it is rumored that New Hampshire people are viewing an impending freshet with grave concern.

Four thousand of the 15,000 employees are now enrolled.

FAMILY OF FIVE NEEDS $35 A WEEK TO LIVE

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 5.—A family of four, wife and three children cannot live on less than $35 a week and the minimum probably should be $40, according to a statement by John J. Golden, president of the United Textile Workers of America, here today.

Four mill workers have anything left after their bills are paid under the present rates, he declared.

He looks forward to a busy season for workers and mills, with no letup during the summer months.

Following his conference with the heads of the textile locals here last night, Mr. Golden met Agent H. P. Stray of the Amoskeag this morning to discuss technical differences of the workers, relating to hours of labor and pay on special work. He said the results of the conference were satisfactory. This afternoon he leaves for Portland, Me.

CANADIAN SILVER EXCHANGED AT PAR

A number of local merchants and storekeepers are having considerable difficulty in getting rid of Canadian silver given them by customers owing to the impression which has gained credence that this money is worth less than the value it is supposed to represent.

It is true that Canadian paper money or notes are worth less than par at the present time but this does not apply to Canadian silver, according to officials of the Union National bank. All silver is being exchanged at par at the bank at the present time although the notes have depreciated 11 cents on the dollar.

Many storekeepers explain that they take in considerable Canadian money during the day but when they attempt to put it into circulation, again their customers object on the theory that they will lose a few cents on each coin they take. Especial difficulty has been experienced in attempting to put Canadian half dollars into circulation. Customers complain that they are receiving only 10 old cents instead of 50 when they are given such coins as part of their change, but this is not so. The bank officials are willing to exchange the silver at par.

PORTLAND, Me., March 5.—Nearly a foot of snow here had disappeared up to noon today as the result of mild weather and light rain. There was four feet on the ground Monday.

Wilson's Views

retary Tammity, is said to have returned to his colleagues without a definite idea whether the president would accept the compromise proposed.

Senator Hitchcock is understood to have suggested in his letter that the president see Senator Simmons before the Article 10 reservation comes to another vote. The democrats do not care, it was pointed out, to bring about a ratification which the president would disregard by pocketing the treaty.

In their negotiations, Sens. Watkins and Simmons are understood to be working with the full confidence of the leaders of the two parties, though it has been emphasized that the compromise discussed has been advanced only in tentative form and that no one has agreed to finally accept it.

A new reservation designed to prevent further extension of credit to foreign governments without congressional action was introduced today by Sen. Knox, republican, Pennsylvania. It provides that the credit of the United States shall not be pledged until congress has affirmatively given authority.

The first year book was published by Rabelais in 1533.

ANTI-VICE SQUAD GIVEN FREEDOM OF ACTION

NEWPORT, R. I., March 5.—The naval board of inquiry which is hearing evidence on charges against an anti-vice squad was told today by police Inspector James Palmer that Irving Arnold, chief operator of the squad, informed him that members were given freedom of action to obtain evidence against suspects.

Inspector Palmer testified that he served notice on the naval investigators that the municipal officials would not tolerate such operations and would arrest both naval operators and suspects wherever found together under conditions contrary to law.

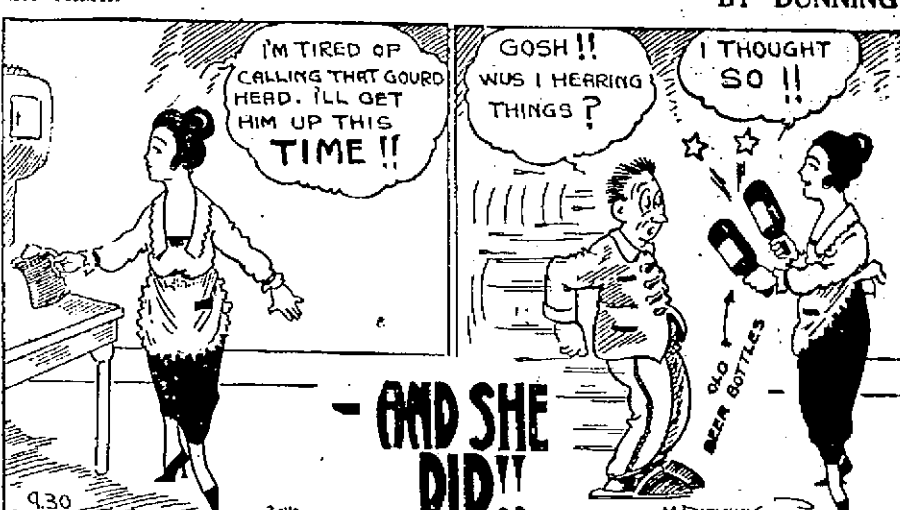

Inspector Palmer, who was called as a witness by counsel for the Newport Ministers' union, which brought charges on which the present inquiry was ordered, had finished his direct testimony when adjournment was taken until Wednesday afternoon. At that time he will be subject to cross-examination by the judge advocates and by counsel for the several interested parties, among whom is Arnold.

BLIZZARD IN EAST TONIGHT

Snow To Be Followed by Much Colder Weather, Says Weather Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The March blizzard which overspread the middle-west yesterday, with snow and low temperatures, will reach the Atlantic coast tonight, the weather bureau predicts today. The strength of the blizzard, it was said, had been dissipated in part, and although the rain falling along the eastern seaboard today will turn to snow, the fall will be light. It will be followed by much colder weather.

Snow as far south as Northern Alabama and unusually low temperatures over the entire south was forecast. Below freezing weather was said to be in store for interior Georgia and another frost was forecast for Florida.

The blizzard has left clear, cold weather in its middle western wake and prediction of similar weather was made for tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Mexican government is reported in consular advice to the department of commerce to be considering the issuance of a decree prohibiting the export of hides to the United States.

4 WOMEN, 3 MEN HELD AS INSANE SUSPECTS

MARTINEZ, Cal., March 5.—After their arrest as insane suspects as the result of a 24-hour seizure with aulda boards, Adelina Bottini, her mother, Mrs. S. Bottini, Mrs. Joseph Hildayini and Mrs. Edward Morrow, were committed to state hospitals for the insane by the superior court here today.

Three men arrested with the women in a house at El Cerrito, near here yesterday, testified that they had tried to induce the women to cease the seizures but without effect. The men admitted that the last seizure in which they participated, had lasted for 24 hours, and they were so devoted to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep.

Insanely clergies were placed against all seven.

RUMORS OF REVOLUTION ARE NOT CREDITED

LONDON, Thursday, March 4.—Rumors of a revolution in Portugal with the establishment of a soviet government there are not credited at the Portuguese legation here. It is pointed out that such reports generally come from the Spanish frontier and are notoriously untrustworthy.

Former King Manuel, with his wife, is enjoying the season on the Riviera. His intimates in London know that nothing is further from his desires than to become a figure in Portuguese politics. He is contented with the life of a plain gentleman in London and has not ambition to tragically re-establish a monarchy in Portugal.
